GOVERNOR WINS CHEAPER COAL

BRITISH DRIVE GERMANS BACK ON 2 MILE LINE

Take Foe's Positions Beyond Hooge; French Win.

(By the Associated Press.)

BRITISH FRONT IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM, Aug. 10.—The British today added another brief but important sequel to the battle of last week when they carried German forward positions along the two mile front betwen Frezenberg and the Ypres-Menin road and thereby obtained strong defenses which had remained in the enemy's possession on the Westhoek ridge after the battle of July 31.

At the same time their French allies on the left advanced to a considerable depth east and north of Bixschoote.

Near the junction of the French and British armies the former pushed their lines across the Steenbeck river, and a little north of this point occupied on the west bank of the stream several farms that the Germans had been forced to evacuate under pressure of artillery fire and the gradual tightening of the French lines. Among the booty captured by the French were five guns which the enemy had been unable to remove in their hurried withdrawal.

BRITISH WIN STRONG LINE.

The forcing of the Germans from the Westhoek ridge adds a strong link to the new line of British defenses. The possession of this ridge has been bitterly contested because it dominates the surrounding country.

In the general attack July 31 the British occupied the major part of the Westhoek ridge and a large part of the village of Westhoek, and they maintained their position in the face of fierce artillery fire and several heavy counter attacks. Until today the British have rested on the laurels won in that first attack, having achieved virtually all the objectives that they sought along the wide front involved.

PICK THORN FROM SIDE.

The Westhoek ridge was found to be more or less of a thorn in their sides, but even had the British desired at that time to make another attack it is doubtful if they would have been able to conduct it successfully owing to a deluge of rain.

The trenches in this section in some cases were waist deep in water and the surrounding low ground was transformed into a morass in which it was virtually impossible to operate.

During the last few days comparatively fair weather has done wonders in drying the ground and the British appear to have struck at the earliest possible moment to strengthen their positions here.

TEUTON BIG GUNS ACTIVE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The Canadians lying in their trenches at the doorstep of Lens and the British forces holding trenches south of the famous Vimy ridge are coming in for intensive shelling from the Germans.

On the long neglected front near St. Quentin the Germans have delivered a surprise attack of considerable proportions, but were unsuccessful in gaining ground anywhere except some weak points in the center of the French line.

Otherwise the fire of Gen. Petain's men put down the sally, inflicting considerable casualties on the Germans.

Likewise along the Aisne front the Germans have delivered onslaughts against the French, but here also they met with the same result that has marked the previous attempts of the German crown prince to pierce the French line—defeat. At several points the Germans managed to make their way into isolated trenches, but they met death later in hand to hand fighting or were captured.

GERMANS WIN IN EAST.

Aside from the front in France, little fighting of moment is taking place except in Galicia, Bukowina, and southern Moldavia.

In all these sectors the Germans and Austro-Hungarians are declared by the Berlin war office to be continuing their gains. Southeast of Czernowitz, the capital of Bukowina, the Germans have penetrated the Russian frontier positions, and further south, fighting with their allies, they have taken height positions between the Trotus and Putna valleys, and in southern Moldavia, in the region of Fokshani, have thrown their forces across the Suchitza river on a wide front.

NEW YORK DRAFT BOARD OUSTED FOR GRAFT; FLEES

Officials Accused of Selling Army Exemptions.

New York, Aug. 10.—[Special.]—After the department of justice had received anonymous letters alleging that draft exemptions were being bought in district No. 99, the headquarters of which are Rivington and Lewis streets, the members of the local board were summarily removed from office by Gov. Whitman today. The members of the board were Louis I. Cherry, Dr. Henry M. Groehl, and Dr. S. J. Bernfeld.

Roscoe S. Conkling, representing the adjutant general, with policemen and a guard from the state arsenal, went to the headquarters tonight and found the place locked up. He turned the place and the records of the board over to the custody of the police and then sought the men at their homes, but did not find them. The best information Mr. Conkling could get was that the three men had driven away together in an automobile.

The Ouster Order.

The order of removal upon which Mr. Conkling acted was transmitted to him by Adjt. Gen. Stotesbury. It read:

"Because of the irregularities reported to have occurred in local exemption board, division No. 99, located at Lewis and Rivington streets, Borough of Manhattan, and after an investigation for the last few days on the part of the department of justice, Gov. Whitman at 5:20 this afternoon transmitted the following order to the adjutant:

"'By direction of the president Louis I. Cherry, Dr. Henry M. Groehl, and Dr. S. J. Bernfeld are summarily removed from local board division No. 99, city of New York, and all cases on which they have acted will be reopened by the new board, which will be appointed at once. Gov. Whitman urges that the charges now made be prosecuted to the fullest extent.'"

Disqualify 235 of 666.

The ousted board had examined 666 men, of which 235 were disqualified, 183 claimed exemption, and 176 were certified as possibly eligible.

GERMANS LOCATE SAMMIES' CAMP?

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—Secretary Baker declined today to affirm or deny reports that the German general staff had succeeded in locating the present position of Maj. Gen. Pershing's expeditionary force in France.

It is understood that a cable bearing on this subject had come to the war department within the last few days, and the fact that Mr. Baker refused to comment in any way on the subject aroused additional interest. Heretofore Mr. Baker has been emphatic in saying that he had no reason to suspect that the American base had been discovered by the enemy.

General staff officers have felt that it was only a question of time before the German intelligence department obtained sufficient information to put the American forces on their military maps and begin calculating as to when and where the Sammies probably would figure in the actual fighting.

SHIP BOARD'S LEGAL STAFF OUT; MYSTERY

Contracts Framed by Goethals May Be Revised.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—Representatives of large shipping interests were surprised tonight when it was learned that the entire legal force of the emergency fleet corporation had suddenly left their positions and apparently left the city.

A search failed to reveal their whereabouts, and inquiries as to their reason for suddenly resigning brought forth only speculative answers. Many contracts awaiting action by the corporation and the United States shipping board are to be remodeled, according to the most prominent theory advanced for the resignations.

There were five men acting as legal advisers to the corporation. They were Gen. Goethals' appointees and four of them were voluntary employés. Officials admitted they had resigned.

CHICAGOAN QUITS.

They are:

Edward B. Burling, Chicago lawyer, residence Winnetka.

Joseph P. Cotton of Spooner & Cotton, New York City.

George Rublee, who served for a time on the federal trade commission without confirmation.

George H. Savage, employed in the office of Spooner & Cotton.

Charles P. Howland of New York.

There have been no contracts let since the new régime assumed control of the shipping board and the corporation. It is known that a number of contracts which were about to be approved by the new executives have been held up pending closer vise of their provisions. Some of these contracts had been approved by Gen. Goethals and had been drawn up by the staff that resigned within the last few days.

OFFICIALS AMAZED.

The ship constructors interested in them have been asked to furnish a memorandum of the conditions and circumstances of these contracts, and were later informed the corporation officials desired to look further into the contracts.

Officials were amazed to learn of their resignations, but in most quarters it was apparently believed that their action would not materially affect the shipbuilding program, and might be simply in courtesy to Gen. Goethals, who had secured their appointment.

TO REDUCE OCEAN RATES.

When the places of the attorneys are filled and one more member is named for the shipping board, the reorganization of the board and the corporation will have been completed.

The new board took up with Thomas Royden of the British mission the subject of reduced ocean freight rates, today. A concerted move to reduce shipping tariffs will be made by the allied governments as soon as a definite plan is agreed on.

U. S. TO KEEP CONTROL.

After the meeting today it was made clear that the shipping board will enter no agreement with the allies which might take from the United States control of all American tonnage. If this country enters the inter-allied chartering conference, as requested by the British government, it will be only with a definite understanding that no other country is to exercise the slightest measure of supervision over the direction of American shipping.

An understanding as to rates probably will be reached within a few days and will be put into effect as soon as the shipping board requisitions American ships now on the seas. The arrangement will call for allied control of neutral tonnage and a freight scale for neutral ships no higher than that enforced by allied owners.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosenfield and Two Daughters Hurt

Mr. and Mrs. Morris S. Rosenfield of 2807 Prairie avenue, the millionaire distiller, and their two daughters were injured last night in an automobile accident near York, Pa., where they were motoring out of Philadelphia, according to news from there. Their car was caught between a truck and the side of a bridge over which they were passing and the three women were thrown to the creek, twenty feet below. Mr. Rosenfield was not seriously hurt, but the others were removed to a York hospital for aid.

SOCIALIST RAPS GOVERNMENT AND LANDS IN JAIL

Adolph Germer of 4447 Irving Park boulevard, national secretary of the Socialist party, was arrested last night at the conclusion of a seditious arraignment of the federal government. With him were arrested two known anarchists who fought with detectives in an effort to release Germer. Detectives Egan and McDonough were forced to draw their revolvers in taking the three rebellious persons to jail.

All three were locked in the detective bureau, where they are being held for federal officials. Germer will be taken in hand in Hinton G. Clabaugh's office today and it is said charges of sedition will be filed.

Germer spoke before a gathering of 400 members of the "American Liberty Defense league" in Douglas park auditorium. In the course of his remarks he spoke insolently of the recruiting service. In his pockets the police found money order stubs showing the transmission by him of money to points in Germany.

DOCTORS FIND ARTHUR FISHER UNFIT FOR ARMY

Arthur Fisher, 23 year old son of Walter L. Fisher, former secretary of the interior in the Taft administration, yesterday was pronounced physically unfit to be a member of the new national army.

Young Fisher last May was active in the terms of peace meeting at the Auditorium theater. Following this meeting he was quoted as saying that he could not conscientiously take part in the war "unless his interests were vitally affected or he knew what the United States is fighting for."

Fisher was rejected by the exemption board of the forty-sixth district in Henrotin hospital, Oak street and La Salle avenue.

He did not claim exemption.

TRAGEDY ENDS LONG JOY RIDE

Woman Takes Wheel and Taxi Upsets; One Dead and Two Hurt.

Everybody in the taxicab was weary as well they might be at the end of a five day tour of cabarets. And the chauffeur wanted a cigarette. It was near Round Lake, 50 miles northwest of Chicago.

"I'll take the wheel," said Dorothy Carukim, who is married and lives at 4946 Sheridan road.

She did, and a minute later the car swerved out of a rut and overturned. When rescuers arrived they found:

ALBERT SCHMIDT, Hotel La Salle chauffeur, dead.

E. G. RAINER of "151 West Kinzie street," skull fractured; may die.

MRS. CARUKIM, injured about head, hip and left arm.

Try to Conceal Identities.

Rainier and Mrs. Carukim were taken to the Lake county hospital, near Waukegan. A third man, who gave the name of C. W. Bambula of 431 West Thirty-first street, escaped with minor injuries and returned by train to the city.

All attempted to conceal their identities. Rainier's address was found to be the office of the J. Baum Safe and Lock company. The number given by Bambula did not exist. A report that Rainier was a Detroit millionaire was denied last night, THE TRIBUNE correspondent stating that no person of that name was known there.

"I don't know—just travels, I guess."

At the Lake County hospital Mrs. Carukim told her story of the events leading up to the accident.

"Mr. Rainier's wife, son, and daughter left Chicago last Sunday on a vacation trip," she said. "On Monday he suggested we go to Fox Lake. I went with him and stayed at the Minneola hotel. He stayed at another hotel.

Woman's Account.

"Some days his bar bills were $15. He drank when I went in bathing. We left Fox Lake Thursday night to come to Chicago because I needed some clothes. Friday morning we hired a La Salle taxicab to take us back. The chauffeur and Mr. Rainier drank lots.

"We got to Fox Lake and decided to return to Chicago. When we started back I sat beside the chauffeur, because I was afraid he couldn't drive the car properly. When he wanted to light a cigaret I took the wheel. It would have been all right, but it slipped from my hand when we struck a rut and I lost control. The car went into a ditch and turned over."

NURSE TRIES TO END LIFE WHEN CHILDREN GO

A world without Robert, age 7, and William, 6—her mistress' little boys—held no attraction for Angelina Sanberg, a maid. So she tried to leave it yesterday and probably would have succeeded had not her training in firearms been neglected. The bullet she intended for her heart went through her leg.

Angelina is just 22, with bangs and melancholy blue eyes. For three years she had served Margaret M. Speer and her two boys at 117 South Homan avenue for "what they wished to give her"—more for the home than wages, she said.

"Robert and William were with me always and I loved them as my own. I never went out without them and every night they went to a movie with me. Then Mrs. Speer told me that the boys' grandfather was planning to send them to boarding school and I must seek another place or go to my parents in Florida. The pistol was in the bureau drawer and I thought I would rather give up my life than the boys."

Edward Moran, the boys' grandfather, at 3608 Flournoy street, will send Angelina to her parents in Florida after her wound is healed.

Labor Trouble Blamed for Midnight Explosion

An explosion of dynamite, believed by the police to have some labor dispute behind it, shattered windows and partially wrecked the home of L. H. Lamont, a dealer in electrical supplies living at 7633 South Morgan street, shortly before midnight last night. None was injured, though the force of the blast broke windows in houses on both sides. Every one in the vicinity for blocks around was aroused. Lamont's three small children were thrown from their beds in a rear room, but not injured. Lamont is the head of L. H. Lamont & Co., electrical fixture dealers, 9 South Clinton street. He told the police he had received no threats and could not account for the attack.

JUSTICE CARTER IS APPOINTED FUEL DIRECTOR

Operators Agree to Accept Just Prices.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

Gov. Frank O. Lowden last night won a single-handed battle with the coal mine operators of the state. As an immediate result the price of soft coal is going down in Illinois. The people of the whole state are assured an ample supply of fuel for the coming winter—and at reasonable prices.

These prices will be fixed by Chief Justice Carter of the Supreme court of the state. At midnight he was appointed coal director by the governor. The appointment was made without the knowledge of the chief justice, but with the approval of the coal operators of the state, represented by their committee and attorneys.

OPERATORS SIGN CONTRACT.

In a strenuous conference which lasted five hours and broke up just before midnight, Gov. Lowden persuaded the committee of coal operators to sign and seal a castiron contract binding them to reserve sufficient coal to supply the needs of the state and to sell it at prices to be fixed by Justice Carter. As coal director, Justice Carter will also arrange with the railroads for the equitable distribution of coal to all sections of the state and for its sale at retail for fair prices.

The achievement of Gov. Lowden will doubtless set an example which will be aspired to by the governors of other coal producing states. The people of such states will doubtless look to their governors to protect them as Gov. Lowden has the people of Illinois.

TEXT OF AGREEMENT.

The agreement signed by the governor and the operators follows:

The operators agree to reserve the amount of coal necessary for consumption by the people of the state of Illinois and to sell same at prices to be determined as hereinafter provided.

The governor is to appoint a representative, to be known as director of coal, to act in the governor's behalf upon all questions arising as to the production, prices, distribution, and transportation of coal to be consumed by the people of Illinois during the remainder of the coal year expiring March 31, 1918.

The state council of defense is to appoint a committee of three of its members to act hereunder.

The Illinois coal operators are to appoint a committee of three, who are to be granted full power to act upon behalf of all the coal operators in the state of Illinois with respect to all such questions.

The mine workers of Illinois are to appoint a committee of three members, who are to be granted full power to act upon behalf of their organization upon all such questions.

The director of coal shall have the power from time to time to determine the price of coal at the mine mouth, in the various districts of the state, to be sold, as above set forth, to consumers in the state of Illinois; such price, however, in no case to exceed the maximum price, as fixed from time to time by the federal government. Such director of coal, before determining any price of coal, shall, in respect of such price, give to all the above named committees an opportunity to be heard.

The director of coal and the three above named committees are immediately to take up the subject of distribution and retail prices with the coal retailers of the state to the end that the retailers join with the operators in the powers herein conferred and to be conferred upon the director of coal, so far as retail prices may be concerned.

The director of coal and the three above named committees are immediately to take up the subject with the railroads to the end that the railroads join with the committees herein provided for in the powers herein conferred and to be conferred upon the director of coal, so far as the question of transportation may be concerned.

It is the substantial essence and spirit of the arrangement provided for by this instrument that all action of every kind taken or to be taken under this arrangement shall be had and taken with the utmost possible dispatch.

SAFE FROM U. S. ACTION.

The federal control of coal, which will be put into force within a few weeks will not affect the Illinois arrangement, except that in no case are coal prices in this state to be higher than the maximum fixed by the Washington authorities. If, as at the May conference in Washington, a national price is agreed on which benefits the eastern markets and does nothing but harm in the middle west, Illinois will not suffer. Gov. Lowden has seen to it that the people of the state shall get their fuel at a figure which will be fair to them, no matter what the Washington commission does.

OPERATORS LOOK SAD.

The coal operators came out of the governor's room at the Blackstone shortly before midnight.

"Are you happy?" was asked of Dr. F. C. Honnold, their spokesman.

"The governor is happy" was his answer. "And we—well, I guess we are happy, too."

Their looks, however, were not convincing in that direction.

Samuel Insull, chairman of the state council of defense, and Levy Mayer, its legal adviser, were not present at the conference, but called on the governor as the meeting broke up.

"It is a remarkable achievement on the part of Gov. Lowden," said Mr. Insull, and Mr. Mayer echoed the opinion.

HAS A BUSY DAY.

The big conference of the night was the climax of a hard day's work on the part of Gov. Lowden.

He was up early after his motor drive from Springfield the day before, looking fit and keen. Before 9 o'clock he was in conference with Samuel Insull and Levy Mayer, going over the coal situation in detail.

He refused to discuss the outlook except to say that "the people of Illinois must have cheaper coal and they are going to get it."

A little later Rush C. Butler, attor-

GOV. LOWDEN ON THE SETTLEMENT; NAMES CARTER

Chicago, Aug. 10.

The committee representing the coal operators called upon me on Wednesday morning in Springfield and we remained in session most of that day. There at once manifested itself a disposition on the part of everyone to arrive at an amicable adjustment of the very difficult coal situation. We made some progress during that day and adjourned to meet today here, where a settlement was finally reached.

I have no doubt that the coal operators will in good faith cooperate heartily with the state council of defense, and with the committee provided for, in carrying out the settlement arrived at.

I have given much thought to the question of who should be charged with the responsible duties of the director of coal provided for in the settlement. I have decided to name Chief Justice Orrin N. Carter of the Supreme bench of Illinois. I have not consulted him, but I believe that I have a right in this crisis to ask him to serve, and, knowing his public spirit, I have no doubt he will serve.

It is a great satisfaction to me that the state of Illinois is not required to resort to the powers that it possesses to meet emergencies of this kind.

FRANK O. LOWDEN.

ney for the coal operators, called on the governor to make arrangements for the evening conference.

"I am hopeful that an amicable compromise will be reached," he said, as he left the hotel.

States Will Confer.

After the midnight conference had adjourned Mr. Insull explained that victory of Gov. Lowden in securing lower prices for the people of Illinois will not interfere with the interstate conference on the coal situation to be held in Chicago next Thursday. The state council of defense of sixteen middle western states have been invited to send representatives to that meeting.

They will discuss methods of coöperating with the national coal commission, in securing proper prices and distribution of fuel throughout the middle west. It may be expected, also, that inspired by the example of Illinois other states and other governors will take similar action of their own.

Strike Reported.

While he was at Fort Sheridan reviewing the officers training camp graduates, somewhat disquieting news came to the governor. It was reported that from 3,000 to 9,000 miners in coal mines in the southern part of the state had gone on strike. All the drivers in mines located along the Chicago and Alton railroad were said to be out, the demand being for nine hours' pay for eight hours' work.

There are altogether more than 80,000 coal miners in Illinois and some small part of them are on strike most of the time. Reports to the office of United States District Attorney Clyne that I. W. W. workers were busy among them were not taken seriously. Neither was credence put in the rumor that President Frank Farrington of the state miners' union had called the men out on strike.

Mr. Farrington's Position.

Mr. Farrington has declared that, in his opinion, the coal operators should be permitted to charge as large prices for their coal as they can get, so that, first of all, they may make up for losses in past years, and, secondly, fortify themselves against possible losses in lean years to come. But the vast majority of the miners of the state are loyal citizens and are not at all disposed to increase the difficulties under which their country is laboring in waging war against Germany.

It is not expected that the strikes reported yesterday will prove serious. They may even be called off by the state officers of the union as being in violation of the union agreement with the operators.

As a rule, coal in the Illinois fields sells at a similar price per ton than elsewhere. For that reason any price fixed by the federal trade commission or other national authority would not be likely to be satisfactory in this state. On the other hand, a radical reduction in the Illinois pit mouth price would probably have an immediate effect in reducing prices in Illinois, Ohio, and all the surrounding states.

DETAILS OF STRIKE.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 10.—Fifteen coal mines between Springfield and St. Louis, Mo., have been forced to shut down, throwing out of work between 5,000 and 8,000 miners, as the result of the strike for higher wages of mine drivers, Francis McLaughlin, secretary of the Illinois Coal Operators' association, said tonight.

The men, Mr. McLaughlin said, are demanding nine and ten hours' pay for eight hours' work at their scale of 45 cents an hour. They now receive $3.60 a day.

Not Approved by Miners.

"The walkouts have not the approval of the miners' organization, and in many instances its committees have not been consulted at all," he declared. "The strike is sporadic and is the result of the nation-wide spirit of unrest."

Harry Fishwick, vice president of the Illinois district, United Mine Workers of America, has ordered the drivers back to work in the absence of Frank Farrington, the president, who is in Indianapolis.

SEAMEN IN LINE TO HANDLE FLEET

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—American seamen and their employers have come to a full agreement on wages and working conditions during the war, which, government officials said today, solves the problem of obtaining sufficient men to operate the great merchant fleet the country is building.

The agreement was signed by a committee of sixteen, representing employers, employés, and the three government agencies. The wage scale was fixed as follows:

Sailors and firemen, $60 a month; coal passers, $50; oilers and water tenders, $65; boatswains, $70; carpenters, $75. Overtime pay for cargo work will be figured at 50 cents an hour and for ship work at 40 cents. A 50 per cent bonus will be paid to crews entering the war zone and employers will pay seamen $100 each compensation for loss of personal effects when ships are sunk.

Venezuela Ex-President Sees Dark Future for U. S.

VERA CRUZ, Mex., Aug. 10.—Gen. Cipriano Castro, ex-president of Venezuela, arrived here today, having come from Havana on a Spanish line steamship. The former dictator expressed great pleasure at being in Mexico and said he thought he could now "enjoy a life free from the surveillance of American secret service men." To the newspaper men here Gen. Castro said:

"The United States after the war is over will have many accounts to settle with smaller nations. After this great war the United States will be weak."

Belgian Woman Makes Soap for Her Countrymen

Patriotism discovered a rare example yesterday in Mrs. Leonine Torfs of 847 Chicago avenue, Evanston, who at the age of 60 and the support of herself and a grandchild of 4, has sent more than 1,000 bars of soap, made by her own hands, to the Belgians in the last eighteen months. Mrs. Torfs learned soapmaking when a girl in Belgium, and decided to turn her knowledge to the benefit of her countrymen. She has arranged to send twenty bars per month through the Red Cross to the land of her birth.

WILSON ORDER FOR U. S. RULE OF COAL NEAR Refuses Pleas of Barons for Another Chance to Make Fair Price.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—Plans for carrying into execution the suggestion made to congress by the federal trade commission for control of coal production by a pooling arrangement in the hands of the government are being given serious consideration.

Some action probably will be determined upon within the next few days.

President Wilson, it is declared, has refused all pleas on behalf of the coal producers for another chance to conduct their business independently during the war. Having signed the food bill which gives the trade commission power to control the coal industry, the president has determined to direct it to undertake the job at once, it is stated.

Whether there will be a presidential proclamation on the subject is not known, but there were rumors about the commission headquarters tonight that a proclamation of unusual character regarding the coal situation was expected next week.

Railroads Pool Interests.

The original suggestion of the trade commission was for a pooling of both coal production and transportation facilities, but since that time the railroad interests of the country have been pooled under one operating committee which will coöperate with the government through the council of national defense. For this reason it probably will not be necessary at this time for the government to take control of railroad operation.

Neither is it the present intention of the government to take over the operation of the mines, but merely to control the sale of the coal through a pooling arrangement whereby it can maintain price levels.

Uniform Profit Per Ton.

Three members of the trade commission, Davies, Colver, and Fort, are strongly committed to the plan originally recommended in a report to congress. This provides:

That the production of coal and coke be conducted through a pool in the hands of a government agency.

That the producers of the various grades of coal be paid their full cost of production, which has now been ascertained by the commission itself, plus a uniform profit per ton [with due allowance for quality of product and cost of service].

The trade commission is expected to serve as the big sales agency for the coal producers of the country. Prices for coal will be fixed with due regard to quality, actual cost of production and transportation.

Charges that bituminous coal dealers are exacting extortionate profits from consumers under the so-called Peabody agreement were made today before the federal trade commission by Clifford Thorne, appearing in behalf of various public utilities and a national municipal organization.

"KAISER WILSON" BANNER IS TORN FROM SUFFRAGIST

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—A suffrage banner addressed to "Kaiser Wilson" was torn from the hands of Miss Lucy Burns of New York, acting chairman of the Woman's party, shortly after her arrival with it today at the White House gate, by James P. Delaney, a navy department clerk. The full inscription was as follows:

"Kaiser Wilson: Have you forgotten how you sympathized with the poor Germans because they were not self-governed? Twenty million American women are not self-governed. Take the beam out of your own eye."

There was no attack on Miss Burns and no disorder in the crowd. There were no arrests.

2 PHILADELPHIA BOYS WAR HEROES

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—Wayne Vetterlein of 4212 Spruce street, Yale man, prominent in Philadelphia clubs, and a member of section 22 of the American Red Cross ambulance service, while loading wounded into an ambulance under fire was struck in the left leg by seven pieces of an exploding shrapnel shell. The limb was so badly mangled that amputation was necessary.

At the same time Price McQuillen, a son of Dr. Daniel McQuillen of 2048 Upland way, Overbrook, who was working with Vetterlein, was wounded, but his injury was not of a serious nature.

Both men have been awarded the French war cross and the military medal for distinguished service under fire.

Harold Lee Judd, Worth Fortune, Glad to Go to War

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—Some of the yellow that Gov. Holcomb recently told the army officers to squeeze out of Connecticut was eradicated by Multimillionaire Harold Lee Judd of New Britain, who two years ago married the widow of Charles G. Gates of Minneapolis, when Judd was unequivocally passed by the examining board in New Britain.

He waived exemption, although he has a wife and child, and said the sooner he get across to fight his country's enemy the better he would like it.

Mr. Judd will be in the first levy to be sent from New Britain to the mobilization camp.

ASK 100 MILLION TO REPAIR MEN TO ENTER ARMY

Senate Bill Provides for a Vast Sum to Reclaim Unfit.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—The physical reclamation of men for national defense is proposed in a bill introduced in the senate today by Senator Pomerene of Ohio. One hundred million dollars is asked in the measure to establish camps where men who have been rejected by the army may be put into physical trim which would enable them to serve their country at the front.

The bill establishes a "reclamation camp commission," to be appointed by the president, to supervise the remedying of many defects which cause rejection.

The plan, devised by Dr. John S. Quale of Cleveland, would cover not only the drafted men who proved physically deficient but also men who volunteered for the regular army or navy.

Senator Pomerene has received the support of the secretary of war and the surgeon general of the army for his bill. They believe in its efficacy. He thinks that 2,000,000 men out of the 10,000,000 drawn in the draft may be utilized. Therefore he has made the sum of the appropriation $100,000,000, estimating that $50 per man would pay for the reclamation.

ENGLISH ARE GRATEFUL TO U. S., BONAR LAW SAYS

LONDON, Aug. 10.—A. Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, told the house of commons on the second reading of the war loan bill today, that the British government did no intend to issue a war loan during the parliamentary recess unless something unexpected happened. He said the advances made by the United States heretofore had been on short term notes.

It was possible, he added, that the United States might prefer a long dated loan. Hence it was necessary that the government should have power to issue such a loan.

Mr. Bonar Law said he would like to take the opportunity of saying publicly how much the government appreciated the assistance given, not only to Great Britain but to the other allied powers by the United States, and how grateful they were for the helpful spirit with which the American secretary of the treasury, Mr. McAdoo, had met all these questions.

U. S. Ends Carpenters' Strike in Army Camps

New York, Aug. 10.—[Special.]—The United States government, through undisclosed channels, quickly ended today the strike of carpenters on the marine cantonment at Pelham Bay park, the marine barracks in City park, Brooklyn, the aviation cantonment at Hempstead Plains, L. I., and the army encampment at Yaphank, L. I.

The strike order, issued after work Thursday, had hardly even begun to take effect when T. M. Guerin, national head of the union, issued an order canceling the strike.

Union men only are to be employed in the government work.

PARIS, Aug. 10.—Charles Chaumet, deputy chairman of the naval committee of the chamber of deputies, has been appointed minister of marine, succeeding Admiral Lacaze, who resigned Aug. 2. An undersecretaryship of marine has been created, and Jacques Louis Dumesnil has been appointed to the post on recommendation of M. Chaumet.

933 SHIPS LOST TO SCANDINAVIA SINCE WAR BEGAN

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 10.—Nine hundred and thirty-three Scandinavian ships have been destroyed by torpedoes or mines since the beginning of the war, according to the Aftenbladet. Of this number, Norway lost 600, Denmark 187, and Sweden 146. The number of Scandinavian seamen lost in these disasters was about 500.

U-BOAT VICTIMS SAVED.

An Atlantic Port, Aug. 10.—The Norwegian sailing ship Siraa, which left Buenos Aires Feb. 27 for Havre, was sunk by a German submarine and its crew was picked up 800 miles off Portugal on June 29 and landed at Cadiz, according to officers of a Spanish ship on arrival here today.

The officers said that on the same date they also picked up the crew of the Norwegian steamship Benguela, previously reported by its crew on reaching Copenhagen, to have been captured by the submarine and put into use as a U-boat sea base.

On the same day, according to the officers, the Spanish ship was stopped by a large German submarine. An underofficer of the U-boat came on board, put their wireless out of commission, and carefully examined the ship's papers before it was allowed to proceed.

Danish Bark Sunk.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—The Danish bark Atlantis was sunk July 9 by German submarine gunfire, but the crew was saved by a British destroyer, according to state department advices today.

BOYS IN FRANCE ARE FULL OF 'PEP'; LITTLE ILLNESS

AMERICAN TRAINING CAMP IN FRANCE, Aug. 9.—[Delayed.]—The hard training work for the trenches is proving a veritable tonic to the members of the American expeditionary force. The percentage of illness for the entire force is only 2½ per cent, as against an average of 5 per cent in army posts in the United States. Nearly all the sickness is made up of light cases of mumps, measles, and colds, all of which are yielding to medical treatment.

GERMANS ADMIT FOOD SHORTAGE

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters reports that an order issued to the Ypres group of the armies of Crown Prince Rupprecht has been found which reads:

"The fact that economy in bread cereals has been taken into consideration makes it necessary to sanction an increased ration only where it is really needful. Officers are requested to explain again to their subordinates the serious nature of the economic situation in Germany, and give instructions that the strictest economy must be exercised with regard to all supplies.

"Nothing must be consumed beyond that which is really necessary, and not the smallest particle must be wasted."

PERU-GERMAN BREAK IS SEEN

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—Failure of the German foreign office to placate Peru has forced that country into a position where some officials of the state department believe it can do nothing less than break relations with the imperial government.

Manuel de Freyre y Santander, the Peruvian chargé, today was informed by his government that Peru would not accept the new German proposal to submit the case of the Peruvian bark Lorton to a prize court.

Unofficial advices yesterday said the Peruvian senate had indorsed President Wilson's stand in the war, and a break in relations now is expected by many officials to follow shortly.

FOOD BILL, LAW; HOOVER, CHIEF; WAR ON PRICES

Methods of Profiteers to Be Forced Into Patriotic Lines.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—President Wilson signed the food control bill today and at once announced the formal appointment of Herbert C. Hoover as United States food administrator.

Immediately following his appointment Mr. Hoover, who has been serving for months as voluntary food director of the nation, and who now becomes charged with the great task of feeding half a billion people, issued a statement declaring it to be the intention of the authorized food administration to fight war profiteers to the last ditch and to force them to adopt patriotic principles that are influencing the majority of America's business men at this time.

The statement followed a conference with the president at which the policy to be followed in directing the country's food supply was considered in great detail.

Three Objects in View.

Making it clear that the food administration was called into being to stabilize and not to disturb conditions and to defend honest enterprise against illegitimate competition, Mr. Hoover's statement says:

"The hopes of the food administration are threefold. First, to so guide the trade in the fundamental food commodities as to eliminate vicious speculation, extortion, and wasteful practices, and to stabilize prices in the essential staples. Second, to guard our exports so that against the world's shortage we retain sufficient supplies for our own people, and to coöperate with the allies to prevent inflation of prices, and, third, that we stimulate in every manner within our power the saving of our food in order that we may increase exports to our allies to a point which will enable them to properly provision their armies and to feed their peoples during the coming winter.

Must Feed Our Allies.

"The deep obligation is upon us to feed the armies and the peoples associated with us in this struggle. The diversion of 40,000,000 of their men to war or war work, the additional millions of women drafted to the places of their husbands and brothers, the toll of the submarine, have all conspired to so reduce production that their harvests this autumn will fall 500,000,000 bushels of grain below their normal production.

"Before the war we exported but 80,000,000 bushels of wheat per annum. This year, by one means or another, we must find for them 225,000,000 bushels, and this in the face of a short crop. Our best will but partly meet their needs, for even then they must reduce their bread consumption 25 per cent, and it will be war bread they must eat—war bread, of which a large portion consists of other cereals.

"Already the greater call for meat and animal products, due to the stress of war on the millions of men on the fighting line, and the enhanced physical labor of populations ordinarily subsisting on lighter diets, coupled with the inadequate world supply, have compelled our allies to kill upwards of 33,000,000 head of their stock animals.

Burn Candle at Both Ends.

"This is burning the candle at both ends, for they are thus stifling their annual production. Therefore, not only must we increase their supplies of meat and dairy products, but must prepare as war goes on to meet an even greater demand for these necessary commodities.

"Drastic reduction of consumption among our allies falls upon the old people and the women and children, and any shortage in the supplies we may send them will fall upon this class and this class only, for until they are reduced to starvation they themselves will insist on every sacrifice in order that their fighters in the trenches and the men and women in the munition factories may be maintained.

"This war is a struggle to assure the dominance of democracy. Every flag that flies against the central powers is by proxy the American flag. Every man in the ranks of the allies, every woman and child in Europe sacrificing in the maintenance of these men, is fighting in our defense.

Plea for Co-operation.

"There is no royal road to food conservation. It can be achieved only through sincere and earnest daily coöperation in 20,000,000 kitchens and at the 20,000,000 dinner tables of the United States. If we can reduce our consumption of wheat flour by one pound, our meat by seven ounces, our fat by seven ounces, our sugar by seven ounces per person per week these quantities multiplied by 100,000,000, will immeasurably aid and encourage our allies, help our own growing armies, and so effectively serve the great and noble cause of humanity in which our nation has embarked.

"This coöperation and service I ask of all in full confidence that America will render more for flag and freedom than king ridden peoples surrender at compulsion."

Warfare on Profiteers.

That war time demand will not be suffered to fix the basis of prices for the supply of commodities was made clear in the statement. The food commission does not intend to proceed at once with a host of punitive measures against hoarders and others responsible for the high price of commodities, but by schedules of regulations affecting directly the ordinary processes of commerce it hopes so to affect the production and sale of wheat and other commodities that gambling, extortion, and other wasteful practices will be eliminated, as far as possible, through natural measures.

Where there is evidence that those who handle the country's supplies are attempting to extort high prices through corrupt practices and speculation, the government intends to wage an open and vigorous fight. The powers of commandeer and other regulatory provisions of the food bill will be used whenever dealers force the government to show its hand.

HUGE TASKS TO DO BEFORE U. S. CAN STRIKE FOE

But Pershing Steadily Builds Up Colossal Machine for Blow.

BY LINCOLN EYRE.

[Copyright: 1917: By Press Publishing Company (New York World).]

AMERICAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Aug. 10.—I have just completed a fairly comprehensive inquiry into the problems which must be solved and the things which must be done before the American expeditionary force can strike at the enemy with strength equivalent to that of an equal number of their French and British comrades. Now that a month has passed and the rudiments of soldiering have been solidly implanted, every officer who is not directly busied with the actual routine of training is throwing every ounce of energy and brains he possesses into the transcendently important task of organization.

From talks with many officers thus engaged and from my own knowledge of the American army's needs, I am able to sketch on broad lines the colossal machinery which must be set in motion before the American troops can participate in an offensive like that recently undertaken in the Ypres and Yser sectors.

Huge Tasks to Be Tackled.

General headquarters must be established and linked up with all the units, including the hospital work and the marine base.

Details and arrangements for feeding and munitioning the men in the trenches, and for carrying back the wounded and disposing of the dead must be worked out.

The operations department of the general staff must have familiarized itself with every square yard of the territory upon which our men will fight.

Artillery officers and men must have learned all there is to know about the French 75 fieldpieces, as well as the fine art of creating a creeping barrage fire just ahead of their own advancing infantry without dropping shells among the latter.

There must be adequate engineering machine gun redoubts, vast subterranean shelters, and all the other complicated defenses necessitated by trench warfare.

Reserve Must Be Ready.

For every regiment in action a reserve battalion from which can be drawn the drafts of men required to keep the unit up to full strength must be created in the United States.

A reserve store of ammunition of all kinds must be in readiness sufficient to guard against every emergency.

The number of horses and mules now available must be increased and so must the number of motor trucks.

These eight essential cogs in the mighty engine behind the firing line do not by any means complete the list of requirements. They give a fair idea, however, of the magnitude of the job that is being tackled by Maj. Gen. Pershing and his assistants, and ought to give the people at home an inkling of what it is going to mean to the whole nation.

Situation Not Gloomy.

The situation, as it is painted to me by men familiar with every phase of it, is grave, but not gloomy. All the things I have set forth above are going to be done, provided only that the country supports its soldiers with all means at its disposal.

SOLDIER AND WOMAN DEAD; THROATS CUT

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 10.—The bodies of Mrs. Elizabeth Hamilton, a divorcee, and Roy Webster, a private in Battery A, Missouri field artillery, were found in Mrs. Hamilton's flat here tonight. The throats of both had been cut. Mrs. Hamilton had been beaten severely. Both eyes were swollen and blackened and there was a slash on her left shoulder. She also was bruised about the head and chest.

NEW LAWMAKER ASKS WAR AIMS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—In a prepared statement given out today as he was sworn in as a member of congress to succeed the late Representative Helgesen of North Dakota, John M. Baer, artist, congressman, and representative of the Farmers' Nonpartisan league, demanded that peace terms of the United States be made public.

While Baer declared that he was not opposed to the war and that the platform on which he was elected did not contemplate such propaganda, he took a vigorous fling at the policy of the United States in aiding "England or any other country in their imperialistic designs."

"President Wilson," Baer declared, "says that we are in accord with the aims of the allies, and that their aims are in accord with ours. If that be true, then are we not fighting for imperialism and not for democracy? Let us drag these questions out before the whole world and settle them before the bar of world opinion."

HONOR THAW IN FRENCH ORDERS

PARIS, Aug. 10.—Among the citations in the army orders printed in today's Official Journal is that of Lieut. William Thaw of Pittsburgh, who is popularly known in France as "the American eagle." It reads:

"Lieut. Thaw, who returned to the front after recovering from a severe wound, has never ceased to give an example of courage and enterprise. He showed intelligent initiative during a German attack by landing in his airplane near a group of French troops and giving them information that he had obtained by flying low over the enemy's position. This information enabled our troops to avoid a possible surprise. Lieut. Thaw brought down an enemy aviator on April 26 of this year, that being his second aerial victory."

German Ship Strikes German Mine; 30 Lost

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Thirty men were lost when a German patrol ship collided with a German mine, according to a report from Stubbekjobing, says a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company.

MONOPOLIES

Vice Premier Nekrasoff Says State Control of Industries Will Re-establish Russia's Credit.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 10.—N. V. Nekrasoff, vice premier and minister of finance, made a statement to the press today in regard to the financial resources of the country, in which he expressed the opinion that commercial monopolies, which the government proposes to establish, would soon bring about a stable condition of credit. M. Nekrasoff's statement follows:

"The demands of the budget exceed the forecasts as regards the income from direct taxes which already were at a maximum. The finance ministry proposes to establish a number of state commercial monopolies, therefore, as an extreme measure. It considers that the guaranty of Russia's prosperity lies in the development of public and private industrial and commercial enterprises.

"In our troubled condition allowances must be made. We, therefore, aim to coöperate with the ministry of commerce and industry to support development of our resources. It is realized that our credit abroad depends on events on the battle front, but we believe that our trials soon will end with our financial credit again stable. Incidentally, subscriptions to the liberty loan so far are three and one half million rubles."

CLABAUGH BACK; LABOR PROTEST SENT TO GREGORY

Hinton G. Clabaugh, head of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice in Chicago, returned last night from Washington, where he conferred with A. Bruce Bielaski, his chief, and other officials. Among other subjects taken up was his action during a strike of employés at the L. Wolff Manufacturing company's plant, which Chicago labor officials made the basis of a protest to Secretary of Labor Wilson.

Mr. Wilson has turned the protest over to Attorney General Gregory, but nothing is expected to come of it because the plant where the strike was called that Clabaugh investigated is engaged in filling a government contract for munitions. A section of the statute prohibits interference in the operation of a plant thus engaged. This section was read to John Fitzpatrick, president, and Edward Nockels, secretary, of the Chicago Federation of Labor by an assistant United States attorney general in Clabaugh's office. The protest to Secretary Wilson was made subsequently.

"The Chicago bureau will continue to investigate any violations of the law, no matter who is concerned, and no matter where they may lead," was the statement Clabaugh made on his return to Chicago. "I think that covers everything."

PLANT WRECKED; WOMEN KILLED

LONDON, Aug. 10.—An explosion and fire in a big chemical works in East London last night wrecked the building and killed or injured scores of workers. Thirteen bodies of women so far have been taken from the ruins. A large number of injured have been treated at the police stations and other convenient places. Bodies are still being searched for.

France Turns Over Two Hospitals to U. S. Corps

PARIS, Aug. 10.—The medical corps of the United States army announced today that the French authorities had turned over two large military hospitals and also a large medical depot. American base hospital units are manning these institutions. The entire American expeditionary force now has been inoculated against typhoid and paratyphoid. A great field laboratory is under construction near the American training camp.

KAISER'S ALLIES AIM TO GIVE HIM DOUBLE CROSS?

Austria and Bulgaria Said to Be Seeking Way to Get from Under.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.] Trouble is brewing between Austria and Bulgaria and between Germany and Bulgaria, according to authentic information which has been received in a diplomatic quarter here.

Austria was said to be planning the betrayal of Bulgaria in the peace negotiations. Germany is irritated by the persistent refusal of Bulgaria to sever relations with the United States, thus completing the alignment of the central powers and the allies against America.

Austria, foreseeing the necessity of restoring Serbia, and fearing to lose Bosnia and Herzegovina also to Serbia, is so shaping her policies as to be in a position to offer to Serbia, instead of Bosnia and Herzegovina, ample compensation in Macedonia which, under the understood terms of the alliance with Bulgaria, would go to the latter in the event of a Teutonic victory or a draw.

Report Comes from Berlin.

The information came in a circuitous way from Berlin, and for that reason it is believed that the German government is cognizant of, if not a party to, Austria's alleged treachery against Bulgaria. It also was considered possible that the Sofia ministry has been acquainted with Austria's design in order that Germany might the better exercise influence in Bulgaria, which country, from all reports, is satisfied with its conquests and is lukewarm towards any proposal that it enlarge its participation in the war.

"Austria," an entente diplomat said today, "is playing a familiar card in seeking to serve her own interests at the expense of an ally. Throughout Austria's history, the Hapsburgs have sought to sacrifice others, friends as readily as foes, in the dynasty's interests. This practice has been consistently followed by Austria in recent years.

Sacrifice of Italy.

"Austria's occupation of Bosnia and Herzegovina, in 1908, in violation of treaty obligations, was winked at by Europe, which nevertheless was given a cause for war. Austria sacrificed Italy in every possible way during the Italo-Turkish war, and the fact that Italy was Austria's ally did not deter the latter from obstructing Italy all she could.

"For the last twenty year Austria has been pursuing policies that aimed at the eradication of Serbian and Italian influences in her population. She has not hesitated to play one part of her own population against another part, race against race, to make the dynasty and its domains the more secure. In her foreign diplomacy it has been the aim of Austria to create misunderstandings between other countries.

"Now Austria is prepared to sacrifice Bulgaria, just as Germany is ready to sacrifice Turkey."

Dispatches of a confidential nature received from abroad state that both Bulgaria and Turkey are distrustful of Germany, and are only awaiting the conclusion of the war to cast off German domination.

GEN. BARRY BIDS GODSPEED TO NEW OFFICERS

Three Governors Review Men Who Will Lead the National Army.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Fort Sheridan, Ill., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—What might be termed the graduation exercises of the officers' training camp here were held this afternoon on the big parade ground.

Inside the long lines of three sides of a hollow square formed by thousands of spectators, 3,779 men swung in khaki ranks past a special reviewing stand, where, instead of the graduates' bow they executed "eyes right" for the executives of the three states represented here, and for the commanding general of the central department.

Then in a dense, solid square they stood at ease to receive godspeed from their general and their governors upon the eve of taking up the big task of helping to build the new national army. Probably 3,000 of them had been told secretly of the grades their diplomas will bear when they are issued next week; and there was a keen intenseness in their manner as they listened.

Praised by Barry.

Maj. Gen. Thomas H. Barry praised them as he had done before, but he also told them that the selected men in the national army deserve even more credit than they. Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois would have received a rousing cheer had the men not been standing at attention when he championed the plan of sending American troops into Europe. Gov. A. E. Sleeper of Michigan and Gov. E. M. Philipp of Wisconsin spoke chiefly but earnestly of the good wishes of those states for their sons and the sons of Illinois.

"Carry to the national army the same spirit that has animated you in this camp," urged Gen. Barry. "Remember that those men are fully as patriotic as you are, and, in my opinion, entitled to a little more credit, for, generally speaking, they are making greater sacrifices.

Cheer for Losers.

"To those of you who have not won out I wish to say that you are entitled to just as much credit as those who have won. The successful ones probably had advantages at the start that you did not have. But keep after them by going into the national army as recommended by the wart department.

"Ladies and gentlemen, look at those red blooded young Americans, and let us thank God, and let us thank the commander in chief and the secretary of war for giving us an opportunity to make such officers instead of turning it over to politics."

Gen. Barry, in closing the speaking program, also thanked Col. W. J. Nicholson and the camp instructors for their work; and again he mentioned the subject of political influence.

"I want to assure the public," he said, "that these men who have won commissions here have been selected absolutely on their merits."

Address by Lowden.

This is an American war," said Gov. Lowden, "and no other kind of war, as some in this country would have us believe. There are those who say we should not take our troops into a foreign land. When in the history of the world has a nation preferred to wage its wars on its own soil? Our Spanish war, our Mexican war, both were fought on foreign soil. Were they any less American wars.

"I have felt a serener faith here today in our country's future than I have felt in the years that preceded this war. During those years there were many trembling things. Discipline in the home was breaking down. Discipline in the schools was breaking down. We were becoming materialistic. And it may be God's providence that sends you to bare your breasts to naked steel in order to awaken the American people to the great peril to which we were tending.

"You are going to fight not only in the greatest war the world has ever known but for the greatest cause the world has ever known."

Give Special Drill.

Following the review of the two regiments, Capt. H. J. Keeley, known as "Young Koehler," sent the special squads trained by Maj. Herman J. Koehler of West Point through their snappy calisthenics. Then the crowd was directed to the field fortifications built by the students and a battle for possession of the trenches was staged.

CITY BUYS VAST HOLE IN GROUND AT STIFF PRICE

Cavernous, deep, deserted, and yawning, useless for years, a mighty hole has stood near Ohio and Rockwell streets, not far from the tracks of the Milwaukee railroad. Now comes Chicago and buys this hole, covering six and a half acres, and pays $121,750 for it—$18,600 an acre.

Real estate men figure, on a basis of nine twenty-five foot lots to the acre, that it cost the city about $80 a front foot. Land in the vicinity has sold recently for from $20 to $25 a front foot, they say. Land on Western avenue, one of the main streets of the section, has been sold recently for $40 a front foot.

Frank I. Bennett, commissioner of public works, grew petulant when a reporter asked him to explain the purchase. The whole hole, he said, was a straight and good business deal.

Then he calmed and explained something like this:

It is a vital need that the city have a hole just now. The hole is worth much more to the city than the land would be. The city will dump things into the hole.

And then, when the hole ceases to be a hole it will be land, and the city will own it. The city, he explained, is paying $7 a day for teams to haul garbage. One team can haul four loads in a day to the hole. If it has to haul the garbage to some dump way out at Mayfair or Argyle or some suburban dump it could make only one load a day.

Sixteen Words Bequeath $50,000.

In a will of sixteen words James R. McMaster of Oak Park, who died July 3, disposes of $50,000, all of which is left to his widow, Mrs. Cora McMasters, 546 North Euclid avenue, Oak Park. The will was dated April 5, 1913.

SIMMONS OPENS WAR TAX DEBATE; DEFENDS SENATE

Says Burden Is Justly Distributed in Reply to Kitchin.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—Chairman Simmons, explaining to the senate today the finance committee's purposes in redrafting the war tax bill, declared the changes made will greatly increase the tax burden to be borne by the big corporations who have profited from the war.

In a detailed statement opening debate on the measure Senator Simmons said the committee had weighed every schedule carefully during its many weeks of consideration and that the bill as now presented would place the tax where it belonged without working injustice to any one. He did not complete his statement and will continue tomorrow.

Answers Kitchin's Charges.

Without mentioning him by name, the North Carolina senator replied at length to Chairman Kitchin of the house ways and means committee, who recently charged that the senate committee had rewritten the house bill in such a way as to favor prosperous corporations and individuals.

On the contrary, the senator insisted, the senate revision would tax the prosperous much more heavily than had the house bill. The house, he said, had been far too lenient with those who had "reaped this harvest of gold."

"Certain corpoorations in this country are going to be made to disgorge, in order to pay the expenses of this war, a considerable proportion of their income," Senator Simmons said. "The 1916 war profits exceed $3,000,000,000. The house bill proposed a ridiculously small sum from the swollen war profits. It was entirely too lenient to the men who have reaped this harvest of gold—gold they exacted out of the earnings of those who must bear the burden of this struggle."

Slaps at Criticizers.

Senator Simmons said those who criticize the senate committee because it substituted a graduated tax on corporations' war profits for a flat rate of 8 per cent, as levied by the house, did not understand the situation. He declared that out of fourteen countries having such a tax, only two, Canada and Spain, impose a war profits tax on a basis other than the plan outlined by the committee.

Defending the committee's consumption tax on sugar, tea, and coffee, he said the original house bill levied just about as much tax in other forms on these articles. He denied charges that the senate bill favored the railroads.

Many senators have prepared speeches and a long debate is expected. Senator La Follette is preparing a minority report in conjunction with Senators Gore and Thomas, and hopes to be able to present it tomorrow.

QUICK RECOVERY HOPED FOR TAFT

Clay Center, Kas., Aug. 10.—After visiting former President William H. Taft, ill of an intestinal disorder at a local hotel, tonight, Dr. Morgan, his physician, reported the patient contined to improve. He said that indications now are promising for a speedy recovery. It is planned to give Mr. Taft more nourishment tomorrow morning, Dr. Morgan said.

Mr. Taft showed much improvement during the day. When asked if there was any message he wanted to send to relatives, he said he didn't want to bother them.

When Artist Meets 'Artist,' One Loses $40

Viola A. Westphal is an artist in the Tower building. Last evening, while waiting for a car at Madison and Dearborn streets, she carried under one arm a purse containing $40 and under the other a swagger stick. Some one jostled her, but she gave no heed. When she boarded her car and reached for the fare she carried only a swagger stick.

U. S. RED CROSS TO TREAT WOUNDED FOE LIKE FRIEND

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—A statement making it clear that the American Red Cross will not neglect German wounded or prisoners and will welcome coöperation from Americans of German origin was authorized by Chairman Davison of the Red Cross war council tonight.

"When war was declared between the United States and Germany," Mr. Davison said, "the neutrality of the American Red Cross, of course, ended automatically. The American Red Cross can coöperate only behind the lines of the armies of the United States and its allies. But the Red Cross knows no such thing as the nationality of a wounded man. Any wounded enemy turned over to the care of the American Red Cross will receive as kindly treatment as any friend.

"As to the policy of the Red Cross in this country toward those of German origin: The Red Cross knows no difference and makes no distinction between any American citizens.

"The Red Cross wants it clearly understood that it welcomes the coöperation of every loyal American, and that it does not regard that loyalty as measured by the country of his origin."

HEAD OF PRESS CLUB PRESENTS HIS RESIGNATION

H. Percye Millar presented his resignation yesterday from the presidency of the Press Club of Chicago, stating as his reason that "Newspapermen are being shouldered out of their own club by a nonprofessional element seeking glorification by reason of membership in one of the largest newspaper clubs of the world."

The resignation was not accepted by the directors and has been referred to a general meeting of the club to be held Monday afternoon.

"I have acted with extreme reluctance," Mr. Millar said. "I have observed for several months that in the club there is a group hostile to the newspaper profession. Men who never saw the inside of a newspaper office have been intent on controlling the club's destinies, as well as its finances.

"I have endeavored to maintain the club's pro-Americanism and to keep it primarily a newspaperman's institution."

Mr. Millar stated that the club now has a $10,000 bank balance.

Mr. Millar is serving his second term as president of the club. He is the Chicago representative of the New York Times.

OFFICERS FAVOR 'GOOD-BY DAY' FOR NEW ARMY

Celebration to Inspire City and Men Is Planned.

Already one celebration ahead of the rest of the nation in honoring the great new national army, Chicago is planning to join with the rest of the country in a mighty Good-By day, about Sept. 1. Some one has suggested that as the men are going away to France it be called Au Revoir day.

Saturday, Sept. 1, has been suggested as the day, but Monday, Sept. 3, is Labor day, and some argue that it is not well to go to war with three full holidays in a row when every day is needed for preparation.

The plan for a fitting testimonial for "the boys" comes as a result of a statement issued by Provost Marshal General Crowder.

Chiperfield Approves.

Maj. B. M. Chiperfield, in Chicago in the interest of the draft board work, seconded it, saying:

"It would be a very graceful and appropriate act on the part of the city of Chicago to give the boys of the new national army who are going to the front to fight the battles of the nation a rousing farewell and a cordial Godspeed.

"It will hearten these soldiers for their task. It will inspire those who remain at home. It will arouse the patriotism of those who go and those who stay and by all means such a farewell should be arranged."

John W. O'Leary, who was one of the chief workers in getting up the recent parade and who is president of the Association of Commerce, said:

"We ought to be glad to do that much for a starter. But it ought to be only a beginning of what we are going to do. We should send them away to the war with the memory of a demonstration which will tell them every hour that we are praying for them, and then—we should make good that memory in more material ways."

Nicholson Backs Plan.

Col. William J. Nicholson, in command of the reserve officers' camp at Fort Sheridan, indorsed the celebration strongly. He said:

"It will warm the hearts of the boys and give them something to remember with pride when they sail away to Europe."

Capt. W. A. Moffett, commandant at the Great Lakes Training station, said:

"It would not only send the soldiers away with cheer in their hearts that would comfort them through their months of training, but would be vividly remembered when they are in strange lands. Too, it would stir us at home to a greater realization that we are really in a mighty war."

Mayor Thompson was asked what he thought of the plan. His reply was:

"That's the business of congress or the war department. We'll follow instructions—do whatever they want."

MAY DECLARE HOLIDAY.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—A national holiday may be declared to celebrate the mobilization of the new national army in September. That the entrainment of every unit should be attended by a demonstration of patriotism has been the suggestion in capital circles. Although Sept. 1 was named, Gen. Crowder today said the mobilization day may be postponed.

The regular army has passed its war strength figure of 300,000, it was officially announced by the war department today. Since April 1 184,422 men have joined the regulars.

President Wilson next week is expected to send to the senate for confirmation the names of more than 100 officers of the regular army and militia whom the war department has designated for brigadier and major generalships.

First Engineers Get "Rattling Sendoff"

"A rattling good sendoff" was given the First regiment, Illinois engineers, last night under auspices of the citizens' unit. The ceremony took place on the municipal pier. While the date of the regiment's departure for the war zone has not been decided upon, it was determined to have a "farewell party" before peremptory orders should arrive.

"CHIP IN"

Friends of "Sammies'" Tobacco Fund Suggest Collections Be Made Among Employes in Offices, Stores, and Factories.

ALONG with yesterday's contributions to the tobacco fund which is to supply American smoking materials for the United States soldiers in France, came several suggestions from friends of the "Sammies."

From an office in the Insurance Exchange building $6.30 was sent in anonymously with information it had been collected from employés. It was suggested this practice would be successful if tried in other offices, where there are many who would gladly "chip in" a little.

These sums were sent in yesterday:

Louis Platte, Dubuque	$10.00
F. L. Moffett, Minneapolis......	5.00
Isabel P. Middleton	2.00
R. B. Bullard, Maxwell, Ia.....	1.00
Henry Heiner, Maxwell, Ia......	1.00
M. S. Beck, Maxwell, Ia........	1.00
H. M. W.	2.00
Margaret Fenton	1.00
Anonymous	6.30
	$29.30
Previously acknowledged	1,033.21
Total	$1,062.51

A feature of yesterday's contributions was most of them came from other cities.

One hundred and nine pounds of tin foil, accumulated by Parke Brown of THE TRIBUNE staff, sold for $32.70 yesterday. The money was donated to the tobacco fund.

STICKNEY HALTS PLAN FOR $16,000 COUNTY HIGHWAY

At a meeting of the roads and bridges committee of the county board yesterday it was decided that the county will spend $12,000 for the improvement of Cicero avenue from the city limits to Stickney, where the government is considering the establishment of an aviation field. However, there was a hitch in this patriotic move.

The township of Stickney failed to agree to stand an expense of $4,000 for the proposed improvement, and as the county has already offered as much money for the improvement as can be spared, the matter was continued until next Tuesday.

"The county cannot pay more than three-fourths of this improvement," said President Reinberg yesterday. "If we do that much we are doing more than we usually do in such cases. The commissioners of Stickney township should be willing to pay one-fourth for the benefits it will derive."

CITY BEGINS FIGHT TO RETAIN $4,000,000

Steps to contest the return of $4,000,000 under a recent decision of the Supreme court that has been paid into the city treasury for the vacation of alleys were taken yesterday by Chester E. Cleveland, acting corporation counsel. The decision holds that the city has no right to money held as an indemnity after a period of five years, and must return it unless there is a claim for damages.

A rehearing in the matter will be asked, and if the request is refused, then the city will enter a court of equity and present the claim that if the indemnity ordinance is illegal, it is illegal also for the city to vacate its alleys, and that those on which the $4,000,000 was paid must be returned to the city.

Over $1,000,000 has been paid to the city for vacating alleys in connection with preparations for building the Union station.

RAILROAD MEN IN SPAIN STRIKE

MADRID, Aug. 10.—After negotiations covering a long period between the railroads and employés the men broke off relations with the companies last night.

The strike will affect the employés on many divisions of the Northern Railroad company. Employés of other companies are threatening to take similar action, which seems likely to lead to a general railroad strike.

The government is striving to prevent a rupture.

2D ARTILLERY BATTERY SOON TO MOVE SOUTH

Unit Is Ordered to Act as Advance Party at Houston.

SECOND ARTILLERY
(Streeterville)

Orders were received last night to prepare a battery to leave at once for the camp at Houston, Tex. This battery will act as an advance party, and will prepare the camp for the regiment. Battery A, under the command of Capt. J. W. Mattes, was designated to go. The exact time of departure is not known.

Most of the men now are in the federal service. The remainder of the regiment will be sworn in today. They went through the tuberculosis tests more than a week ago.

The field day scheduled for today has been postponed until Wednesday on account of the mustering.

SECOND INFANTRY
(2653 West Madison Street.)

The Second now also is all dressed up at last. Two five ton trucks brought all kinds of personal equipment to the armory yesterday morning and the supply company spent most of the day assorting it. All the companies have been supplied now and everything is ready to move at a moment's notice.

A big recruiting rally will be staged tomorrow at the Garden City Baseball park, Forty-second avenue and Lake street. Company "L" and the band will parade in the park. A number of automobiles will be on hand and any men at the park wanting to enlist will be taken to the armory and sworn in. The regiment lacks about 300 men.

EIGHTH INFANTRY
(3417 Forest Ave.)

There is a happy lot at the Eighth armory today. All the men have received shoes and most of them parts of their personal equipment. As soon as the overworked supply company can issue the rest the men will become soldiers in appearance as well as in name. Daily hikes to Washington park and the surrounding streets have been planned.

SEVENTH INFANTRY
(3401 Wentworth Ave.)

"He has two strong lungs and one good Irish heart."

That is "medico's" tribute to Col. Dan Moriarty. It was made after the surgeons had finished their examination of the colonel. The regiment is making a remarkable showing in tuberculosis tests, and extremely few men are lost.

Col. Moriarty had something of a reception yesterday. Several mothers came to him and informed him that their sons had joined the regiment at the tender age of 15. All these boys will promptly be discharged.

FIRST ARTILLERY
(Camp Geismer, Fort Sheridan)

The First experienced some real patriotism yesterday. Guy Mercer, a former sergeant of the regiment, was rejected at the recent physical examinations. That was on July 30. He went to a hospital and was operated on. Yesterday, Aug. 10, he came back to the camp and presented himself for enlistment. He probably will be accepted.

Five Chicagoans Win Straps at Plattsburg

Five Chicagoans were among the eighteen middle west men to receive commissions yesterday at the reserve officers' training camp at Plattsburg, N. Y. Four of the five won second lieutenancies, as follows:

Philip J. Sexton, regular army; Elias A. Johnson, Quartermaster's corps, national army; William C. Hubbard, infantry section, Officers' Reserve corps; Frank V. Willard, field artillery, Officers' Reserve corps. The fifth Chicagoan, Blinn B. Yates, was appointed a first lieutenant in the reserve corps.

SWEDEN INVITES SIX NEUTRALS TO TALK PEACE

"End of War" Measure Instigated by King Gustav.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.
(Special Cable to The Tribune.)

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 10.—Representatives of Spain, Switzerland, Holland, Denmark, and Norway are going to meet Swedish delegates in Stockholm for a conference on war and peace at Sweden's invitation. Some acceptances already have been received, it is reported. It is certain Norway has accepted.

The invitation for the parley was issued at the instance of King Gustav and the picked representatives will meet here with the ministers of the six remaining neutral countries in Europe. Such a conference was planned once before, but it fell through. Now the parley seems absolutely certain.

To Take Steps to Avoid War.

The scope of the contemplated conference will be far greater than a discussion of food and shipping difficulties. The delegates will endeavor to formulate measures by which the six countries expect to gain a voice in the peace conference between the belligerents whenever it shall come.

An American diplomat assures THE TRIBUNE that the food and shipping phase will be merely incidental to the main topic of discussion.

The representatives of the six neutral governments also will discuss measures which will prevent their countries being, by any pretext or maneuver, dragged into the war. A proposal of this subject for discussion was included in Sweden's invitation.

"End of War" Measure.

"In short," THE TRIBUNE's informant said, "the six governments propose to organize nothing less than a peace league for mutual protection. It is an 'end of the war' measure."

Among the detailed subjects scheduled for discussion is "the difficult food and commercial situation created for European neutrals by America's entrance into the war."

The American legation now is in conference with the Swedish foreign office on the subject.

LYONS MAYOR PROMISES TO PUT ON SUNDAY LID

Bob Parchman, mayor and one of the recalcitrant grog shop keepers of Lyons, yesterday observed the handwriting on the wall. It proved legible even to Parchman, who continued to sell liquor on Sunday after receiving State's Attorney Hoyne's closing ultimatum.

In answer to a summons Parchman and other Lyons officials appeared at the office of Assistant State's Attorney Charles Center Case Jr. Parchman had a chip on his shoulder, so to speak—a chip that Case knocked off, remarking: "If any of you men think this Sunday closing proposition is bluff, let's see you call it."

At this Parchman lowered his lance and became quite humble. He said the board would have another meeting soon and indicated they'd play safe, observe the law and insure a tight lid for Lyons. Considering that this is one of the wettest bailiwicks in Cook county Parchman's change of heart will probably have a wholesome effect on other wet spots in the county. Cicero, another wet town, is going to shut up her liquor tomorrow, according to assurances given Mr. Case.

FEDERAL PROBE IN RACE RIOTS DRAWS NEARER

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—A congressional investigation of the East St. Louis race riots moved a step nearer realization today when the senate committee on contingent expenses ordered a favorable report on the Sherman concurrent resolution providing for a joint committee of the senate and house to conduct an inquiry.

It is probable that the resolutions will be considered and adopted by the senate when it meets tomorrow.

Santa Fe Raises Wages of 18,000 Voluntarily

In order to assist in meeting the continually rising cost of living and partly in recognition of their willing response to the plea for increased energy and efficiency, the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé railway has announced increases in the wages of 18,000 of its employés. The advance will average from 11 to 15 per cent and will add approximately $2,500,000 to the pay roll of the company. The increase will become effective Sept. 1.

U. S. AMBULANCE MEN BARRED IN AVIATION CORPS

Held "Deserters" if They Join Air Service on French Front.

BY FLOYD GIBBONS.
(Special Cable to The Tribune.)

PARIS, Aug. 10.—A complex situation, equally as embarrassing as it is discouraging, has arisen among American official and semi-official circles here. It concerns the eagerness of numerous members of the American ambulance field service to resign from that voluntary organization and enroll themselves under their own flag with the United States army aviation corps in France. Numerous ambulance men told me of their patriotic ambitions, and officers of the United States air service in France have assured me these ambulance men not only are acceptable but are wanted for the American air service.

Opposed to Shift in Service.

With this status clearly defined, I interviewed A. Piatt Andrew, head of the American field service, and asked for an avowal of his attitude on the desired transfers.

Mr. Andrew told me he was opposed to the release of American ambulance drivers to enter the United States aviation corps. He said his opposition was based on the fact that the men had signed their names to engagements to serve six months in the ambulance corps and were under moral obligation to live up to that contract.

"But if these men decide to leave your ambulance sections and enter the service of their own country, is there anything you can do about it?" I asked.

Recruited for French Army.

"Yes," Mr. Andrew replied. "We will accredit them with dishonorable discharges, and their names will be published as such in the history of the ambulance corps. Moreover, they also will be characterized as deserters, because as a matter of fact they are really signed over to the French army."

"Is it a fact, then, that the American ambulance corps, in registering these men back in America, really was acting as a recruiting agency for the French army?" I asked.

"That's what it amounts to," Mr. Andrew replied. "Two of our men already have left. I refuse to indorse the applications of any others who have enlisted since the United States' entry into the war, or who have not served at least four months in the ambulance corps."

Deaf to All Appeals.

An officer of the United States aviation corps, familiar with the circumstances, told me that he had appealed to Mr. Andrew to release honorably men for American service but that Mr. Andrew had declared that he did not want to detract from the organization he had built up and for which he had received the thanks of the French government.

When I asked Mr. Andrew if this report was true he reiterated it and added that he did not see why the United States aviation corps could not recruit its own men in the United Staes instead of taking Americans engaged in other service over here.

The United States army headquarters is buzzing with conversation over the situation, and the more ambulance men discuss the attitude of their chief the stronger becomes their declaration to risk Andrew's charges of "deserter" and join the aviation service anyway.

WILL RUN CARS IN KANSAS CITY, OFFICIAL SAYS

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 10.—Street cars in Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kas., idle since Wednesday afternoon because of a strike of conductors, motormen, and shopmen, will be running "very shortly," according to an official of the Kansas City Railways company tonight.

"Do you mean that the men now out on strike will return to their work?" the official was asked.

"If the men don't return we will get others," was the reply.

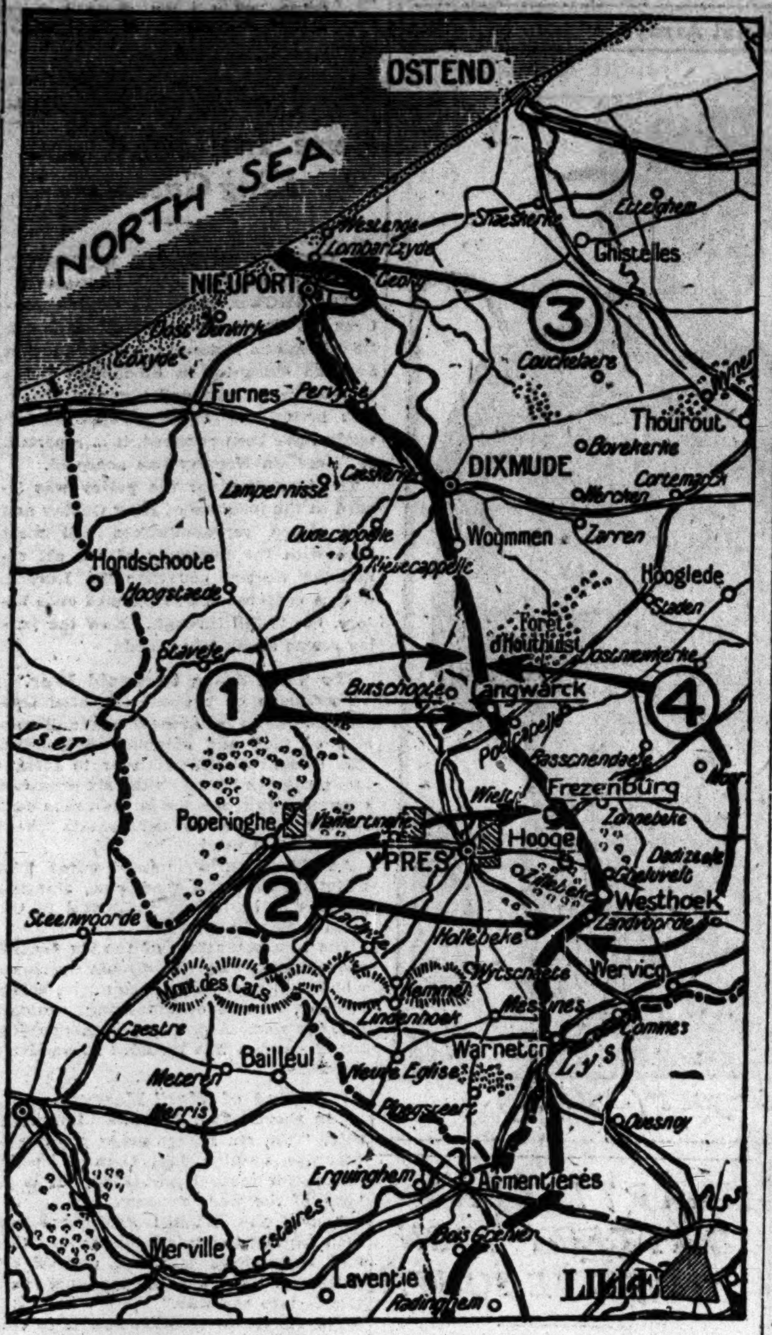
WAR ACTIONS ON VARIOUS FRONTS OFFICIALLY TOLD

French and British Keep Up Their Gains in Flanders.

SMASH IN WEST ON AGAIN



1—Paris reports advance of French and capture of several farms east of Bixschoote. West of Langwarck a number of machine guns were taken.

2—Field Marshal Haig reports capture of virtually all of the German forward positions east of Hooge on the front between Frezenburg and the Ypres-Menin road. London reports British complete capture of the village of Westhoek and secure the remaining German positions on the high ground known as Westhoek ridge.

3—Berlin reports violent artillery duel in Flanders, particularly along the coast.

4—Berlin reports intense firing by artillery from Bixschoote to Hollebeke and the repulse of a British detachment near Hooge.

FRENCH FRONT

BRITISH.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Our attack this morning east of Ypres was delivered on a front of nearly two miles south of the Ypres-Roulers railway. On the right wing of the attack heavy fighting occurred for the high ground astride of the Ypres-Menin road. Some progress was made by our troops in this area, and the fighting continues.

In the center and on the left our attack, after overcoming the enemy's resistance, resulted in our gaining the whole of our objectives. In addition to Westhoeke and Westhoeke ridge, which are now completely in our hands, our troops established themselves in Glencorse wood. In the fierce fighting that occurred heavy casualties were inflicted on the enemy. We took 240 prisoners.

In addition to the foregoing number of prisoners, we captured in successful raids last night east of Monchy-le-Preux eighty-six of the enemy.

The enemy raided one of our posts southeast of Guenappe and two of our men are missing. Another hostile raiding party was repulsed northeast of Gouzeaucourt.

AVIATION.

There was great activity in the air yesterday, but strong westerly winds and thick clouds made it difficult for our airplanes to engage the enemy's machines. We successfully carried on our bombing and artillery observation work during the day.

In the air fighting five German machines were brought down and five others driven down out of control. In addition, two German observation balloons were brought down in flames and four others were driven down badly damaged.

DAY STATEMENT.

In the course of a successful local attack delivered early this morning east of Ypres our troops completed the capture of the village of Westhoek and secured the remaining positions held by the enemy on the high ground known as Westhoek ridge.

On the left flank of the battlefront our allies continue to make progress east and north of Bixschoote.

Our raiding parties entered the enemy's position yesterday evening on a wide front east of Monchy-le-Preux, blew in his dugouts, and did great damage to his defenses.

The enemy offered considerable resistance at several points and severe casualties were inflicted on his troops during the period when our troops were still in occupation of the German front system.

A hostile counter attack was stopped by our machine gun fire. We captured two machine guns and a number of prisoners.

FRENCH.

PARIS, Aug. 10.—To the north of St. Quentin both artilleries displayed continued activity. In the region of Fayet at 3 o'clock this afternoon two enemy attacks between the Menechet hill and the Cepy farm were stopped by our fire.

Violent artillery fighting took place on the front of the Pantheon and Epine de Chevregny. The enemy after his bloody defeat this morning made no new attempts. Prisoners declare the attack had been prepared most carefully with the object of retaking the trenches captured by us on July 30.

Besides the three battalions already mentioned, the troops used by the enemy included nine detachments of special storming troops and two detachments of flame throwers. We made in the course of this action more than 100 prisoners.

In Champagne the Germans attacked our trenches to the east of Maisons de Champagne. On the two wings all the attacks broke down under our fire. In the center, where the assailants had been able to gain a footing, very spirited fighting took place, which ended to our advantage. Our line is reëstablished in its entirety.

On both banks of the Meuse violent artillery actions took place in the region of Hill 304, Le Mort Homme, and on the Bezonvaux sector.

DAY STATEMENT.

In Belgium we continued to advance during the night. Our troops occupied several farms east of Bixschoote and west of Langwarck, and we captured a number of machine guns.

North of St. Quentin the Germans attacked in the region of Fayet on a front of about one mile. The attack was broken by our trench fire with losses except at the center, where detachments of the enemy gained a foothold at weak points in our advanced trench elements.

North of the Aisne the night was marked by a recrudescence of bombardment in the entire region south of Allemant and Filain.

About 4 o'clock the enemy violently attacked our positions from the Pantheon farm as far as Epine des Chevregny. Troops estimated to number three battalions and supported by shock troops attempted several assaults upon our lines. Upon the greater part of the front attacked, our precise fire stopped our adversaries, who sustained heavy losses.

Some enemy detachments which succeeded in penetrating our trenches were either killed or captured after hand to hand fighting, in which our soldiers displayed the most admirable spirit. We maintained all our positions and took sixty-nine prisoners.

Other German attacks, notably south of Ailles, southeast of Chevreaux, in the region of Vauquois, towards Avocourt and northwest of Flirey, were likewise checked by our fire. The enemy abandoned prisoners and suffered important losses.

BELGIAN.

PARIS, Aug. 10.—During the day of the 9th and the following night the German artillery was especially active in the region of Ramscapelle. On the evening of the 9th our artillery brought down a German airplane. Today we carried out numerous artillery bombardments with a view to destroying or neutralizing enemy batteries or to find their range.

GERMAN.

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—Front of Crown Prince Rupprecht—During variable sighting conditions in Flanders yesterday the fighting activity of the artillery fluctuated in intensity. Between the Yser and the Lys the activity generally increased during the evening, continued throughout the night, and grew further in intensity during the early hours this morning until it attained the violence of most intense drum fire. Thereupon strong enemy infantry attacks were launched over wide sectors east and southeast of Ypres.

In Artois the artillery activity on both sides of Lens and to the south of the Scarpe was very lively.

During the evening the English, in deep masses, attacked from the Monchy-Pelves road as far as the Arras-Cambrai road. Our destructive fire fell with overpowering effect at the points where they had assembled. The advancing storming waves, which suffered most severe losses under our defensive fire and in hand-to-hand fighting with our experienced regiments, were everywhere repulsed.

North of St. Quentin Brandenburg battalions wrested from the French some lines of trenches over a width of 1,200 meters. Enemy counter attacks failed. More than 150 prisoners remained in our hands.

Front of the German crown prince—Between Soissons and Reims, in Champagne, and on both banks of the Meuse the firing attained considerable intensity from time to time. A French reconnoitering detachment which penetrated into our trenches on the Laon-Soissons road was ejected by means of a counter attack.

East of the Meuse our Baden thrusting troops forced their way into a French position north of Vacherauville and brought back a number of prisoners. Lieut. Gonterman shot down two enemy captive balloons.

RUSSO-ROUMANIAN FRONT

GERMAN.

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—Front of Prince Leopold of Bavaria—There has been a revival of the fighting activity near Dvinsk, south of Smorgon, and near Brody. Near the latter town an enterprise undertaken by German and Austro-Hungarian troops resulted in the capture of more than 200 prisoners.

Front of Archduke Joseph—Southeast of Czernowitz (Bukowina) stubborn fighting has taken place. Our troops penetrated at several points into the frontier positions of the Russians. Also on the Sereth plain and at Solka advantages were gained following the repulse of enemy counter attacks.

Between the Trotus and Putna valleys the allies (Teutonic) took by storm several height positions in spite of tenacious resistance by the Roumanians.

In the Oituz sector in the last two days more than 1,600 prisoners have been captured and thirty machine guns taken.

Front of Field Marshal von Mackensen—On both sides of the Fokshani-Adjudulnou railway line German divisions have forced a crossing over the Suchitza river on a wide front.

During bitter counter attacks the enemy endeavored to hinder our advance by the use of strong masses. All their attacks directed against our front and flank failed under the heaviest losses.

DAY STATEMENT.

Army of Prince Leopold—There were no events of special importance.

Army of Archduke Joseph—There were successful fighting operations in the wooded Carpathians and in the frontier mountains of western Moldavia. We advanced our lines in some sectors and repulsed strong enemy counter attacks.

Army of Field Marshal von Mackensen: The situation is developing favorably. The Russians and Roumanians in execution of mass attacks sent forward strong forces into fire with the object of wresting from our troops large territorial gains won by them yesterday north of Fokshani. All attacks were repulsed.

The enemy suffered heavy, sanguinary losses. The number of prisoners increased to fifty officers, 3,300 men, and the booty to seventeen guns and more than fifty machine guns and mine throwers.

ROUMANIAN.

JASSY, Aug. 10.—In the Trotus valley enemy attacks were repulsed and in counter attacks Russian troops, who maintain all their positions, forced the enemy to flee in disorder after taking prisoners and machine guns.

Between the Trotus and Putna valleys Roumanian troops gallantly withstood a violent artillery bombardment with attacks accompanied by asphyxiating gas. They completely repulsed the enemy in five attacks except at a single point in the Oituz valley.

On the Putna and Sereth rivers Russo-Roumanian troops, attacked many times by superior numbers of the enemy, inflicted heavy losses and maintained all their positions.

ITALIAN FRONT

ITALIAN.

ROME, Aug. 10.—Along the whole front yesterday the fighting was somewhat brisk. Two attacks were attempted by the enemy yesterday at dawn on our positions in the Coalba valley, at Brenta, and north of Caterina in the Goritz sector. The attacks broke up under our fire. The enemy storming parties were almost annihilated and the survivors, amounting to about twenty men, were made prisoner by our patrols, which had pushed forward in pursuit.

AVIATION.

On Wednesday night several large flights of our bombing planes renewed their attack on the military establishment of Pola. Favored by good light, our airmen effectively bombarded the arsenal and the enemy's fleet at anchor. Our bombing planes dropped eight tons of high explosives on their objectives.

They then escaped from a heavy anti-aircraft fire and repulsed the enemy seaplanes which arose to oppose them. All of our machines returned safely to their bases.

MACEDONIAN FRONT

FRENCH.

PARIS, Aug. 10.—After strong artillery preparation an enemy battalion attacked at 8 o'clock p. m. the positions occupied by the Franco-Hellenic troops in the region of Huma, but was repulsed. Feeble activity prevailed all along the front on the 9th instant.

GERMAN.

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—There is nothing special to report.

SUPPLEMENTARY

GERMAN.

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—On the western front strong attacks delivered by the English this morning in Flanders, between the Ypres-Roulers railway and Hollebeke, failed.

On the eastern front in the Casinu and Oituz valleys and in western Moldavia our troops are progressing successfully.

CHOOSING THE SCHOOL

Evening Training in Business

People employed in business in Chicago and vicinity have had an opportunity to gain a university training in business by evening study since the Northwestern University School of Commerce was founded in 1908. The School was founded in the belief that business, being a science and a profession, could be taught under university direction by trained and experienced instructors. The work has been offered in the evening so that those people who, for one reason or another, could not afford to give up their daily occupation for advanced study would find it possible to further their education by evening work. Employers are interested in men who are willing to devote their time and energy and also a part of their salary in order to learn more about the work in which they are engaged. They realize that such men have the proper incentive and that the chances are that these men will make a success in their organization.

The Importance of Training This Year

The demand for trained help will be greater this year than ever before. This will be due to the withdrawal of men from business for national service. Other men and women will be needed to take their place, and in order to do so must be trained to assume new duties and responsibilities. All of those people who for one reason or another will not be called for military service should see to it that they are equipped to meet this demand. The Northwestern University School of Commerce is organized to help men and women to equip themselves for the many demands of business. Since it was founded 5,000 people have availed themselves of its evening training, and last year there were 1,075 enrolled. These facts alone would indicate that the school has answered a need in the community. The classes of people in business who are benefited by the school are many. The following statistics will readily point out these classes. Seven men received salaries ranging from $3,600 to $5,400 a year; the yearly income of 28 of the students was $2,400 to $3,000 a year; 59 received $1,800 to $2,400; 136 received $1,300 to $1,800; in the $1,200 to $1,300 class there were 105; 83 received $1,080 to $1,200; 123 received $960 to $1,080; from $840 to $940 per year was the income of 143; under the $840 mark there were some 175, and of these a number were working only part of the time.

Courses Appealing to All Interests

Courses are offered in practically every phase of business. They include such subjects as Accounting, Business Psychology, Banking, Commercial and Business Organization, Business English, Efficiency Engineering, Business Economics, Cost Accounting, Foreign Trade, Commercial Geography, Business Law, Investments, Sales Correspondence, Statistics, et cetera. The Northwestern University Building, located in the loop, is accessible from all parts of the city. If you are at all interested in learning more about real business you should take it upon yourself to look up the source of information to which you can go.

Come—Call—or Write for New Bulletin

The new bulletin, descriptive of the School of Commerce, its scope and work, will be sent in response to mail inquiry. If you prefer, call in person at The University Building, Lake and Dearborn Streets, Room 412, or telephone Randolph 4377. Local 12.

INSURANCE FOR U. S. FIGHTERS NEXT WAR STEP

Congress Gets Measure Providing for Aid for Dependents.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—The administration's program for insuring soldiers, sailors, and marines was placed before congress today in identical bills introduced by Senator Simmons and Representative Alexander. Committee hearings will be held soon and the measure probably will be taken up in the senate and house as soon as the war tax bill has been disposed of.

In its general features the insurance program varies but little from previously announced outlines, the chief innovation being the proposal to compel men and officers to allot a minimum of $15 a month out of their pay to dependent wives and children. The bill proposes to vest in the war and navy departments authority to compel such payments.

Authority also is proposed to compel the men to be insured to deposit, at 4 per cent interest, with the government and at the discretion of the war and navy departments so much of their pay as is represented by the difference between the $15 family allotment and half their regular pay.

Allowances to Families.

Provision is made for the payment of government allowances to families of men in the nation's armed forces, varying between $5 and $50 monthly, according to the circumstances of the dependents, and would be in addition to the sum allotted under the compulsory allotment feature of the bill.

Indemnities for partial and total disability would vary from a minimum of $40 a month for privates up to $200 for higher officers. The education of injured men in vocations by which they could earn a livelihood also is provided for.

Life Insurance Provided For.

Under the terms of the bill soldiers, sailors, and marines would be enabled to obtain insurance on their lives during the war in sums from $1,000 to $10,000, the government taking the risk and the men paying the premiums. The rate would be approximately $8 per $1,000 of insurance and the premiums would be payable by installments out of pay.

The cost to the government, as estimated by Secretary McAdoo, would approximate the following:

	First year.	Second year.
Family allow'ces	$141,000,000	$190,000,000
Death indemnities	3,700,000	22,000,000
Compensation for total disability	5,250,000	35,000,000
Compensation for partial disabi'ty	3,200,000	21,000,000
Insurance against death and disability	23,000,000	112,500,000
Totals	$176,150,000	$380,500,000

How Indemnities Are Planned.

The total for the two years is thus placed at $556,650,000, which Mr. McAdoo estimates at less than 6 per cent of the cost to the country of conducting the war. The bill provides no method of obtaining this sum and a bond issue to cover it may be determined upon later.

In its general features the bill was approved by the advisory committee of insurance representatives summoned by Secretary McAdoo to Washington July 2.

The bill does not attempt to cover the methods to be pursued in reëducating and rehabilitating injured men. Two principles, however, are recognized: The man's obligation to avail himself of such opportunities as the government may provide under penalty of loss of compensation during "any period of unreasonable refusal," and a man's right to disability compensation regardless of his individual economic recuperation. The amount of indemnities paid in cases of partial disability, however, would vary from time to time, according to the altered circumstances of the man insured.

Compensation to Meet Needs.

"Assume that a man were totally disabled by losing both legs and both arms in battle," Mr. McAdoo wrote the president by way of illustration. "Under the compensation provisions of this bill, if he were a private and unmarried, he would receive $40 per month, and if, as most probable, he needed a nurse or attendant, up to $20 additional.

"If he had a widowed mother dependent on him for support he would get another $10. If he subsequently married his compensation would be increased at once by $15. If, later on, he had children, the compensation would again be increased $10 a month for each of the first two children, a possible maximum of $105 a month.

"In addition to this monthly payment he would be fitted with artificial limbs and have treatment. His compensation or pension would not be affected by any increased earnings."

When disability results in death dependents would receive from $15 to $60 a month, the sum again being rated according to the circumstances of the dependents. This feature of the program is regardless of the insurance which the man or officer may take if he wishes, paying the premium therefor himself.

RIGID U. S. TEST FOR ATTORNEYS IF THEY WANT JOBS

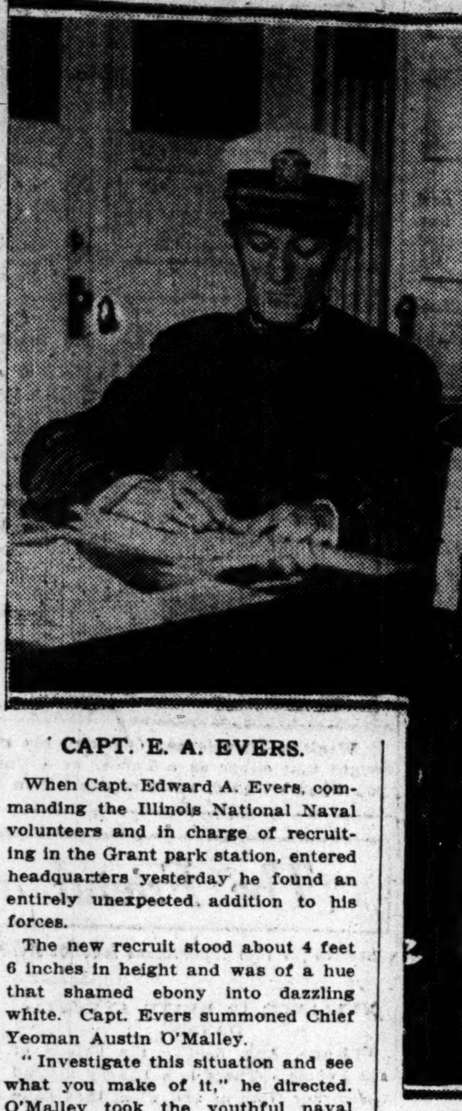
Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—The department of justice, dissatisfied with the results of some of the recent government suits against speculators in food and coal operators and of "big business," has determined on a new procedure in the selection of the assistants to the United States district attorneys in some of the big centers of the country, it was stated here today.

Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, and Cincinnati were named as the first large offices which would be affected. Hereafter all the attorneys appointed as assistants to the district attorneys must submit to a most rigid examination to determine their fitness and to learn, if possible, whether they are in any way susceptible to influences which might be interested in cases which they will be engaged upon.

It was said, too, that the men who are already holding these positions will be put through a similar examination.

A NEW NAVAL GRADE

Roscoe Richmond, 15, "of Memphis, Sir," Is Made Official Brass Polisher of Illinois National Naval Volunteers.



CAPT. E. A. EVERS.

Roscoe Richmond—"Midnight."

When Capt. Edward A. Evers, commanding the Illinois National Naval volunteers and in charge of recruiting in the Grant park station, entered headquarters yesterday he found an entirely unexpected addition to his forces.

The new recruit stood about 4 feet 6 inches in height and was of a hue that shamed ebony into dazzling white. Capt. Evers summoned Chief Yeoman Austin O'Malley.

"Investigate this situation and see what you make of it," he directed. O'Malley took the youthful naval prodigy outside and perceived that he was at once recognized with a perfect, smart, and leg slapping salute.

"What is your name?" asked O'Malley.

"Roscoe Richmond, sir."

"Where from?"

"Memphis, sir."

"Age?"

"Fifteen, sir."

"What is your grade?"

"I'm the official brass polisher, sir."

O'Malley reported to Capt. Evers. "He says he's the official brass polisher of the United States navy, sir."

"Well," said the captain, "I never knew that grade existed in the navy, but perhaps I've overlooked the recent regulations. Richmond!"

"Yes, sir."

"Go to detention and get a uniform and consider yourself the official brass polisher." Official Brass Polisher Roscoe Richmond, 15 years old, saluted smartly and marched away.

"I wish we had a lot of young men of 21 and over with the pep that young fellow has," said Capt. Evers. "We can use all the young men who come to us."

KOHL MILLIONS SAFE, REPLY TO WASTE CHARGE

George A. Trude, attorney for Mrs. Caroline Lewis Kohl, who in a bill for accounting filed yesterday is charged with "foolishly wasting" the estate of Charles E. Kohl, theater owner, who died Nov. 12, 1910, last night asserted every charge made reflecting on the management of the estate was absolutely untrue.

The bill for accounting, filed by John Peter Kohl, son of Mrs. Kohl and brother of Charles E. Kohl Jr., who died May 28 at Oconomowoc, Wis., asserts his mother has been speculating in stocks and has squandered in "foolish investments" $200,000 of the Kohl estate.

It also is charged Mrs. Kohl has concealed between $700,000 and $800,000 belonging to the estate. It is asked that the Central Trust company be appointed trustee of the money, which is declared to be "rapidly dwindling away."

Further charges are that $620,000 of railroad and municipal bonds have not been listed with the estate and that $500,000 worth of Monroe Theater corporation stock has been recorded as "value unknown."

Mr. Kohl also declares his mother claims as her own $270,000 in bonds and cash found in deposits in a box in the joint names of Caroline E. Kohl and Charles E. Kohl Jr. The bill also charges Mrs. Kohl has purchased the furniture store of Strauss & Schramm with money belonging to the estate.

The will of Charles E. Kohl leaves the estate to the use of the widow until her death, when it is to be divided among the four children, Charles E. Jr., John Peter, Caroline E., and Dorothy Kohl.

"Mrs. Kohl has not squandered a bit of the money," asserted Mr. Trude.

DEPORTATION OF 50-50 PERSONS URGED BY T. R.

New York, Aug. 10.—Denouncing some senators, congressmen, and newspaper editors as "standing where the copperheads stood in the civil war," Col. Roosevelt today demanded suppression of the German language press, deportation of "fifty-fifty Americans," and called upon every man, woman, and child in the country to exert every ounce of energy to win the war.

When asked concerning statements attributed to him by Dr. Kuno Meyer, Berlin professor, in Amsterdam dispatches, Roosevelt said Meyer was guilty of "gross impropriety" in quoting him concerning compensation and indemnities a victorious Germany might collect.

"Mr. Meyer's statement is substantially correct, with this exception," Col. Roosevelt said. "I did not say the Austro-German victory would entitle them to compensation or indemnities, or to form a mid-European federation under Germany's agency. What I said was that if Germany was victorious she would undoubtedly exact the utmost limits of compensation and indemnity it could wring from all her adversaries, including the United States, and I added that Germany would take them from the United States whether we went to war or not. Mr. Meyer and his wife called on me in May, 1916."

STATE FINDS NEW CLEWS TO DEATH OF PHONE GIRL

Aged Neighbor Said to Have Revealed Facts.

New evidence bearing upon the death of Leona Coht, the 20 year old telephone operator found shot through the heart at her home in West Chicago recently, caused a second continuance of the inquest yesterday until next Thursday.

"Evidence has been developed in the last few days," said State's Attorney Charles H. Hadley of Du Page county, who assisted Coroner Adolph Hopft at the inquest, "which is of such a serious nature that I think it should be carefully investigated before being presented."

Mr. Hadley refused to discuss the new evidence which was unearthed by Chief of Police George Rheim. It is said, however, to be the testimony of Mrs. Jennie Trull, 75 years old, who owns the house in which dwell Mr. and Mrs. John S. Schnickter, the stepfather and the mother of Miss Coht, and who lives across a hall from them. Miss Coht, after Schnickter had struck her in the face on the night of her death, ran into Mrs. Trull's home.

"Save me," she cried, according to Mrs. Trull. "They are trying to kill me. My mother wants my money and has threatened to kill me time and again. I am afraid they will kill me tonight."

"Mrs. Schnickter came and took Leona home," said Mrs. Trull. "I was a fool to let the girl go. I have kept her in my house several nights after she had quarreled with the Schnickters."

Mrs. Trull said that a few weeks before Miss Coht's death Mrs. Schnickter had advised her to send away her daughter, Mrs. Clara Kneed.

"You have a lot of money hidden about your house," Mrs. Schnickter is alleged to have said, "and I will take care of you."

LIVE STOCK MEN ASK EXEMPTION FOR BEEF RAISERS

At a meeting of representative commission men, members of the Chicago Live Stock exchange, held at the stockyards yesterday resolutions were adopted, objecting to the tightening of the draft exemption rules by Gen. Crowder, especially to the rule providing that where a man has supported his dependents by his own labor on land which he owns, and the board finds that the land could be rented to advantage so as to continue the support for the wife, derived from the rental, that exemption for the man be denied.

It was pointed out that no man would be willing to invest the money necessary to stock his land if he were likely to be drafted and the raising of the stock left to others. This would interfere with the production of live stock and farm products, the commission men contend.

Telegrams, sent in behalf of the Chicago Live Stock exchange, were sent to President Wilson, Herbert Hoover, Gen. Crowder, and Secretary Baker, and signed by E. C. Brown, president of the exchange.

"Bill to Con" Letters to Be Published by the Allies

ATHENS, Aug. 9.—[Delayed.]—It is announced that the government intends to publish certain important private correspondence that passed between the German emperor and former King Constantine. It is reported that the correspondence was seized after telegraphic communication between Athens and Berlin and Vienna had been stopped by the entente powers.

Conspiracy Case Postponed.

Judge Landis yesterday granted a postponement of the case of Gustav H. Jacobsen, Albert Wehde and others charged with conspiracy to foment a revolution in India, on account of the absence from Chicago of William S. Forrest, an attorney for the defense. Forrest went east to see his son, who has enlisted, and this the judge held a good excuse for absence.

MANY PLEADERS FOR EXEMPTION MEET REFUSAL

Some Boards Even Pass Men Previously Rejected.

The lid went down on exemptions in Chicago yesterday with a bang. Washington was taken at its word, and when the local boards began to revise their records scores of men who had hopes of being discharged were certified to the appeal boards as accepted. Their claims for rejection had been cast aside.

Another district board hastily resummoned men who had been granted exemption for minor physical defects and certified the whole batch to the appeal boards as accepted.

This tightening of the rules followed the throwing into the local field of a number of agents of the department of justice to make a thorough investigation of cases of exemption.

43 Once Rejected Pass.

Action by the Sixty-sixth district board, 2603 Milwaukee avenue, caused a sensation in that territory. Forty-three men who had been rejected for minor defects were recalled, reëxamined, and certified as fit.

This action was taken immediately after receiving the new instructions from Gen. Crowder.

The physical defects of the men are such that they can be remedied with a little skillful surgery or exercise.

The Fourth district board, of which the Rev. J. P. Brushingham is a member, also "hewed to the line." Of 103 claims for exemption the board allowed sixty and turned down forty-three.

In the Fiftieth district, 2800 North Clark street, thirty-seven men who filed claims for exemption were turned down and they were passed on up to the appeal boards as capable and fit for military service.

Appeal Boards Prepare.

With this belated tightening up of the regulations the three district appeal boards yesterday began shaping their program so as to be ready to start the certification of accepted men to the provost marshal next Monday.

The Seventy-seventh district already has forwarded a list of men for the appeal boards, and other district boards are ready to begin their reports to the higher boards at once.

Assistant State's Attorney James C. O'Brien was designated yesterday by the state's attorney's office to represent the government in the hearing of all appeals in the country districts of Cook county. The assignment was made at the request of Adjt. Gen. Dickson.

Clerks Volunteer.

Responses to Maj. B. M. Chiperfield's call for volunteers from the clerical forces of large business firms came in great number late in the day, making it certain that an army of experienced clerks will be at the call of the various local boards in speeding up their work from now on.

The Seventieth district board yesterday reached its full quota of 276 accepted men yesterday afternoon. The board claims to be the first to finish completely the examination work for the quota of fighting men required. Other boards have certified practically full quotas, but with a few odds and ends to clean up.

Maj. Chiperfield made it plain that examinations must be out of the way by next Saturday.

He sent out a general order to several boards that are lagging behind that one week from today was the "dead line" and that the government expected every board in Chicago and Cook county to be ready on that day to make a full report to the appeal boards of the disposition of the work assigned to them.

Prompt Action Taken.

One report that reached the major yesterday was that a man in the Eleventh district has been coaching aliens on how to secure exemptions and has been charging them 75 cents each for acknowledgments of affidavits.

"What can be done in this case?" the major was asked.

"I'll show you," he replied quickly. He summoned a clerk. "Here," he said, "see that this report is placed in Mr. Clabaugh's hands immediately. What's the next case?"

Then came another kind of case that caused Maj. Chiperfield to throw out his chest and remark:

"Here's the kind of a citizen that makes us a great nation."

The gentleman referred to was James E. Taylor, 60 years old. He has been a bookkeeper in the retail store of Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co. for twenty-five years.

Mr. Taylor was to have started on his vacation next Monday. He read in THE TRIBUNE Maj. Chiperfield's appeal for clerical help for the exemption boards. He communicated his purpose to cut out the vacation and do his bit.

He'll Do His Bit.

"I am a little past the draft age," he said, "and I have two sons in the navy, but here is where I will try and do my bit."

"There is a man who is an honor and a credit to our country and I am proud of him," said the major."

Mr. Taylor lives at 1504 East Fifty-seventh street.

Maj. Chiperfield also put the Salvation Army folk high on the roll of honor. Several of the commissioned officers, who are automatically exempt, informed him that they would go into the war service wherever they could aid, particularly in the war zone, where they will operate ambulance service, establish libraries, erect Salvation Army hotels and sleeping quarters, render aid to the wounded, and so forth.

None of the rank and file, he was informed, will claim exemption.

She Didn't Raise Her Boy to Be a Slacker

"I hope you find my boy, for I don't want him to be a slacker," wrote Mrs. Mathilda Peterson, 245 West One Hundred and Eleventh street, to the Twenty-first exemption board yesterday. Alfred W. Peterson, the son, had been notified to appear for examinatin and had not responded. A letter to his mother brought the explanation that he had left home last Friday and had not been seen since.

BRITISH LABOR TO SEND ENVOYS ON PEACE HUNT

Vote 2 to 1 to Enter the Stockholm Parley; State Demands.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—The conference of the British Labor party held at Westminster today voted a resolution to send delegates to the Stockholm consultative conference. The vote was 1,046,000 to 550,000.

The conference was in an uproar which ended only when the result of the card vote was announced.

The resolution which embodied the proposal to send delegates to Stockholm contained a strong indorsement of the demand for the reparation and restoration of Belgium and other invaded countries, a declaration in favor of the right of individual people to settle their own destinies, liberation of oppressed people from Turkish misgovernment, and the demand for the establishment of a league of nations for the maintenance of peace and the elimination of war from the world.

May Block Delegates.

The resolution was carried after an amendment by the dock workers opposing it had been defeated by a vote of 391,000 to 1,651,000. When the vote on the resolution was announced a delegate shouted that no matter what the convention did the Firemen and Seamen's union would see to it that the delegates would never reach Stockholm. This union might prevent the delegates from sailing by refusing to man ships.

G. N. Barns, minister of pensions, spoke in favor of the dock workers' attitude against attending a conference at which delegates from enemy countries would be present, saying that the United States, Belgium, France, and Italy were not sending delegates, and that if delegates from Great Britain were sent they would be negotiating with Russians, Germans, Dutch, and Scandinavians. He added that the difference between a mandatory and a consultative conference was small, and that the British delegates would be in the same position whatever its final character.

George Henry Roberts, labor member of parliament for Norwich, made a strong speech against delegates going to Stockholm. If the men in the labor movement were unable to agree among themselves, he said, they would only carry their confusion and disagreements into other countries and create further misunderstanding.

Change in Attitude.

The decision of the laborites to send representatives to Stockholm is a reversal of the policy to which the party committed itself at its recent convention. The changed attitude was due to an alteration of the plans of the socialists by which the conference will be merely a consultative gathering for the presentation of the views of the different sections, instead of one for framing peace terms or a platform of the international socialists on war questions.

Russian influence has been an important factor in the British decision. Arthur Henderson, minister without portfolio, returned from Petrograd convinced that British laborites should participate in the convention and British socialist correspondents at Petrograd have been sending cablegrams stating that it would be a mistake for the Russians to be left to confer with the Germans and neutrals and for the voice of the British workmen not to be heard.

Selected Army Men Ask Light System for Drilling

The selected young men of the Twenty-fifth ward around Wilson avenue want to drill before being called to the concentration camps for the national army so that they may qualify as noncommissioned officers. The University of Chicago military training department has offered the services of eight drillmasters for the men. The city has granted the use of the grounds around the Nicholas Senn High school. The only thing that is needed now is a lighting system. The system needed for drill will cost about $50. The men now appeal to some citizen to donate such a system. F. P. J. Kirshner of 904 Lakeside place is acting as spokesman for the men.

Recruit Officers Arrest Eager Saxophone Player

George Pridham of 114 Clinton street, Hammond, was so anxious to enlist as a bandsman that his actions excited the suspicion of the recruiting officer in Hammond to whom he applied. He said he was an expert saxophonist, just 20 years old. The recruiting officers looked up the public school records and say he is 22.

Pridham was turned over to federal officials and will be arraigned today in Hammond.

Four alleged slackers were held to the grand jury in Chicago yesterday.

TAKE CAMP RULE FROM U. S. HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—An order issued by the war department today strips from the commanding generals of the army departments all power over the administration of the cantonments and camps at which the million men of the national army and national guard will be trained and gives it to the divisional commanders.

While restricting the power of all department commanders, the blow will fall heaviest on Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, in whose department sixteen of the thirty-two camps are located.

Under this order the major generals commanding the divisions will deal directly with Washington and not with the department commanders.

This will take from Gen. Barry all supervision over the national army cantonments at Rockford, Ill.; Battle Creek, Mich.; Louisville, Ky.; Chillicothe, O.; Des Moines, Ia., and Fort Riley, Kas.

TAKE TURK YOKE OFF PALESTINE, SAYS POPE'S AID

Cardinal Tedeschini Asks "Peace of Justice"; Alsace to France.

New York, Aug. 10.—A cable message from Paris received by the official French bureau of information in this city and made public tonight indicates that Mgr. Frederico Tedeschini, who has been undersecretary of state of the Vatican, has succeeded Cardinal Gasparri as Pope Benedict's prime minister. Previous dispatches direct from Rome credited "many Italian newspapers and some authorities on Vatican affairs" as affirming that Cardinal Gasparri had resigned, partly because of ill health and partly because of the pope's desire to institute a new policy in relation to Germany.

The semi-official Vatican organ flatly denied, however, that the cardinal had retired. The message received by the bureau of information quotes the monsignor as declaring for "a peace of justice."

Desire Only Christian Peace.

It follows:

"In a conversation which Mgr. Frederico Tedeschini, new secretary of state of the Vatican, had with the Rome correspondent of the A. B. C., a Spanish newspaper, he made the following interesting declarations:

"'Only a Christian peace is desirable, because it will be a peace of justice. Some people have pretended that a Christian peace ought to be a white peace or a peace without result—that is, a peace bringing the world back to the status quo ante.

Take Yoke from Palestine.

"'This is not exact. We believe, on the contrary, that there are rights which justice must respect. We cannot believe, for instance, that Catholic Poland will revert to the same state as it was before the war. As Christians we cannot approve that Palestine should remain under the Turkish yoke.

"'We believe also that every one would be satisfied to see Alsace-Lorraine returned to France. We believe, finally, that if the Italian provinces now under Austrian domination should be attributed to Italy no Christian would oppose it, just as no Christian would declare himself opposed to the unification of Roumania in the east.'"

X-RAY FAILS TO SAVE ALDERMAN'S SON FROM DRAFT

A new wrinkle in the exemption line was introduced into the draft yesterday when Leroy H. Block, son of Ald. E. H. Block, appeared before the Twenty-first board with a set of X-ray photographs which he hoped would prove him physically unfit. He said his spine had been injured some time ago. His photos showed the condition of the vertebræ a year ago.

After putting him through a thorough examination, Dr. W. K. James pronounced him as good a physical specimen as he had seen all day.

Young Block made a strong protest, according to members of the board. He was then examined by Drs. T. E. Doyle, W. F. Curtis, and J. Hogge, all of whom pronounced him fit to serve.

GOV. LOWDEN'S OPPORTUNITY.

Gov. Lowden has a great opportunity to win the gratitude not only of Illinois coal consumers but of the entire community. The governor has successfully maneuvered for a strategic position, and the public is entitled to expect results.

The passage of the food and fuel bill should strengthen the governor's hands. That law, it is true, cannot primarily be invoked for intrastate price regulation, but it gives the government power to take over the mines—a power that can obviously be used as a club to keep down the price of coal anywhere. We presume that Gov. Lowden will not find it necessary to ask the federal government to intervene, but it is evident he can make his negotiations more effective with this card up his sleeve.

The price regulation of coal might be left entirely to the federal government were it not for the peculiar conditions prevailing in Illinois. Illinois is a great producing center, and a price that might be equitable in the east would be exorbitant here. It is Gov. Lowden's particular duty to look after the interests of Illinois, and it is his special opportunity to drive a fair and honest bargain for the citizens of this state. Illinois consumers have perhaps been subjected to greater imposition in the matter of coal prices than any other consumers in spite of the enormous coal resources of the state.

The federal government is preparing to move to protect the interests of the country at large. Meanwhile we have every right to expect that the governor will take action to put a stop to the extortion practiced by the coal operators in our own state. Some of the operators are reported to be on the verge of making a voluntary reduction in prices. It is to be hoped a majority are beginning to see the light. But if they continue in their blind, unscrupulous way the governor should denounce them for what they are and call on the United States government to administer effective punishment.

PEACE TALK.

Bernard Shaw has a reputation for seeing things upside down, but no one can see things upside down—professionally and as a fine art—without first seeing them right-side up, and that is the way he saw them when he said, the other day, "You can take it from me that if the Germans beat us in this war they will skin us alive."

Why not? They skinned France alive once and have not changed for the better since then, though they have developed a genius for periodical peace talk while a war is in progress, and there are those who begin to wonder if a victorious Germany is greatly to be feared. When the fellow with a knee on your chest and both hands gripping your throat keeps saying, "I'll let up on this any time you choose," it sounds fairly magnanimous. Every little while Germany says as much. Does Germany mean it?

Considering the style of the peace talk and considering the type of militarists from whom the peace talk proceeds, we doubt if it is intended to bring peace. No doubt the German people want peace, and very possibly there are German statesmen who want a German peace and want it now, but we guess the German military caste still cherishes the hope of beating us in this war and skinning us alive. As the militarists rule Germany, we suspect that peace talk is being employed at their behest as a psychological weapon.

They have not been content merely to fight this war on the battlefield. Their spies were at work, long before the war, sowing disloyalty and dissension in each of the countries marked for attack. When they aim at a neighbor's destruction they first undermine his morale. When fighting has begun they seek to deprave it still further by using the device known as frightfulness. As the war proceeds they employ peace talk at intervals for much the same purpose. There is always a chance that some faint-hearted, war-weary member of the alliance will be seduced into begging the rest to back down. There is always a certainty that the faint-hearted, war-weary faction within each of the allied countries will groan, "O, why not end it now and stop this needless slaughter?" That disintegrates morale. Of all known tricks for weakening the enemy, it is the safest, the easiest, and the cheapest.

Meanwhile, how it strengthens morale at home! The German people can be told, "Over and over again we have talked peace and our bloodthirsty foes won't listen. They not only forced this cruel war upon us at the outset, they have been habitually forcing it upon us ever since." That makes us monsters of iniquity in the Germans' eyes, quite naturally. It breeds a determination to see the thing through, win an overwhelming victory, and then skin us alive.

JUDICIAL NOMINATIONS.

Party conventions for the nomination of candidates for the Superior court and for a vacancy in the Circuit court will be held Oct. 1 and the judicial election will be held in November. Thirteen places are to be filled. The terms of ten Superior court judges expire, two additional will be elected, and the vacancy in the Circuit court made by the death of Judge Gibbons will be filled.

The ten sitting judges are Kavanagh, Barnes, McSurely, Foell, and Pam, Republicans, and Fitch, Goodwin, McKinley, Denis E. Sullivan, and David, Democrats. Judge Kavanagh has served eighteen years, Judge Barnes twelve years, Judge McSurely ten and one-half years, and the other two Republicans six years each.

Judge Fitch has served seven years, Judge David one and one-half years, and the other Democrats six years each. Thus all but one of the sitting judges has had years of experience and they are regarded as able.

It is a bad year for judicial elections. Public attention, which never centers strongly on a judicial election, is distracted and it is almost a political certainty that the party organizations will absolutely control the situation.

It is suggested and the organizations are understood to be willing to agree that the sitting judges shall be renominated, that none shall be opposed, and that there shall be an agrement as to the other three places. This will mean an election declared in advance, but it will insure the retention of ten sitting judges against whom there is no complaint, and we believe it will promote the interests of the bench.

In theory it is a bad thing to compromise the people's right of selection, but we know that the organizations and not the people will select this year, and we incline to accept what we have rather than take chances with a party organization contest—for this year at least.

THE NEW OFFICERS.

The new officers who have received their preliminary training and their commissions have gone through a hard task and have an increasingly harder one before them. They not only must complete their own education, but they must aid in the education of a great mass of men now without any military training.

The officer material which has been brought into shape was willing and industrious, brave and self-effacing. The exceptions do not even mar this verdict. They were too few and too inconspicuous.

These new officers represent the real fiber of the American nation. They are credits to the uniform they wear and the rank they are given. They have chosen the hard work and accepted the punishment which goes with it. Their uniform distinguishes them among civilians as the better lot.

A uniform ought so to distinguish the man who is prepared to make the final sacrifice from the man who, no matter what his will or what other work he may be engaged in, is not being called upon to face the chances of death.

There are young men, some of them men physically and financially able to meet any call of the country, who have evaded the actual performance of their work by a seeming undertaking of it. They also, in safe government pursuits, doing work which men of military inability might do, have been given rank and uniforms.

The unfairness of this is startling. Some of the young fellows who have earned commissions and are prepared to accept the ultimate chances may have to salute ranking officers who will never see anything more dangerous than the inside of a government office in Washington.

The uniform ought to mean that a man has been selected for real military service. Civilian pursuits, even for the advancement of war measures, hardly entitle the civilian to military respect.

IN THE ENEMY LANGUAGE.

The jailing of Dr. Fritz Bergmeier, editor of the Daily Volks-Zeitung of St. Paul, is an indication of the limits of American patience and not a revelation of American tyranny. It is seldom that a nation goes to war in so tolerant a mood as that of the United States. It necessarily regards Germany now as a disturber of the world's peace. Germany has made it necessary, in American opinion, for Americans to make sacrifices from which they have flinched for three years.

In spite of all their tolerance and in spite of all the patience with which they have submitted to compromising conditions, they find that they cannot avoid the red test and they are hardening themselves to stand it.

At this time they are not making the lives of Germans in the United States unhappy. Germans have been under watch, when cases indicated the necessity. Some have forced the authorities to deal with them. Many have been warned and given reasonable advice, but the United States is not herding its enemy aliens into internment camps and is not making their lives miserable.

It merely asks them to behave with consideration and with regard for their own position in a country now at war with their nation. In the other countries at war with the central powers of Europe no such tolerance is extended to the subjects of the enemy governments. We know that America has treated its enemy aliens not only with patience, but in kindness.

It is an imposition upon this good nature for German language papers to abuse the privileges they still retain. There was a time in Germany when it was unwise for an American to speak English in public. Some hothead would be upon him in an instant, insulting if not attacking him. Consider the plight and the fate of a newspaper published in Berlin in English. It would not have been tolerated, and if there had been large colonies of English speaking people in Germany, politically important, the fate of their newspapers would have been sharper and speedier.

This illustrates how amiable has been the course of the American government, and if now it begins to punish men who have imposed upon it, good nature must have reached its limits.

The continuance of German language efforts to hinder the development of a true American spirit cannot be tolerated. We are engaged in a difficult task which will require all the resolution and determination of the nation. Journalistic sappers cannot be permitted to work on the foundations of this. It is not a privilege which free speech gives or protects.

MAGAZINES FOR SOLDIERS.

Many periodicals are now appearing with the notice that the government will forward them to France or to the army cantonments for 1 cent. The reader simply attaches a stamp and hands the magazine to any postal employé. It is an easy thing to do, but it will provide much innocent recreation for our fighting men. It was reported recently there is a shortage of reading matter in the American army camps in France.

While you are sending your magazines, don't forget about the smokes. To have something to read and something to smoke becomes so customary a part of the ordinary man's life that he forgets what a hardship it would be if they were denied.

LIGHT ON JOSEPHUS, IF NOT FROM JOSEPHUS.

[From the New York Sun.]

The London Daily Chronicle asks this question:

"What manner of man is Secretary Josephus Daniels of the United States navy?"

It is a hard question to answer, on account of the innumerable facets of Josephus' intellectual and moral structure.

We should say, however, that he answers it himself quite satisfactorily when he explains thus to the senate and the country the elaborated and celebrated Fourth of July bulletin announcing the victorious repulse of "two attacks in force" by German submarines on the American expedition:

"If the terms 'battle' and 'attacked in force' are open to criticism, the fact still remains that the rejoicing was warranted."

This will serve to illuminate at least one facet of Josephus' astonishing crasis.

DRYING OF FRUITS.

THE first requisite for the drying of vegetables and larger fruits is that they be sliced. This can be done with an ordinary knife, but a slicer will be found an economy if the amount of fruit and vegetables is at all large. The slices are then arranged in trays made with wire gauze or other open work floors.

A gentleman who discussed home drying before the American Association of Heating and Ventilating Engineers told of a home dryer which he had built. It consisted of a box 20x10x8 inches, in the center of which was a stove. At each end of the box were doors, through which the trays were placed in the racks and removed. The hot dry air was drawn in by the heat of the stove and passed out at the top of the box.

Another speaker advocated using the ordinary farm gasoline engine to drive fans which would send warm air over the fruit. A free movement of air over the drying food was regarded as more necessary than a high degree of temperature or a low degree of humidity. In fact, attention was called to the earlier mistakes in both of these directions. Too much heat spoils the flavor. Drying is best done with air that is moderately moist.

The American Pure Food Journal pictures a rack of open trays swung by a crane over the cook stove and around the pipe. Another one is a boxlike cabinet of racks, somewhat like the food and plate warmers on the market. Openings at the top and bottom permit hot air from around the stove to circulate through the cabinet. It is well to keep the temperature in the cabinet at 140 to 150 degrees. This is a good drying temperature, does not darken or drive off all the flavors, and kills insects and insect eggs.

The same journal advises that fruit and vegetables which might otherwise be thrown into the city garbage can be placed on some shelf in the city gas stove and dried out.

Among the vegetables which they advise drying and the directions for applying are:

Spinach and parsley. Wash thoroughly. Separate all roots from the tops. Chop. Spread the leaves or chopped product on the trays. Dry with moving air at a low temperature.

Beets, onions, carrots, turnips, parsnips, and cabbage.

Beets—Select young, quickly grown, tender beets. Wash well. Peel. Slice about an inch thick. Arrange on trays. Dry.

Turnips—Treat as beets are treated.

Carrots—Choose large carrots, but avoid such as are woody. Wash, peel, slice crossways. Arrange on trays. Dry.

Parsnips—Treat as carrots are treated.

Onions—Cut off tops and roots. Remove a few outside layers. Slice into pieces one-eighth inch thick. Arrange in layers. Dry.

Cabbage—Select well developed heads. Wash. Remove outside loose leaves. Split the cabbage. Remove all woody parts. Chop with a kraut cutter. Spread on dryer. Dry.

Okra—Select young pods. Reject all old woody ones. Wash well. Cut across in layers about one-quarter inch thick. Arrange on trays. Dry.

Potatoes—Wash. Peel. Cut in layers. Place on trays. Dry.

Beet tops, turnip tops, mustard and other greens—Select tops in proper condition for table use. Cut away all roots. Wash well. Cut into sections about one-quarter inch long. Arrange on trays. Dry.

These methods and others adapted for use by housewives can be found in bulletins issued by the department of agriculture. Large commercial concerns employ more economical methods, producing more satisfactory products.

GO TO LABORATORY.

H. H. H. writes: "Where can I be examined for kidney trouble? Of late I have been obliged to urinate about twice each night, and have pain in the region of the kidney when I arise in the morning. My means do not permit my paying much. Is there any institution where I can have my urine examined free? I have not been ill in forty years. I have a good appetite, never have a headache, eat anything, drink one cup of coffee in the morning and one in the evening, with meals. I walk two or three miles a day and retire every night at 9:30. I am in no business, appear healthy, have good color, weigh 130 pounds, and am 5 feet 4 inches tall."

REPLY.

You can have your urine examined at any clinical laboratory. Look in the telephone directory for list. The charge varies between $1 and $3. In some cities the health department examines urine for those not able to pay. Buffalo has developed this better than any other city. There is an even chance that your symptom is due to enlarged prostate and that your kidneys are sound.

BLAUD'S PILLS.

REPLY.

Blaud's pills frequently are coated with a brown covering. Take them for three months or even six. Be sure that you are not neglecting some condition which should be attended to.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

[Copyright: 1917: By the Brentwood Co.]

LORD TOLLEMACHE, who was badly wounded at the front in France, where he was serving as a captain of the Royal artillery, has just lost there his only brother and next heir to his peerage and estates, Col. the Hon. Dennis Plantagenet Tollemache, formerly of the Seventh Hussars, but who for the last eighteen months has been commanding a battalion of the Northamptonshire regiment. He was unmarried, and as the union of Lord Tollemache to Gen. Sir Arthur Kemball's daughter, contracted some fifteen years ago, has remained without issue, the peerage will go, on its present holder's demise, to his uncle, Wilbraham Tollemache.

The Tollemache family is among the most ancient in England, having been settled there since the days of the Saxon heptarchy. The name of Tollemache is supposed to signify bell ringer.

In the church at Helmingham in Suffolkshire, adjoining Lord Tollemache's principal country seat, Helmingham hall near Stowmarket, there repose the mortal remains of all the Tollemaches who have owned the manor since the days of William the Conqueror. A feature of the church is the flint tower, erected by the Tollemaches in 1487.

Over the main entrance of Helmingham manor or hall, is inscribed the following distich:

"When William the Conqueror reigned with great fame,
This manor was my seat, and Tollemache my name."

The Tollemaches figured conspicuously in the reign of King Stephen. They owe the earldom of Dysart to the marriage of Lionel Tollemache to the daughter and heiress of Will Murray, first earl of Dysart, and whipping boy of Charles I. Young Murray was a nephew of the provost of Eton college, the tutor of Charles I., and was selected by his uncle to act as the playmate for Charles, and as an associate of his studies, but above all, in order to receive castigation for the shortcomings of the prince.

In those days when royalty was regarded as sacred, it was high treason in the eyes of the law for any subject to raise his hand against a member of the reigning house. But inasmuch as the children of the sovereign stood quite as much in need of correction and discipline as the offspring of ordinary citizens, they were provided with whipping boys, who were flogged in their stead for their misdeeds.

Charles became very much attached to his whipping boy, and when he grew up and ascended the throne, loaded him with favors, conferring upon him the earldom of Dysart and the barony of Huntingtower, now held by the head of a different branch of the Tollemache family.

The first countess of Dysart remains on record as the only lady who succeeded in tempting the great lord protector from the strict path of his matrimonial duty. For she made no secret of the fact that after the battle of Worcester she had obtained the release of her husband by her surrender to Oliver Cromwell.

Helmingham is one of the most picturesque and beautiful of the moated houses of old England, its last restoration dating from early Tudor times, and it is composed for the greater part of red brick. Access across the double moat is obtained by two drawbridges, which from time immemorial have been raised each night on the stroke of 10. The ancient Manor house is full of relics, among them being the spinet upon which Queen Elizabeth played during her fortnight's stay there in 1561.

Queen Mary's recent visit to the front in France with King George is notable, in view of the fact that more than six centuries have elapsed since any king and queen of England have put in an appearance at a seat of war. The last occasion was in the summer of 1304, when Queen Margaret accompanied King Edward I. to the siege of Stirling Castle. The king caused an oriel window to be built in his house in the town in order to enable the queen and her ladies to witness the play of fourteen mighty siege engines upon the castle. Gunpowder was not employed by the English in war until twenty years afterward. But these great catapulting machines for throwing huge stone projectiles and balls of fire had been brought round by sea to the Firth of Forth, and King Edward took as keen a personal interest in their performance as George V. shows in the guns of today.

One of the mightiest of these engines arrived only when the surrender was in progress, but Edward was so anxious to try it that he directed the garrison to take cover while he fired a stone shot from it into the castle. All this is related in the "Scala Cronica" of Sir Thomas Grey, a direct ancestor of Viscount Grey of Falloden, the former secretary of state for foreign affairs.

Lord Carlisle, whose impending marriage to Miss Bridget Ruthven, daughter of the master of Ruthven and granddaughter of Lord Ruthven, has just been announced, is a lieutenant in the royal navy. He has been serving since the beginning of the war on one of the ships of the fleet with which Admiral Sir David Beatty is blockading the North sea.

Lord Carlisle is the eleventh earl of his line. Students of American history will remember that the fifth Lord Carlisle crossed the Atlantic as a special ambassador from George III. to bring about a reconciliation with the revolting colonies, but was met, on landing in the new world, with the news that the colonies had effected a treaty of alliance with France.

While in America Lord Carlisle was challenged by Gen. the Marquis de Lafayette to fight a duel for having in his correspondence denounced the conduct of the French government as treacherous. The earl, however, declined the challenge on the ground that he could not accept a cartel for what he had done in the discharge of his public duty.

This same Lord Carlisle lives in the memory of the Irish people as the most popular viceroy who ever governed the Emerald isle from Dublin castle. He was the guardian of his relative, the poet Lord Byron, and was so terribly scandalized by his ward's debaucheries that on this account he declined to serve as his sponsor to introduce him when he took his seat in the house of lords. This led to a bitter quarrel, which has been placed on lasting record in several of Byron's poems.

The ancestral home of Lord Carlisle is Castle Howard, in Yorkshire, one of the grandest country seats in the United Kingdom, equaling, according to some, surpassing, according to others, the duke of Marlborough's palace of Blenheim, and designed, like the latter, by the celebrated architect, Sir John Vanburgh. A more majestic pile of its peculiar style does not exist in England, and it would not be easy to match it anywhere outside Italy.

NUISANCE IS BEING INVESTIGATED.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—[To the Friend of the People.]—There is a bakery around the corner from us and when they bake at night the smoke comes in our windows. The next door neighbors have the same trouble. I complained of this last fall, but during the winter there were not so many windows open and we did not get so much smoke. Will you please see what can be done for us? A. G.

This matter has been under investigation by an inspector from this department since May 25, but up to the present he has been unable to obtain sufficient evidence of an actual nuisance to justify action by the department. Further observation will be made and proper notice issued if conditions justify it. JOHN DILL ROBERTSON, Commissioner of Health.

ORDERED TO PROVIDE PROPER RECEPTACLE.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Please stop the grocer at 2648 Division street throwing all kinds of rotten vegetables and leftovers of spoiled meat into the middle of the alley. Decent requests of neighbors seem not to have any influence upon him. N. T.

The matter was carefully investigated by an inspector from this department and a notice served to provide suitable metal receptacle for garbage and to discontinue practice of dumping in alley. JOHN DILL ROBERTSON, Commissioner of Health.

DIVISION STREET CAR LINE EXTENSION.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—[To the Friend of the People.]—When will the Division street cars be in operation west of Austin avenue? A. T.

There is no likelihood that the Division street car line will be extended beyond Austin avenue until the territory west of Austin avenue at that point is annexed to the city of Chicago. JOHN P. GARNEY, Commissioner of Public Service.

GARBAGE CAN HIDDEN.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—[To the Friend of the People.]—What can be done toward having the garbage removed from the rear of 3944 North Kimball avenue? I have made several complaints to the garbage disposal department, but no action has been taken. Accumulation of six weeks' garbage from four families lies there. A. C. F.

The garbage can was kept under a porch where the driver could not see it. There should be no further cause for complaint. F. S. MITCHELL, Superintendent of Streets.

NEW PROCEEDINGS STARTED.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Will you please tell me if there is any intention of extending the sewer south on Fortieth avenue to Sixty-third street, and if so, how soon? V. E. S.

The proceedings for the proposed sewer in Fortieth avenue, extending from the sanitary district channel to Sixty-third street, have recently been defeated in court on a technicality. We are starting new proceedings and will hurry them as much as possible. C. D. HILL, Engineer Board of Local Improvements.

EMPLOY AN ATTORNEY.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Can you indicate briefly what may be the vital differences, if any, in the requirements made by the state of Iowa and by the state of Illinois for the incorporation of a company—in this particular instance a manufacturing and sales company? If any differences in the matter of the expense involved and the requirements as to paid in capital, I would be pleased to know these. Also is it necessary to have the matter of incorporating the company in the hands of an attorney, or could the expense be avoided? C. E. E.

You should employ an attorney whichever state you select, since he will be in a better position to advise as to which state to incorporate in. We will not attempt to guess about the matter. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

DEPRESSED IN WESTERN CANADA.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 3.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I wish to record my joy over returning to the good old U. S. Canada is under a blight; women running the elevators and shaving men in the barber shops, and all the stores are empty. No traffic in the streets [I mean Vancouver]. Papers full of war and great English victories are recounted daily. Everywhere I saw any people there were lots of wounded soldiers in khaki.

In Victoria, with 60,000 population, 12,000 had gone to the war; in Vancouver, with 175,000 inhabitants, 37,000 have enlisted and gone. Scarcely a family in Canada is out of mourning. I heard of one mother in Winnipeg who had lost five sons.

They all say that the colonials have had the greatest losses, as they are always put on for the "attacks." They are all sick of the war and hope our going in will bring an early finish. Ten thousand Chinese are working in Vancouver and 20,000 Japanese. I saw lots of East Indians in their turbans—coolies, they call them. Fifty-two thousand Chinese have gone through Vancouver during the last month, en route for France. I saw several trainloads of them between Moose Jaw and Lake Louise. They are to do agricultural work in France, I was told. They seemed large, strong men. All this gave me horrible depression. Will our beautiful country be brought to similar straits? BLANDINA VAN ETTA.

THE GERMAN PRESS HERE.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The only way to stop the German people living in this country from criticizing our government is to muzzle the German newspapers. They have poisoned the minds of these people, and strategy must be used to teach them to love and honor our country. Conditions as they exist today should not be tolerated much longer.

They talk about free speech and that the government of the United States is going to deny them the use of it. Certainly, because it is not in the right direction. What else can we expect so long as the German newspapers are allowed to go on and print news derogatory to our country? It appears to me like treason to allow conditions like this to go on.

We should dig down deep and tear up the root of this evil, and stop the growth at once, for all time to come. The German people are all right. They have had bad advisers, and the sooner they are shown the error of their way the best interests of the United States will be conserved, and theirs also. This is our country: We must stand by it, no matter what our race, creed, or religion may be. Muzzle the German press or teach them what loyalty means. A GERMAN-AMERICAN.

WHERE MR. SCHMIDT GETS HIS.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 7.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Mr. O. Schmidt says in substance that your editorial of Aug. 1 "is in part an insult" against Masonry, and as I am a Mason I am in position to state that Mr. Schmidt's letter to you is really the insult against Masonry, and I have taken the clipping and will mail it to the grand lodge for their attention. The letter is thoroughly pro-German and strictly un-American. L. G. S.

Andrews, Ind., Aug. 8.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—O. Schmidt says, "I am a true Mason, and it is to the efforts of the Masons that Brother William Hale Thompson was elected to the highest office in the city."

How can the people of Chicago ever forgive the Masons if Bill's election was brought about by Masons? Chicago has disgraced itself and our democracy by the election of this "dangerous clown" for its mayor. To defend "Brother Thompson" is to bring disgrace to the order of which he is a member. Is there no way by which Chicago can free herself from the rule of this mountebank? After electing this man, must Masons continue to support him? S. M. MINNICK.

Sheboygan, Wis., Aug. 8.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—When Schmidt compares Big Bill with President Wilson he shows he made a mistake when he left the German army. When he says Uncle Sam will not win out he shows his ignorance and that he did not learn much at the Masonic meetings, because all Masons are ready to go to France to help Uncle Sam finish the job.

What gets my goat is that any Mason could write such rot and get away with it. I am surprised that the investigating committee did not find Schmidt's too weak before they reported him as favorable. I hope Schmidt will try to get more light from his lodge and try the commandery. J. D. HALSTED.

FOR US OR AGAINST US.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I want to congratulate you on your recent editorials with regard to the German-American press and German propaganda and spies in America. I wish we had more thinking Americans who would read and acquaint themselves with the real causes of our war with Germany (our mayor included). Any American who does not stick by our country now should be deprived of his citizenship. A. A. CUTLER.

NOT YET.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I notice in the W. G. N. of last week a notice that the hotel and restaurant men are to help to conserve the food supply by cutting down the portions served. Two rolls instead of three! Are they going to cut the prices with it? A. J. BOWMAN, [illegible]

SECOND LIBERTY LOAN TO COME; SAVE UP FOR IT

Call Expected Soon; New Six Billion Bond Issue Is Sought.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—Secretary McAdoo, it was disclosed today, is planning to ask congress in the near future for authorization of a new bond issue of $6,000,000,000 at this session of congress.

If the proposal is granted it will bring the total amount of revenue authorized to be raised during the first year of the war to $15,000,000,000, exclusive of ordinary government income.

Secretary McAdoo went to the capitol today to talk the situation over with Representative Kitchin, chairman of the ways and means committee. In his absence he discussed the matter with other members of the committee.

$15,000,000,000 for First Year.

While the secretary would not state the exact amount of the bond issue he would ask, he said it would be large enough to cover deficiency estimates now being considered by the appropriations committee.

Inasmuch as these estimates aggregate approximately $6,000,000,000, members of the committee expect the demand will be for a bond issue of corresponding proportions.

The $15,000,000,000 authorization for the first year of the war, provided the new issue is approved, will be distributed as follows:

Bonds already authorized ...	$ 5,000,000,000
Treas. certificates authorized	2,000,000,000
To be derived from ex. taxes	2,000,000,000
Proposed authorized bonds..	6,000,000,000

"Second Liberty Loan of 1917."

Although the ways and means committee and the senate finance committee already had tentatively agreed that further authorizations of bond issues for this year would be put over until the next session of congress, both committees probably will yield to Secretary McAdoo's request after he has explained the need for immediate action.

It is probable that the remainder of the $5,000,000,000 bond issue authorized by congress shortly after war was declared will be offered for sale within a short time. The offering will be known as "the second Liberty loan of 1917." Since the first issue of these bonds was for $2,000,000,000, the presumption has been that the forthcoming offering of bonds will be for $3,000,000,000.

Bond Offering in November.

This issue probably will be offered and subscriptions closed by Nov. 15, the date on which present outstanding treasury certificates are to be taken up.

It is the general understanding that under the present financial scheme of the government that succeeding issues of bonds will be for $3,000,000,000 each, and that they will not be offered at more frequent intervals than four months.

At this rate, assuming that all of the bonds offered are sold, the country could absorb approximately $9,000,000,000 in bonds during a year.

GOSSIP OF BOOKS OF THE DAY

HAS GENIUS FOR SEEING THE EVIL

BY ELLEN FITZGERALD.

MR. VEBLEN is a unique thinker. It follows, of course, that he writes a new dialect. Some years ago he arrived at a view of the social cosmos; he arrived also at a style. These are as much as one man ought to expect of himself. It is difficult to state with any critic clearness just what either Mr. Veblen's social philosophy is or just what his style is. There is so much of a lofty kind of absurdity in his thinking, so much of tongue in his cheek quality in his expression of it that one feels in reading his books as Voltaire felt when he read Rousseau's first assault on civilization. "There is nothing to do but get down on all fours." When Rousseau heard how seriously Voltaire had taken this lyric pamphleteering he said: "And I didn't believe a word of it when I set it down."

How much of this abnormally clever arraignment of modern history does Mr. Veblen believe? How seriously is he to to be taken? The whole of his thinking is uncanny and, worse luck, so much of it is true. If he would only put his truth more—well, why question a writer's mode? He is free or he is nothing. Mr. Veblen has found his matter and his method, and so far as a layman is concerned what has he to do but make the most of both?

◆

Here is a book, "THE NATURE OF PEACE" (Macmillan) prompted by the war. It attempts to illumine the idea of peace. Of course there has never been such a thing in the western world. Only China has had peace, and China receives some of Mr. Veblen's prettiest pats. Patriotism makes peace impossible. "Patriotism is a sense of partisan solidarity in respect of prestige." This is a good working definition for Mr. Veblen, who loves to prove us all gullible and irresponsible. This is not what real patriotism is at all, but it will do to prove that dynastic states like Germany and commonwealths like England can use it for offense and defense.

There is some genuine truth in what Mr. Veblen writes of how patriotism is below the cosmopolitan ideal; there is some truth in his proof that bad statesmen abuse the appeal to this passion. Now, if he would not be so invidious, so sinister, so subtly sardonic he might show how this passion may be converted to cosmopolitan ends.

So, too, when he writes of business intrigue, of the English gentlemen, of anything, in fact, he withers the subject instead of illuminating it. One does not take him seriously lest he should come back at us with Rousseau's reply to Voltaire. For in the end war, for that is the issue, is too dread a subject to be written of in the extreme of irony. Irony is a method of attack, of course. But is this the time for anything so subtle, so susceptible of misinterpretation as irony? History is, of course, a riot of error, but history is also deeply human, and the deeply human is not ironic. There is covert insult in much of this, particularly when whatever is wrong with our time is now if ever being deeply atoned for.

It does not matter that the common man is paying for the blunders of the dynastic state. History is tragedy. That is why Mr. Veblen's irony is just now impertinent. No one will be less patriotic, less desirous of gain, less eager for the amenities of life for this book. One instead searches history for the soul of good in things evil. Mr. Veblen is a genius in seeing the soul of evil in things good. If he saw even this with less pomp of phrases he might be a kind of prophet to his age.

He does concern himself much with the common man, but puts himself beyond the reach of the common man by his style. He obscures the very truth he is putting forth. The common can no more arrive at economic truth when wrapped in this vesture than a child can read "Sordello."

Leona Dalrymple
AUTHOR OF "KENNY" — REILLY & BRITTON

Leona Dalrymple, who swam into fame a few years ago by a novel which took a $10,000 prize, has written a third volume, "Kenny," of which her publishers, Reilly & Britton, have great hopes. Miss Dalrymple, who lives in New Jersey, had written practically nothing until fortune found her.

GORKY'S BITTER WAY IN LIFE

BY ELIA W. PEATTIE.

A FEW months ago there appeared a remarkable, nay, a formidable, autobiography, "My Childhood," by Maxim Gorky. There now appears a supplement called "IN THE WORLD." In it the young Gorky is thrust from his home and the supervision of his kindly grandmother out into the world—the Russian world, which appears to be a thousand times more sinister than any other world known to man. Indeed, Gorky himself confesses that Russia is a cruel mother. He speaks of the reflections that came to him as a young man. "I thought often of the great world," he writes, "which I had read about, of foreign countries where people lived in a different manner. Writers of other countries depicted life as cleaner, more attractive, less burdensome than that life which seethed sluggishly and monotonously around me. This thought calmed my disturbed spirit, aroused visions of the possibility of a different life for me. And I felt that I should meet some simple-minded, wise man who would lead me on that broad, bright road."

◆

The road young Gorky knew was anything but broad and bright, and almost all of the people he knew were either evil or grotesque. Sometimes they are learned, often they seem to reveal glimpses of knowledge, wonder, fascination, but they hide it as if it were a stolen jewel. There is a stoker on a ship who is the prince of realists and whose half mad yet appallingly sane character Gorky depicts with master strokes. Here and there musky romance enters into the book—romance that ended in a sort of anguish. The description of what Gorky, the book devourer, suffered in his piteous efforts to secure books is enough to break one's heart. Little by little the boy came to distrust every one. Except always his old grandmother, who was so much better than a saint with her strange and beautiful capacity for casting a glamour over events and persons.

"Every time I met grandmother," writes Gorky, "I was more consciously charmed by her personality; but I felt already that that beautiful soul, blinded by fanciful tales, was not capable of seeing, could not understand a revelation of the bitter reality of life, and my disquietude and restlessness were strange to her.

"'You must have patience, Olesha!'

"This was all she had to say to me in reply to my stories of the hideous lives, of the tortures of people, of sorrow—of all that perplexed me and with which I was burning.

"I was unfitted by nature to be patient and if occasionally I exhibited that virtue which belongs to cattle, trees, and stones, I did so in the cause of self-discipline and to test my reserves of strength, my degree of stability upon earth. Nothing disfigures a man more terribly than his patience, the submission of his strength to external conditions.

"And though in the end I shall lie in the earth disfigured, I can say, not without pride, to my last hour that good people did their best for forty years to disfigure my soul, but that their labors were not very successful."

The book is like an essence from the heart of Russia. It is wild, strange, groping for half-guessed meanings, beautiful with vision, hideous with obscenity. The obscenity is not obtruded, but its presence is implied continually. It appears to be a part of the extravagant realism of a people still primordial in certain respects. (The Century company.)

Miss Brown's Novel.

Alice Brown is, without question, one of the most scrupulous psychologists now writing American fiction. One opens her latest novel, "BROMLEY NEIGHBORHOOD," with a quiet sense of confidence in the reliability of her observations and the verisimilitude of her characters. True, one feels that the book will be grave—perhaps more than grave. One is to be edified rather than diverted, or at least the diversion will be of a high and serious character.

These prognostications are justified. "Bromley Neighborhood" proves to be the story of a domestic tyrant, Tom Neale, a New England farmer, and his exquisite, devoted, and poetic wife, Mary, their two sons, and the people they knew. There seldom appears a character in fiction so delicate yet strong, so devoted and yet free, as Mary Neale. She possesses the qualities ordinarily called womanly to a superlative degree. Equally interesting, if less ideal, is Aunt Tab, as the Neale boys called her, the little, inoffensive Ophelia of the piece, who keeps to her room because of the terror her brother creates in her, and who finds her happiness there with her lamp, her fire, and bits of millinery in which she tricks herself, playing at gayeties she never has known. There is another remarkable feminine character also, Ellen Brock, whom both the brothers love, and who works havoc with her diffidence, her chastity, her cool self-possession, and scrupulous conscience. She could not have happened anywhere save in the United States, but she is recognizable there as the representative of a genus.

The story reaches several strong dramatic climaxes. Miss Brown is not one to shrink from terror and she goes unflinchingly to the end of her most terrible scenes. She seems to have found herself sustained and consoled by the character of Mary, the wife, whose lyric spirit lifts itself above all discords and tumults. The book concludes on the high note of sacrifice and love—Mary's idea of happiness. That her sons failed her, that life wore aspects stark and grim, that she was cheated of all the lesser joys a woman should know, could not dim her faith or still the voice of her soul. A lovely and memorable character, truly.

The war plays its serious part in the story, as it must inevitably in all contemporary fiction. It has changed all lives—saddened or electrified them—and Miss Brown is too faithful a realist to shun the issue. She has written nothing better, and admirers of serious fiction will derive genuine satisfaction from it. It has substance, passion, beauty, and profound sadness. Of such are the kingdom of good books. (The Macmillan company.)

The Joyful Years.

The distinguishing quality of "THE JOYFUL YEARS" [Dutton], by F. T. Wawn, a love story of peculiar charm, is the story's poetically pure though not purely poetical sensuousness in the true and clean sense of the word. The heroine of the novel ranks with the most lovable among the heroines of fiction. As "THE JOYFUL YEARS" is a first book, one has the right to expect a great deal of its author.

Ranny.

Howard Brubaker is the name of a new writer of pronounced promise in the field of stories of boy-life. His "RANNY" [Harper] has humor and originality, and displays the author's keen knowledge of the nature and ways of small-town small boys.

PEACE!
With Germany Powerless or Germany Free—Which?

As the War enters its fourth year, the German Emperor proclaims that the thoughts of the German people "stand resolute in the determination to prosecute this righteous war of defense to a successful termination," and tells his soldiers "we are invincible. We shall be victorious. The Lord God will be with us." But while the thunder of British guns in Flanders and the shout of advancing German regiments in Russia seem to be the loud echoes of these confident assertions, representatives of both sides were at the same time contributing to a symposium of peace. Mr. Balfour declares that Germany must be "either powerless or free" before peace can come.

German peace-hints are prefaced with assertions that German armies in Belgium and Roumania are fighting a purely defensive war. Chancellor Michaelis denies imputation of coldness toward the Reichstag declaration for a peace without conquest, while Count Czernin, Foreign Minister of Austria-Hungary, admits that his country is quite ready for an "honorable peace." While Austria's readiness for peace has long been evidenced by American editors, they suspect that Germany's outgivings and the firm grip of the military regime conceal an almost equal longing.

REILLY & BRITTON

BOSTON YOUTH TAKES JUNIOR GOLFING TITLE

Western Final Won by Wright from Haight, 5-4.

BY JOE DAVIS.

Uncorking a brand of real championship golf Fred J. Wright Jr., the 19 year old representative of the Albemarle Golf club of West Newton, Mass., won the fourth annual junior championship of the Western Golf association by defeating R. Allen Haight of the Massapequa Golf and Country club of Long Island, 5 and 4, at the Exmoor Country club yesterday.

Reaching the half way mark all square with excellent scores of 37, it looked as if the boys were in for a hard battle, but immediately after the turn Wright developed a putting streak quite equal to some of the palmy performances of Walter J. Travis and Jerome Travers.

Wright Wins Five Straight Holes.

A seven foot putt on the tenth green, a nine footer on the eleventh, followed by a fifteen footer at the twelfth gave Wright wins, 4—5, 3—4, 3—4, and put him 3 up. This rapid change must have disconcerted Haight, as he missed an eighteen inch putt on the thirteenth green, losing, 4—3, while at the next hole he was short on his approach putt and missed a six foot try for a four.

Wright from a similar distance ran his approach putt dead and won, 4—5, taking the match. He had made the five holes, two strokes under par, turning a closely fought match into a runaway. Playing out the bye holes the new champion finished with 73, the best card of the tournament.

Semi-Final Matches One Sided.

The eastern stars had easy passages into the final, Wright defeating Bert F. Toleson, champion of the Sinnissippi club of Rockford, 6 and 5, while Haight eliminated Earle Collins of Harlem, Chicago's sole survivor, by a similar margin.

These victories brought a situation that has occurred only once before in a men's amateur championship event in Chicago. In 1899 at the Onwentsia club Herbert Harriman and Findlay S. Douglas of New York met in the final of the national amateur championship, and not since then until yesterday was there a final in the national, western, or junior western events in which one of the finalists was not a Chicagoan. There is, however, a crumb of comfort in noting that Haight was born in Chicago, so Father Knickerbocker is not entitled to all the runner-up glory.

Hats Off to New Champion.

Wright's victory was one of class, and whatever regrets we may have at the emigration of both the western amateur and western junior amateur titles are tempered by the knowledge that Francis Ouimet and Fred J. Wright Jr. won on their merits. Wright is the best player that has won the western junior title, and it is not exaggerating one whit to say he is just as fine a sportsman as Ouimet.

Haight, who had not played up to his best standard, showed himself a fine golfer, his 37 on the first nine holes being the product of normal golf. He got a trifle longer ball off the tee than Wright, but the Boston boy's pitches generally found him on the inside and his short game was better. Wright failed to give the ball a chance on a number of his approach putts. He has a fine golfing disposition and is eligible to play for the junior title two years more.

Detail of Title Battle.

Haight reached the first green, 500 yards, with a drive and midiron, getting a birdie four. Wright, who pulled his drive and sliced his second, took three to reach the green and was down in two putts. On the next green Wright missed a six foot putt, but Haight missed from three feet and they halved in fives. They both got home on their iron seconds for the third hole and had long approach putts. Wright put his dead, but Haight was five feet short and missed, getting a four. This left the match all square.

They halved the next hole in fives, and at the fifth hole Wright's six foot putt gave him a half in four, Haight nearly holing his third from off the green.

Haight outdrove Wright at the sixth hole, 365 yards, but the Boston boy pitched twelve feet from the pin and holed for a birdie three, Haight being thirty feet short on his second.

All Square at Turn.

Wright overployed the eighth green on his second, running into long grass in a trap, but pitched out finely to nine feet and holed his putt for a half in four, Wright having a four foot putt. At the short ninth Wright overplayed the green to a trap and was too strong on his second. Haight made a nice pitch fourteen feet from the pin and won, 3—4, squaring the match.

The feature of the incoming holes came at the twelfth, 265 yards. Wright sliced his drive to the third fairway, but from 100 yards got home a shot with a lot of backspin which stopped fifteen feet from the tee. Haight topped his approach pitch, but ran through a trap to the edge of the green. He took two to get down, but Wright sunk his putt.

Wright lead Toleson, 4 down, at the turn in the morning and Collins failed to win a hole against Haight. Cards:

RED X GOLF

A RECORD breaking gallery is expected to watch the big Red Cross match at Jackson park at 2 o'clock this afternoon, when Champion Charles Evans Jr. and Jim Donaldson of the Chicago Golf club will oppose Jock Hutchinson of Glen View and Bob Macdonald of Indian Hill in a four ball match. This is the greatest quartet that ever has played at Jackson park, and quite as much interest will attach to the possibility of the men setting new records as to the outcome of the match. Each of them is capable of hitting around 70 any time they start. Fifteen of the leading women players at Jackson park will sell Red Cross tags.

HAYES VS. HARDY FOR TITLE AGAIN; IN VALLEY FINAL

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 10.—Two Chicagoans, one former national clay court tennis champion, the other present holder of that title, will play for final honors in the Missouri valley patriotic tennis tournament. The opponents are Walter T. Hayes, who won the honor in 1911, and Samuel Hardy, formerly of London, England, the 1917 patriotic champion.

In the semi-final bracket Hayes eliminated R. A. Wester of Kansas City, 6—0, 6—4, 6—4. Hardy defeated Clifford Lockhorn, the local champion, 6—2, 6—3, 6—2, by a whirlwind game.

Hayes beat Hardy in the final of the recent western patriotic championship at Chicago, and the two are keen but amiable rivals in singles as the outcome. Their skillful, fast game as doubles teammates has not been eclipsed on courts in this city.

The semi-final round in doubles was reached by three teams. The victors were Hayes and Hardy of Chicago and two local combinations—Teachenor and Newell and Uhls and Moore.

Mixed Doubles to Feature Edgewater Tennis Tourney

For the first time this year in an important local tournament mixed doubles will be part of the tennis program in the invitation tournament on the Edgewater Beach courts running from next Saturday through Monday, Aug. 26. The meet is intended to inaugurate the Edgewater Beach play as an annual invitation feature.

National Clay Court Titleholder Hardy, Western Champion Hayes, Ralph Burdick, Heath Byford, Miss Carrie Neely, western women's champion; Miss Mary K. Voorhees of Evanston, and other men and women stars, have invitation cards for the beach tourney. Entries close Aug. 16 with L. McConnell, 5349 Sheridan road.

Woods and Waters by Larry St John

QUESTIONS THEY ASK.

Chicago.—[To the Editor.]—1. Where should one look for bass, pike, and pickerel in a large lake at this time of the year? 2. Is the fish called a "pickerel" in southern Wisconsin a true pickerel or a pike? 3. Is there any difference between a large mouthed black bass and an Oswego bass? 4. What is the proper name for the wall eye? F. R. M.

Answers—1. Bass are likely to be in deep water in the daytime, but come in the weeds at night. Best results from casting will be had at night at this time of year. Pike will be found in the deep water, especially near spring holes. Drift over the part of the lake where the springs are with a long line and a minnow for bait. When you get a strike drop your anchor, as there is probably a school of pike in the immediate vicinity. Pickerel will be found patroling the outer edge of the weed beds where the water is fairly deep. 2. It is a pike. 3. No. 4. He has a number of names, such as salmon, jack salmon, okow, blow fish, yellow pike. Perhaps the best name is pike-perch.

* *

Sutton Bay, Mich.—[To the Editor.]—1. The flesh of many of the pan fish and some of the black bass contain small, round bodies about the size of a pinhead. Some people say these fish are wormy. Are they wholesome? 2. In snelling hooks should the silk used be waxed? 3. What kind of varnish is best for covering the silk? L. W.

Answers—1. Fish are troubled with parasites at all times; at certain seasons the visibility of these parasites is high. It is a matter of sentiment as to eating fish when the so-called worms can be seen. If the fish is well cooked no harm will come from eating them, worms or no worms. 2. It will hold better if waxed. 3. First cover with shellac and then with a coat of spar varnish—otherwise the shellac will turn white and powdery.

* *

Joliet.—[To the Editor.]—1. When does the squirrel season open in Illinois? 2. Is the .22 caliber rifle large enough for this kind of game? 3. Has the fur of squirrels any value? O. B.

Answers—1. The squirrel season in Illinois opened Aug. 1. 2. Yes; use the long rifle cartridge with hollow point bullet. 3. No. The fur of the squirrel's tail, however, is valuable in making Trude and other bass and trout flies. If you do not tie flies it is a good plan to save the tails for friends who do.

WALLEN MEETS P. M'GILLIVRAY IN LAKE RACE

WALTER COSTS SOX HALF LEAD WITH 1 HIT, 4-0

Johnson Also Hero at Bat; Weaver Breaks Finger.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—Chicago's Sox lost half their lead and suffered what may prove a mortal wound to their pennant chances today when Walter Johnson shut them out, 4 to 0, and Ed Ainsmith broke a finger for Buck Weaver, putting him out of commission indefinitely.

The Rowlands never had a chance for the ball game, for Johnson held them to one single and did not permit a man to reach third base, but the loss of Weaver was more serious than the defeat. Faber's well known wildness was primarily responsible for the accident. His pass to Ainsmith at the start of the third round laid the fatal fuse.

Ainsmith's Slide Puts Luck Out.

Johnson followed with a single to right on which Ainsmith lumbered around to third. Jackson threw out the big catcher by a couple of parasangs, but he hurled himself feet first at Weaver and the bag. Buck tagged Ainsmith a yard from the base, but the force of the collision broke the index finger of Buck's left hand and knocked the ball out of it. Ainsmith, of course, was called safe, and Weaver contracted an error in addition to his injury.

McMullin replaced Weaver on the hot corner and played the bag well, but the accident unsettled the Rowlands and paved the way for two runs, which were plenty.

Johnson was unbeatable, the way he was hurling. It looked as if the newspaper reports that he was for sale to the highest bidder to enable the Washington club to recoup some of the season's losses had put new life into the Idaho wonder, who has been flinging with indifferent success recently. He had everything in the pitching line today and never was in trouble, although he passed three batsmen and grazed the uniform of another.

Walter Leading Batsman, Too.

Besides pitching a whale of a game, Johnson led his team offensively with three hits in as many chances and took part in both of the scoring bees. If Walter was eager to impress Manager Rowland with the desirability of bidding high for his services in case of a sale, he was highly successful.

Ray Schalk, who returned to harness after a couple of days' rest, made the only hit off Johnson. It was a clean one to left, and served no purpose other than to rob Walter of a no hit performance. Schalk stole second and Faber drew a pass, but there were two gone and Liebold fouled the side out.

Faber stopped the Senators for two rounds, but in the third lost control long enough to walk Ainsmith, first up.

Get Faber in Hole.

Johnson sent a single to right which resulted in the elimination of Weaver from the lineup for a while, as already chronicled. After the accident had been repaired by putting McMullin on third, Faber apparently pitched himself out of the hole by making Judge pop out and by striking out Shanks. Then Milan stung the first ball for a single to right, scoring Ainsmith. Jackson booted it long enough to let Johnson go from first to third, from where he registered on Rice's short single.

Doubles by Johnson and Shanks, the latter's steal of third base, and an infield out gave the Senators their second pair of runs in the fifth. Score:

Notes of the Sox

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—One more game here tomorrow.

The Sox now have won nine and lost nine games on this trip, with five more to play.

Two of Johnson's three hits were doubles and all except the third one figured in the victory of his team.

The Rowlands wind up their second eastern invasion here tomorrow and make a quick getaway to Cleveland to play four games there before returning home.

McMullin made a swell stop of a hit from Morgan's bat at the start of the home fourth and pegged the runner out from behind third base.

The White Sox-Senatorial series for the year stands eleven games to five in favor of the Rowlands, so Chicago cannot lose it, as there are only six more games to play between those teams.

A local doctor attended Weaver's injury at once and set the broken digit so well it probably will not furnish an additional reason for claiming exemption from the draft. By the time it is mended Buck probably will be in camp unless the exemption board decides his wife is wholly dependent on his baseball salary.

Bates and Noyes to Stay with Mack Until Called

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 10.—Ray Bates and Win Noyes will stick with the Athletics until the season ends, unless called out sooner for army service. Connie Mack made this announcement today after a conference with the two players, who were reported ready to leave the team tomorrow to take a vacation before being summoned to the colors.

E. SMITH OF INDIANS BEATS YANKEES BY HOMER IN 14TH, 8-7

New York, Aug. 10.—Cleveland won its second straight extra inning game on New York's home lot today in the fourteenth inning, 8 to 7. Elmer Smith, who twice last season as a pinch hitter defeated Pitcher Shawkey with ninth inning home runs, won today's game from Shawkey with a home run into the right field stand in the fourteenth.

Cleveland waged a plucky fight, as New York hammered out six runs in the first inning, five before a man was retired. Coveleskie, who pitched the last seven innings for Cleveland, held the Yankees in check, permitting only three hits. The indefinite suspension of Manager Donovan of New York was lifted today. Score.

RED SOX BEAT TIGERS TWICE

Boston, Mass., Aug. 10.—Boston, after losing every home game played against Detroit this season, won both ends of a double header today, the first 5 to 4 and the second 5 to 1. In the first contest the Red Sox trailed until the ninth inning, when Boland walked three men. Hoblitzel then tripled and Hooper singled, four runs scoring. The feature of the afternoon came in this game when Ruth drove the ball into the center field bleachers, the longest hit ever made on the grounds and the first time the feat has been achieved. AMATEUR BASEBALL

THREE divisions in the Craftsmen league, North, South, and South Central divisions, play the final games of their regular schedule this afternoon. Constellation has the bunting cinched in the North and D. C. Cregier cannot be dislodged in the South even if both of them should meet defeat. In the South Central the leading Carnations have not such a hold on the top rung, for a defeat for them and a victory for Mizpah will put the two in a tie. The schedule:

NORTH DIVISION.

Ben Franklin and North Shore at Winnemac and Leavitt; Constellation and Integrity at Argyle and Robey.

NORTHWEST DIVISION.

Ben Hur and D. C. Cregier at Logan square; Veritas and Golden Rule at Marianna and Southport.

WEST DIVISION.

Union Park and Garfield at Harrison and Washtenaw; Maywood and Bohemia at Twenty-sixth and Kostner; Columbian and Circle at Oak Park.

SOUTH CENTRAL DIVISION.

Justice and Washington Park; Crescents and Parians; Mizpah and Apollo; Bee Hive and Carnation [all at Washington park].

SOUTH DIVISION.

Mystic Stars and Banner Blues at Desplaines; Composite and Ogden Parks at Marquette park; Lawn and Waubansia at Washington park; Park Manor and Boulevards at Seventy-ninth and Woodlawn.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

MARSANS, YANKS, BREAKS HIS LEG

New York, Aug. 10.—Armando Marsans, the Cuban outfielder recently secured by the New York Yankees from St. Louis in a trade for Lee Magee, broke his right leg in the first inning of the game between New York and Cleveland today. Marsans met with the injury while sliding home. His spikes caught in the plate and snapped the bone just above the ankle.

Ex-National League Head Is Sued Over Income Tax

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 10.—Alleging that he had failed to pay an income tax, the United States government today sued Thomas J. Lynch, former president of the National league. The case will be called at the September term of the Federal court. The government charges that Mr. Lynch from March 1, 1913, to Dec. 31 of that year received a net income of more than $3,000, namely, $4,006.35, but failed to make a return to the internal revenue department by March 1, 1914, and not until June 9, 1915. Full penalty, which is a fine of $1,000, is asked by the government.

CUBS BATTLE TO WIN OVER ROBINS IN ELEVENTH, 5-4

Hendrix Nips Foe Spurts and Blow by Wolters Clinches Victory.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Our Cubs and the Brooklyn Robins are fighting so hard for fifth place in the National league pennant race that yesterday they battled for eleven innings, almost until supper time, before the combat was decided. Harry Wolter finally delivered the knockout blow in the form of a clean drive to the left wall, which sent Max Flack home from first base after two were out, and gave the Cubs the decision, 5 to 4. Now the Cubs are grasping fifth place firmly, while the Robins are a notch lower.

Cloudy Claude Hendrix was on the slab for the north siders, opposed by Big Jeff Pfeffer. Both of them have loitered around the baseball hall of fame in other years. They engaged in a regular duel, the Cubs making more hits off Big Jeff than the Robins could make off Cloudy Claude, so the latter was returned victorious. Brooklyn also made one more error than did the Cubs, and this helped Claude in gaining the decision.

Game Featured by No Rows.

The game was peculiar in that neither side started any arguments over the condition of the ball at any time during the game. Also there was a remarkable absence of rowing with the umpires, and the contest on its own merits was sufficiently exciting to hold the crowd until the finish.

Hendrix really was quite brilliant in his pitching, especially in the tight places. Two or three times during the battle he hurled his spitter through with such deadly effect that threatening assaults by the enemy were suppressed. All told, the Robins poled only eight blows, while the Cubs swatted eleven off the speedy shoots of Big Jeff.

The blows of Wolter, Cy Williams, Charley Deal, and Pickles Dillhoefer did most of the business, although one of the three safe drives poled by Hendrix himself helped in the production of the winning tally in the eleventh. Casey Stengel and Young Mr. O'Rourke, a recruit third baseman from somewhere, were about the only hitters in the Robins' outfit who caused Hendrix any trouble.

Pfeffer's Slip Helps Cubs.

A fielding blunder by the Robins helped the Cubs to the first run of the game in the third round. With one out, Flack walked and Wolter singled. On Doyle's out both advanced, and then Pfeffer let a ridiculously easy tap from Merkle's bat get through him and Flack scored.

In the next inning the Robins drove in two, Myers and Stengel leading off with singles and Johnston bunting the two along. Cutshaw slapped to Doyle and Myers was nailed at home, but Young O'Rourke poled a base hit, sending both Stengel and Cutshaw home.

Deal's two bagger and Dillhoefer's single produced one for the Cubs in the last half of the same round, and the fight went on until the seventh, when the visitors got one man around on hits by Cutshaw and Olson, with an error by Doyle sandwiched between the blows.

Williams' Blow Ties It Up.

When they scored another in the eighth on Stengel's three bagger and Johnston's sacrifice fly the game seemed gone, but in the last half of the same round the Cubs tied it when Cy Williams delivered a single in a pinch, following singles by Wolter and Doyle and a sacrifice by Merkle. Cy's blow drove his two mates home, and the duel continued until the last half of the eleventh when, with one out, Hendrix singled. He was forced by Flack, but Wolter followed with his drive to the wall, sending Flack home and ending it.

Notes

The final combat of the crucial series for fifth place will take place today, and the best the Robins can do is drag the Cubs back into a tie.

Art Wilson spent another afternoon in the press coop while his broken nose is healing. He left after the Robins got a two run lead in the eighth and immediately the Cubs tied it.

Besides making three hits in his five times at bat, Hendrix was robbed of a deserving blow the first time up, when his red hot liner was stabbed by Young Mr. O'Rourke.

Les Mann was out of the game with a bum leg and Harry Wolter, who filled in at left field, poled the knockout blow.

On their way east next week the Cubs will stop off at Toronto to play the Detroit Tigers an exhibition game. Several of the Cub stockholders are planning to go that far with the athletes.

The Cubs publicity man handed out clippings from a Coast baseball writer in which the scribe spilled glowing things about Charlie Hollocher, young Portland shortstop who is coming to the Cubs. The scribe said: "The stunts this youth can do with a ball as it comes skittering over the green, green grass are calculated to make one shiver, gasp and murmer, while each hair does stand upon its separate end like quills upon a porcupine."

Griff to Send Baseball Dope Across to Sammies

Clark Griffith, manager of the Washington club, who has charge of the bat and ball fund from which the revenue is derived to send baseball paraphernalia to the American boys in the trenches, has also placed an order for 500 copies of the Sporting News, the papers to be sent to Gen. John J. Pershing, United States army, somewhere in France.

SEVEN BLUNDERS BY CARDS HAND GAME TO GIANTS

Three Runs in Seventh Clinch 7 to 4 Decision for New York.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 10.—Ragged fielding behind Packard and Horstman, who were hit frequently, enabled New York to take the third straight game from St. Louis, 7 to 4. The Cards made seven errors. Only one of the visitors' runs was earned. The contest was decided in the seventh. Fletcher was hit by a pitched ball. Robertson hit to Miller, but Hornsby dropped Miller's throw. Holke got an infield single, filling the bases. Wilhoit batted for Rariden and singled, Fletcher and Robertson scoring. Benton sent out a sacrifice fly, scoring Holke. Score:

PIRATES BEAT PHILS AGAIN.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 10.—Philadelphia again lost to Pittsburgh, 1 to 0. Rixey allowed only four hits, but a sacrifice and a single, following one of Dugey's errors, scored the winning run. Cooper was hit freely, but always tightened with men on bases. Score:

Fosters Beat A. B. C., 7-1; Get All Runs in Fourth

Stampeding the A. B. C.'s of Indianapolis for seven runs in the fourth inning, American Giants were content to score no more all through the game, winning by 7 to 1 at Schorling park. It was a benefit for the Phyllis Wheatley home, which realized a neat sum. The A. B. C.'s nipped another Giant rally by a triple play in the sixth. With Dixon on second and Redding o nfirst Barber hit a liner toward center. Clark speared it, touched second before Dixon could get back, and doubled Redding off first. It was the third triple killing this season that Clark took part in. Score:

Exhaust Echoes
By John De Long

ROAD history may be made today when representatives of various good roads organizations and civic bodies meet with United States military authorities to discuss the advisability of constructing a new highway between Great Lakes Naval Training station, Fort Sheridan, and Chicago. The gathering will be quite an elaborate affair. Members of thirty-two organizations have been invited to participate and from the number of acceptances received by the committee it is expected that the motorcade will include several hundred machines.

According to the plans, those wishing to make the trip will assemble at the Art institute at 2 o'clock. The cars will be parked in Grant park and as fast as loaded will proceed north. It is planned to reach Evanston at 2:30 and stops at approximate fifteen minute intervals will be made at the sanitary canal bridge, Wilmette; Sheridan road and Kenilworth avenue, Kenilworth; Sheridan road and North avenue, Winnetka; Sheridan road and Park avenue, Glencoe; Moraine hotel, Highland Park; Fort Sheridan; west side of railway station, Lake Forest, and at Great Lakes. Dinner will be served at the naval training station at 6:30. The road conference will follow. The entertainment will include dress parades at Fort Sheridan and Great Lakes. Each guest will be charged $1.

Weekly runs seem to be quite the thing these days. The Woodlawn Business Men's association drove to Cedar Lake with twenty cars in line. Two club runs are on the calendar for tomorrow. The Mystic Athletic club members will drive to Wauconda for the day while car owners of the Chicago Motor club will have an outing at the Indiana sand dunes.

* *

Those who motor over the highways of our more or less fair state must be prepared to take the bad along with the fair and the good these days. While the roads have dried out since the last rains, many of them are in an exceedingly rough condition. Despite the rosy reports issued by officials of the Lincoln highway, it is nevertheless a fact that the transcontinental route is not in good condition across Illinois. Those who traveled this route during the week report that it is in anything but good condition, especially between De Kalb and Sterling. Another route that is not conducive to comfortable touring is the Michigan City road through Gary and Porter. The hundreds of chuck holes force tourists to cut down their speed to eight and ten miles an hour in some places. And the worst part of it is that there is no good way of avoiding the bad sections.

WARM BATTLES MARK GETAWAY AT COLUMBUS

Fast Time and One Seven Heat Fight for Purse Feature Card.

Columbus, O., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—Getaways like today's at the Columbus meeting are seldom seen on a Grand circuit track. The Neil House stake trot brought heavy betting and a five heat race in which Wilkes Brewer scored her first victory of the year. The 2:18 pacers struggled for seven heats, Abbe Bond of the Snow stable finally connecting. In the last race, the 2:13 pace, Butt Hale of the Murphy stable won, but a record of 2:03¾ went on him.

Announcement was made of a modification of the Thursday sentence upon Driver Dick McMahon and the free for all pacer Hal Boy. No motive being found for McMahon not desiring to win the race, the penalty of ten days on driver and horse was removed. However, McMahon will pay a fine of $100 for not trying in the first heat. He admitted this much guilt.

Wilkes Brewer was favorite for the Neil stake, although Early Don sold almost as well. M. L. J. grabbed the first heat. Early Don copped the next in 2:06¼, the fastest time of the race. Wilkes Brewer broke as she turned home in the second mile, but had the step of the party in each of the next three, all the last quarters being boldly trotted. Her best time, 2:07¼, gives her a new record. Summaries:

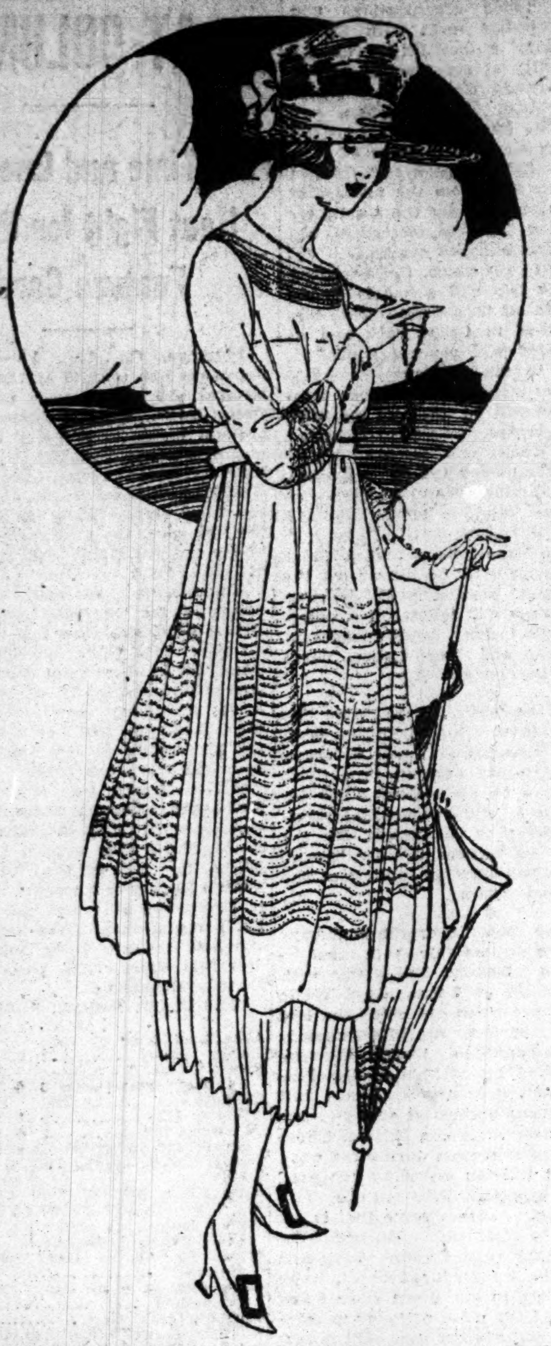
FASHION'S BLUE BOOK



BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—When the big Scotsman in Barrie's play of "The Old Lady Gets Her Medals" blurts out, "What we men in the trenches think of isn't kaisers and isn't czars—it's shiffuns," he strikes a deep human note. Ever since some enthusiastic novelist thought up that ritualistic thing about the heroine "being dressed in some clinging thing of white" and long before that time it was the thin, fluffy, transparent, floaty things which got the masculine imagination. The cave belle was not she who dressed in a tailored goatskin shirtwaist.

Certainly there is food for thought in the trenches if chiffon is the standard of dressing back home. Chiffon and georgette continue to hold the day in the midsummer frocks. They will probably be good all winter long. And to show you just how independent the present models of georgette can be we show this frock which we saw being made by one of the fashionable Fifty-seventh street dressmakers. The underskirt is of pleated dove gray taffeta of the finest quality, pleated all the way about, and draped with gray georgette, which is, as you will see, just one frolic of fine tucks. The same diminutive tucks appear on the sleeves and are developed for the simple, pretty neck. And, by the way, this particular neck fixing is very good if one's neck be smooth as a prairie. It is, however, essentially for the plump, and no one laid out in valleys need apply. Sleeves and girdle of this gown are of the gray taffeta.

Made Up for His Meanness.

BECAUSE it had rained all during his vacation and his plans spoiled, Mr. Claussen, head correspondent at the office, had to revenge himself on some one and so when Miss Nell, his stenographer, informed him that she was going on her vacation, he was mean enough to stack her with a pile of letters and give strict instructions that they must all go out before she left. Poor Nell, sobbing, tried to get them all out. We all helped as much as we could, for Nell was to meet seven other girls at the depot at 1:30 to catch a train for a summer resort where they were planning on spending their vacations together. One-thirty came. Nell wasn't half through. We tried to coax her to go and leave the rest of the work. Claussen had no right to keep her working overtime. But Nell silently called up the girls and told them she would be delayed and probably would take a later train.

When on Monday Claussen called me in to take dictation, for I was substituting for Nell, he asked if she had gotten all the letters out. Haughtily I informed him that she had, but at the expense of having her vacation all spoiled. He wanted to know how that was and I just came out and told him. He said nothing, gave me some letters, and just before dismissing me asked how Miss Nell spelled her last name.

We did not find out till long afterward that he called up Nell and found her home. She, having missed the first train, had disgustedly given up all plans and stayed at home. Nor did we know that that was how their real friendship, which later turned to love, started. He, regretting his meanness, had taken it upon himself to make up for it. She certainly didn't look disappointed when she came back from her vacation with a beautiful diamond on her finger, protesting, defending Claussen. He wasn't the meanest man on earth—not any more! H. R.

SOW NOW—Early beets, winter beets [half long], early scarlet horn carrots, and white milan turnips.

TRANSPLANT NOW—Kohlrabi and head lettuce.

CLARY [SALVIA SCLAREA].

A biennial. Only the dried leaves of sage flavor, are sometimes used as seasoning for sausage, sauces, and dressing.

It is sown about April 15, in drills one-half inch deep, one to two seeds to the inch, fifteen inches between rows. When two or three inches high, thin out to the strongest plants, six to eight inches apart.

They blossom late in August when about thirty inches high. When the flower heads are forming, the plants are cut and dried after manner of balm.

The herbaceous stalk will sprout again the second year; but sufficient must be left for seed. Winter protection is advisable as for balm.

CORIANDER [CORIANDRUM SATIVUM].

An annual. Only the seed is used. It has a spicy flavor favored as seasoning for sausage, meat pickling, sauces, condiments, and sometimes for pastries, confections, and liquors.

Sow at the end of April or beginning of May, in drills one-half inch deep, three seeds to the inch, ten or twelve inches between rows. It requires no thinning.

The foliage resembles plain parsley, is strong scented and hairy. It flowers during July when fifteen to eighteen inches high, producing white umbels. The seeds are ready for cutting toward the end of August, as indicated by the leaves turning yellow and the stalks brown. They are obtained dried, cleaned and stored after the manner of anise. Similarly, if desired for sowing next year, it is allowed to ripen more fully and kept from freezing.

Skillfully Done Is Double Role of Miss Taliaferro

"THE JURY OF FATE"
Produced by Metro.
Presented at the Orpheum.
The Cast:

Jeanne	Mabel Taliaferro
Jacques	Mabel Taliaferro
Henri Labordie	Albert Tavernier
Donald Duncan	William Sherwood
Francois	Frank Fisher Bennett
Duval Hebert	H. F. Weber
Louis Hebert	Bradley Barker
Ching	Charles Fang

BY MABEL M'ELLIOTT.

WHEN the producers named this picture I think they must have tossed half a dozen slips together and picked out of the lot one reading "The Jury of Fate." It is an elastic title, might mean almost anything, and betrays nothing whatever of the story's nature.

Mabel Taliaferro has a double rôle as Jeanne, the girl, and Jacques, her brother, but so skillfully is it done that one forgets to inquire into the technique of the "doubling process." Pictures of this sort are usually stiff and stilted; this is a happy exception.

Twin children of Henri Labordie are Jacques and Jeanne, the girl sweet and pliant, the boy an ill tempered cad whose willfulness brings about his own destruction. Jeanne, to spare her father shock, clips her hair and puts on boy's clothing, so that he may think it was she—not his adored son—who was drowned in the rapids. The deception ends with Labordie's death, and Jeanne's going to Montreal to fulfill her part of the ancient pact. (Which distasteful task she is spared, true love triumphing at the last.)

There is a hint of the "So you've deceived muh!" melodrama in the scene where Duncan seizes Jeanne's wrists and flings her aside, and where Louis stalks in on his very heels to upbraid her. We might have dispensed with it.

I like very much the work of Frank Fisher Bennett, who plays the backwoodsman, Francois. His is a fine and sincere bit of acting which lends artistry to the whole.

Tribune Cook Book

All recipes have been scientifically tested by Miss Eddington with current market materials and are indorsed by her.

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Columbia thinks it does behoove her to save some food for our food administrator. Columbia is willing to dig into pantry problems if her Sammies must dig trenches. Columbia is learning that in this food campaign some good reading specs are quite as much needed as a supply of cook's aprons and some bread pudding recipes.

Vegetable Souffles.

AS meat substitutes and a little more of a complete dish than one of meat alone are the vegetable souffles. These are no less substantial as food for being fluffy in consistence. Made with a cooked foundation they stand up even when cold. There are other names for these baked omelets, but souffle is standard.

Put one ounce of butter on the stove and work into it as it melts three level tablespoons of flour and add to this one-half cup of cold water, bringing to boil and cooking three minutes, all the time working or stirring it with a wooden spoon. Take from stove, add a pinch of salt and other seasonings to taste, then work into it the unbeaten yolk of an egg and after that a second. Add to such an amount three tablespoons or more of some vegetable purée. It will often take four or five tablespoons of chopped beet, and a beet souffle is highly palatable, as well as pretty. Finally fold in the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs, to which has been added about a teaspoon of sugar. Bake in a well buttered earthen dish for ten or fifteen minutes. It will be stiff, instead of desirably creamy, if cooked too long.

One more egg at least can be added to this small amount to raise the food value, increasing both the protein and the energy value. In doubling the recipe it is well to add an extra egg or two to insure its standing, although no souffle is expected to hold up as it cools. This small amount is enough for two individual baking dishes of fair size, and in general the small dish gives more satisfactory results than the large.

Those who want scores and scores of recipes, on almost any subject under heaven, and all sorts of information on what is to be had on the absorbing food questions of the hour should go to libraries everywhere and anywhere.

At a recent conference held by the American Library association a committee on food information was appointed and it has prepared, with the assistance of college and experiment station experts, "selected bibliographies on the best books and pamphlets on the various phases of this vital subject." You would not believe how much has been printed within three months.

One of the librarians on this committee writes: "The campaign of our food administrator for the signing of pledge cards is an excellent one, but if the maximum benefits are to be accomplished or achieved it must be followed by a systematic study on the part of the individual of the principles of nutrition in the selection of foods." Yes!

New York, Aug. 10.—Moving pictures of current events cannot be regarded as newspapers, entitling them to the constitutional liberty guaranteed the press, according to a temporary injunction granted today by Supreme Court Justice Ordway restraining a moving picture concern from using the news film entitled "Woman Lawyer Solves Ruth Cruger Mystery."

After his tiny sister's arrival Bill, aged 4, was really neglected for quite a while and consequently his table manners were almost overlooked until one day his mother noticed him stirring his milk with a fork and she said, "Billy, after all the time I spent teaching you how to eat nicely, it now looks as though I would have to begin teaching you all over again."

And little Bill very sympathetically replied, "Dat's de way wid shilldrens, ain't it mudder?" P. H.

Water a Plenty, Inside and Out, Is Health Help

If you missed the Antoinette Donnelly series telling how she reduced Mrs. Eva Lane thirty-six pounds in six weeks, or how she added twenty pounds in five weeks to Miss Helene Barnett's weight, or how she corrected a head of dry, thin, falling hair and an oily scalp with dandruff, or the article on treating Miss Hill's complexion for pimples and blackheads, send a stamped, addressed envelope and the information will be mailed to you. Any other questions pertaining to beauty and hygiene will be gladly answered.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

MISS N. A.: WATER IN ANY form will not hurt you. On the contrary, its use, both internally and externally, is absolutely essential to health and beauty. Drink at least two quarts of water a day if you want to keep in good health. This should be taken a glass morning and night and the rest between meals. It is bad for the digestion to drink water at meal time. So much for its internal use. Externally used, it will not cause wrinkles, as you fear, and it has been conclusively proven, notwithstanding all assertions to the contrary, that soap and water are essential to a good complexion. Cases have been known where a good skin was preserved without the use of these two for a time, but eventually soap and water had to be used to give perfect cleanliness. Use warm water, a good complexion brush, and imported castile soap when giving your face its nightly scrub.

MOTHER: WHEN THE HANDS ARE shrunken from too long soaking in water try dipping them in vinegar. This will restore them to their normal condition. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall mail you the directions for manicuring and the care of the hands.

BABE: A GIRL 5 FEET 2 INCHES tall should weigh 117 pounds when 18 years of age. Swimming, tennis, and handball are all excellent forms of exercise, in that they stretch the muscles and cause you to breathe deeply.

Electricity's Latest Achievement

Clean, Smooth Trans-mountain Travel

Through the medium of a kite string came man's mightiest servitor—ELECTRICITY. Through its forces whispers are made to carry across the continent, night is turned into day, messages are flashed through the air.

—And now it has been given a new and perhaps greater task—the moving of the nation's commerce and travel across the Great Continental Divide.

On the "St. Paul Road" for 440 miles over the Belt, Rocky and Bitter Root mountains, steam has given place to electricity. No smoke, no cinders, just smooth, clean travel on trains traditional for the excellence of their service.

What more delightful vacation than a trip to the Pacific North Coast (Spokane, Seattle, Tacoma Portland) over the transcontinental electric highway of the

A LETTER FROM HIS WIFE

DARLING JACK:

We are having the time of our lives here at the resort. But, oh, what a sunburn the kiddies and I got the first day we went bathing! Our skins were like fire—red, blistered and burning. For awhile it seemed as if we just couldn't bear the awful torture, until Mrs. Smith saw our plight and brought us a bottle of Salphenol. Have you ever heard of it? Jack, you can't imagine how good that Salphenol felt the moment it touched our skins. It was so soothing, so refreshing, it took the pain right out and changed the angry red to a beautiful shade of tan. How thankful we were to Mrs. Smith and her Salphenol! When you come out next week, dear, don't forget to bring some along for your own use. You can't escape the sun, you know, so be prepared! You can buy a 25c or 50c bottle at any drug store. Lovingly,

KATE.

Society and Entertainments

Military Ball at Exmoor Tonight Climax of Fetes

THE great military ball which is the climax of this gay summer's gayeties, and which at the same time will be the sad occasion of the official farewell of society to the men who have been the chief cause of the summer's festivities along the north shore, will be held tonight at the Exmoor Country club, which is to be brilliantly illuminated and decorated within the clubhouse and on the grounds with flags of the allies.

A large committee of society women under the direction of Mrs. William A. Alexander have for days been working on the arrangements for the ball, at which the officers of Fort Sheridan and the naval training station at Great Lakes are to be guests of honor. Hostesses up and down the north shore are to give dinner parties before the ball, most of the groups to include a number of officers.

Col. and Mrs. Nicholson, Capt. and Mrs. William A. Moffett, and staff officers at the stations with their wives will be guests of honor at the large dinner to be given at the club by Mr. and Mrs. F. Edson White. Mrs. White, Mrs. Walter E. Carr, Mrs. D. F. Kelly, and Mrs. Robert F. Carr are on the executive committee with Mrs. Alexander.

The navy band from Great Lakes and the army band from Fort Sheridan both will be at the ball and play in the afternoon on the lawn at Exmoor. There will be dancing in the club ballroom as well as in the outdoor dancing pavilion. At one end of the pavilion will be a large box under a canopy of flags in which will sit the guests of honor and their aids.

From the moment one enters the grounds things will be most military, with long lines of jackies stationed from the gate to the clubhouse and hundreds of the men in uniform. A group of Canadian officers will be present, including Col. S. C. Jamieson, Col. T. B. Richardson, Maj. H. E. Keown, Maj. Ward Ulright, Capt. D. S. Thompson, and Lieut. Dolphin.

Allen M. Clement is chairman of the general committee and E. E. Andrews is vice chairman. Chairmen of other committees are J. Lawrance Martin, D. F. Kelly, and Robert F. Carr. F. Edson White is president of the club and has been active in arranging for the success of the ball. The proceeds are to go to the Naval Relief society and the Red Cross. The ball will open at 9 o'clock and the dinner at the club will be served at 7:30 o'clock.

Col. and Mrs. William Nicholson gave a buffet luncheon at their quarters in Fort Sheridan yesterday in honor of the governors of the three states who have troops at the officers' training camp. Among those invited to meet them were Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Chatfield-Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGann, Mr. and Mrs. T. Ogden Armour, Gen. and Mrs. Barry, Mr. and Mrs. David R. Forgan, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Russell, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Carry, Mr. and Mrs. George McLaughlin, Gen. and Mrs. Hardin, Miss McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. George McKinlock, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sprague II.

On hundred and fifty student officers from the Michigan contingent at Fort Sheridan, under Capt. Nichols of Detroit, gave a dinner at Onwentsia to Col. Nicholson and several other officers at the camp. They had special music, and all joined in singing national airs and popular songs.

A dancing pageant will be given in Evanston on Tuesday evening on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. A. Starr Best's home at Sheridan road and Hill street. There will be barefoot dancing by Miss Ethel Moulton of Evanston and by young people from the Marmein studios, followed by general dancing for the guests. The lawn of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Best slopes down to the edge of the lake and forms a beautiful, natural dancing ground. About it will be placed booths in which will be scenes illustrating the work of the Navy league for the benefit of which the pageant will be given.

Mrs. Frederick R. Webster of Evanston is general chairman of arrangements for the evening. Mrs. Knowlton L. Ames is at the head of the north shore branch of the Navy league and Mrs. William M. Turner is chairman of the work in Evanston and Mrs. Richmond P. Hobson is honorary chairman.

Among the guests who will attend the R. O. T. C. dinner to be given this evening at the South Shore Country club in honor of members of the training camp at Fort Sheridan will be Capt. and Mrs. Kimbrough, who will be at the dinner to be given by members of Company 3.

Mrs. E. W. Cason and her son, Chester, of Hollywood, Cal., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Moody at their summer home, Rosemary Terrace, at Lake Delavan, Wis.

Mrs. George W. Blossom, who is a member of the reception committee of the benefit military ball to be given this evening at Exmoor Country club, will have in her box a group of young people, including her daughter, Miss Katherine Blossom, a debutante of last winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Faust of Evanston have as their house guests Mr. and Mrs. William Wilkinson of Davenport, Ia. Mrs. Wilkinson, who was formerly Miss Anna Carter, has many friends on the north shore, as she was a frequent visitor with the family of Capt. Waldo Evans, U. S. N., when he was in charge of the Great Lakes station. The party will attend the ball at Exmoor this evening.

The members of St. Simon's auxiliary of the Chicago chapter of the Red Cross will receive the proceeds from a benefit performance of "Stop Thief," to be given this afternoon at the Wilson Avenue theater. The money will be used for buying materials for garments for the soldiers in France. Mrs. F. J. Moreton is chairman, Mrs. J. H. Joice is vice chairman, and Mrs. M. B. King is secretary of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Darent G. Poucher has gone to her home in the Wisconsin woods on the Brulé river and has as her house guest Miss Harriet Blackstone.

Gay-Hued Bags Filled Full for French Wounded

CABBAGE roses of the brightest possible hues, hollyhocks, morning glories, and even the sentimental forget-me-not bloomed on the cheerful Christmas bags which the women at the French shop filled yesterday. It seems that the French soldiers like the gayly colored bags best, some one discovered, and as these are to go to the wounded men in the hospitals the women have made them of as cheerful material as possible.

The members of the Winnetka Woman's guild supplied the bags—125 of them—and Winnetka and Lake Forest women met yesterday to fill them. Among them were Mrs. Russell Tyson, Mrs. Laird Bell, Mrs. George Farnsworth, Mrs. Albert Kales, Miss Elizabeth Kales, Mrs. J. Allen Haines, Mrs. W. A. Otis, and Mrs. Clarence Morse.

A letter from the front dated July 25 was received recently by Mrs. Tyson from Mrs. Benjamin O. Lathrop, chairman of the American fund for French wounded in Paris. It tells of the work of some of the Americans there who are not with Gen. Pershing, but who seem to be doing their bit. Mrs. Lathrop says:

"Many persons have come from Chicago during the last week, and we are delighted to welcome them. I have not yet seen Mrs. Root or Mrs. Ellis, as I have been ill, but Mrs. Crean and Mrs. Fernald both seem full of energy, and I hear that Mrs. Ellis is most attractive, and that also Mrs. Root and Mrs. McCormick are only awaiting this adjustment of affairs before entering into the work.

"Our hospital supplies are becoming scarce, and as the demands are not decreasing we have been discouraged of late. We have nearly 3,000 hospitals who consider us their friends, and when we are forced to send word to them that we cannot meet their demands it takes the snap all out of us. You have all been so wonderful in your generosity and enabled us to distribute so extensively that the sudden change in our invoices has affected the work very much."

Many questions have arisen as to the attitude of the Red Cross toward German wounded on the battlefield, and also toward Americans of German nativity affiliating themselves with Red Cross hospital units going abroad. To make clear the attitude of the Red Cross Henry P. Davison, chairman of the national council, yesterday made public the following statement:

"When war was declared ebtween the United States and Germany the neutrality of the American Red Cross ended automatically. The American Red Cross can coöperate only behind the lines of the armies of the United States and its allies.

"But the Red Cross knows no such thing as the nationality of a wounded man. Any wounded man encountered by the Red Cross will receive as kind treatment as any friend.

"The Red Cross also knows no difference and makes no distinction between any American citizens.

"Our allies in Europe, however, have requested the American state department not to permit persons born in enemy countries, or of parents born in an enemy country, to travel as civilians in any of the allied countries. Representations, however, have been made by the Red Cross which it is hoped will ultimately prove effective whereby loyal American citizens on Red Cross service may be exempted."

CHARGE CHICAGO PACKERS BOOST TOMATO PRICES

Complaint to U. S. Trade Body Says California Crop Is Bought Up.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—[Special.]—Charges that three Chicago packing companies—Armour & Co., Morris & Co., and Libby, McNeill & Libby—have been buying up the California tomato crop, bidding the price up to unprecedented heights and shutting out the wholesaler and retailer, who originally bought directly from the California producers, were filed with the federal trade commission today.

Investigators have reported to the commission that the Chicago packers, who never purchased canned tomatoes in the California market prior to 1917, have run the price up from 85 cents a dozen cans to $1.30 a dozen in their buying, and by so doing have brought about a condition which will necessitate an advance in price of from 6 to 8 cents to the wholesaler, which eventually will mean that the retailer and consumer must pay more than formerly for canned tomatoes.

Answer to Packers' Defense.

In the complaint filed with the commission it was said the packers explained that they had been forced to buy in large quantities of tomatoes in California because of shortage of labor in other markets. The complaint answers this argument with the statement that the buying was done in January and February of this year, months before the crop was planted.

The three Chicago firms, the complaint says, already have purchased from the California producers 96,000 dozen cans of tomatoes, all but 5,000 dozen purchased at prices ranging from 95 cents to $1.30 a dozen.

INCORRECT, ARMOUR SAYS.

A. Watson Armour of Armour & Co. said that his company had been bidding for canned tomatoes in California as usual and was unable to obtain a supply sufficient to care for the company's business as a distributor.

In a later statement Mr. Armour, who is vice president of the company, said: "So far as Armour & Co. is concerned, the report is wholly incorrect. We are in no way acting in unison with others, or alone, for the purpose of purchasing the tomato crop of the Pacific coast. The facts are that our purchases of tomatoes on the Pacific coast have been negligible during the last six weeks or thereabouts. We have neither purchased nor contracted for any tomatoes on the Pacific coast other than, perchance, a few small amounts, possibly by some of our western branch houses, for local consumption, to fill immediate orders. Insofar as Armour & Co. is concerned, I can state positively that there is no truth whatever in the report."

AUTO 'TIP TRUST' STREET SEIZURES AROUSE CAPITAIN

Liveried lackeys of the "tip trust," who have shouldered aside the police at the Bismarck garden and are selling parking space in the public street to the exclusion of automobilists who decline to be held up, are to feel the lash of Ald. Henry D. Capitain's displeasure.

"I don't see what the police are thinking of," Ald. Capitain said last night. "When a highway robbery aggregation seizes a public thoroughfare in my ward and makes an open air garage of it, holding up automobilists for a parking fee, it is time to act. I certainly shall find out who is at liberty to sell the streets of Chicago as a concession to these lawbreakers."

Lieut. William Coles of the Town Hall station took a hand in the matter when he called the "tip trust" panhandlers out of Grace street and told them if he found them again assuming police rights in the streets and directing automobilists where to park there would be trouble.

"I told the officer to run those cheeky tip grabbers out of there," he said, "and exercise police control of the street himself."

The Eitel brothers, owners of the Bismarck, denied they have an agreement with the "tip trust."

Shorn Lamb Bleats Loudly for His Lost $25,000

Henry T. La Bar of Delaware Water Gap, Pa., filed suit in the Circuit court yesterday against Elick Lowitz, John F. Barrett, A. J. Barrett, A. Richard Frank, and Frank J. Billet, officers of E. Lowitz, stock and grain brokers at 209 South La Salle street, to recover $25,000.

The bill alleges that La Bar, who is said to be ignorant regarding the board of trade, "played the market" and lost $25,000. The transaction took place on April 17 and, according to the bill, the brokers asserted to La Bar that they could make large profits for him.

"My client was ignorant about such matters," asserted Attorney Newton A. Partridge. "And—well, the brokers didn't discourage him when he wanted to do a little gambling on the market."

Labor Sluggers Beat Two Men, Shoot Another

Sluggers have developed a new activity in the last forty-eight hours, according to the police. John Stuart of 2425 Geneva terrace and Frank Hiear of 4307 West Fifty-fifth street were beaten almost unconscious in front of the Swedish Covenant hospital, and George Chipman, a union painter, was shot twice while working in the Waller school, Orchard and Center streets.

VANISHED

Girl, 17, Disappears After Being Warned to Be on Guard Against Conspiracy to Abduct Her.

Miss Frances Hintz

GIRL, WARNED OF KIDNAP PLOT, CAPTIVE, BELIEF

Letter, Evidently Written in Duress, Says "Married."

In face of a warning she was to be kidnaped, Frances Hintz, 17 years old, 1632 Julian street, has disappeared from her home and the police are looking for her and Charles Michello, a Sicilian.

Michello is alleged to have made several threats to kidnap young girls. According to Mrs. John Hintz, mother of the missing girl, Michello threatened more than a year ago to steal Miss Agnes Kulcyk, a chum of Miss Hintz, but Miss Hintz warned the other girl and she remained closely indoors.

Warned Six Weeks Ago.

Six weeks ago the Hintz family received an anonymous letter warning tham that Michello was plotting to kidnap Frances. The girl's mother asked her if Michello had been annoying her, and was told he had, but was ceasing his attentions. Miss Hintz left home on Saturday and failed to return.

Investigation in the home of Michello, 1232 Frontier street, disclosed he left home on Friday to go on a vacation. He had taken with him all his personal effects.

Married, Says Letter.

Yesterday the parents of the girl received a letter postmarked Cleveland, O., in which Frances asked that no search be made for her, said she was married to Michello and was happy.

Inquiry in Cleveland failed to disclose evidence of such a marriage, and an examination of the envelope inclosing the letter indicated the girl had written it under duress, as the address was in a hand not the girl's. The letter also was crumpled and folded many times, as if it had been subject to violence.

MAYOR REFUSES TO COMMENT ON EDITOR'S ARREST

Mayor William Hale Thompson and Congressman William E. Mason engaged in a conference at the office of the former in the city hall yesterday. Both of them were noncommunicative as they emerged from the room and declined to mention what they had talked about. A few minutes before the meeting Mayor Thompson refused to talk about the arrest of Dr. Fritz Bergmeier, editor of a German newspaper at St. Paul, by the federal authorities.

"I don't know anything about it," said the mayor. "That is the government's business."

He said, too, that mobilization of the new army is also the government's business, and that the city will follow any instructions that are given in connection with it.

WIFE WAS WORTH $1,000,000 TO HIM, BLAIR SAYS

Coal Man, Divorced, Sues Her Father and Cousin.

When Frank P. Blair of 660 Irving Park boulevard, president of the Shoal Creek Coal company, married Miss Mary E. Barbour at Digby, N. S., in 1900, his bride received from her wealthy father, Edmund D. Barbour of Boston, her "weight in gold" as a dower.

Mrs. Blair's weight then was 132 pounds and her dot amounted to $32,558. She has not increased in weight. She said so herself as late as last April. But her value, at least in Mr. Blair's eyes, has grown greatly.

Sues for $1,000,000.

Mr. Blair's new appraisal of her value was made known yesterday when through his attorneys, Whipple, Sears & Ogden, he filed suit in the Superior court in Boston against Edmund D. Barbour and Edward N. Ross of Chicago for $1,000,000, charging them with the alienation of his former wife's affections.

Mr. Blair refused last night to discuss the case. Mr. Barbour was formerly assistant to the president of the Burlington railroad and later was associated with Russell & Co., piano manufacturers. He is at present a retired capitalist. Mr. Ross, his nephew, is said to be Mrs. Blair's only other relative. He has headquarters at 1435 Otis building and lives in Plano.

Money in Trust.

"Mrs. Blair neither loaned nor gave her husband money," said Mr. Ross. "She placed it with him in trust. Mr. Blair's suit has been brought in an effort to make her drop her suit now pending to force him to make restitution. It is aimed at her father. I am a side issue.

"When Mrs. Blair left her husband in 1913 she came to my home, which was then in La Grange. She was a nervous wreck. My wife nursed her for two weeks. I am frank to say that her father and I advised her to fight for a divorce. We did not alienate her affections. They already had been alienated by Mr. Blair."

Divorced in 1915.

Mrs. Blair was granted a divorce by Judge McDonald here in November, 1915. She charged that while they lived at the Paddington apartments in Irving Park boulevard Mr. Blair took her rings and left her.

While living at 407 St. James court last April Mrs. Blair filed a suit for an accounting against her former husband. She alleged she had turned over to Mr. Blair her "weight in gold" and other sums amounting in all to $56,200.

Mrs. Blair said she advanced him $15,000 at one time, and when he organized the Shoal Creek Coal company in 1905 she declared she intrusted him with $14,440. In addition, she said, she paid all his hotel, traveling, and living expenses.

ROBERTSON ASKS $15,000 TO FIGHT SMALLPOX HERE

Appropriation of $35,000 to combat contagious diseases, principally smallpox, brought here by Negroes from the south, was asked by Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson yesterday in a letter to Ald. John A. Richert, chairman of the council finance committee.

Dr. Robertson asked for $15,000 to defray the expense of vaccinating, including $1,000 to buy vaccine.

"Unless completely eradicated now we are almost certain to have an epidemic next winter," says Dr. Robertson in his letter.

"The immediate cause of smallpox in Chicago at this time is the large immigration of unvaccinated colored laborers from the south. We have had 218 cases of smallpox in Chicago since Jan. 1. During the entire year of 1916 we had but forty-seven. Of the 218 cases this year 161 were colored persons. Of the last 114 cases only twelve were white persons.

"Smallpox is a cold weather disease, although it can thrive in hot weather where there are many unvaccinated people. We are now and have been finding over two cases a day.

SHOT FOLLOWED THREAT TO KEEP BOY, MAID SAYS

Testimony Throws New Light on Killing of De Saulles.

Mineola, N. Y., Aug. 10.—A threat uttered by John Longer De Saulles never to let his former wife, Mrs. Blanca De Saulles, have their baby again, was the immediate provocation of her act in shooting him to death, according to a sworn deposition made here today by her maid, Susanne Monteau, before the district attorney.

This is the first testimony that De Saulles had threatened to deny Mrs. De Saulles her part in the joint custodianship of the baby awarded by the courts.

"Gave Her a Terrible Look."

"You can't have the baby now or ever," the maid quoted De Saulles as saying when the mother called for their son at her former husband's home. She said De Saulles made the remark "with a terrible look, as though he was going to strike her."

"I can't have my baby ever?" was Mrs. De Saulles' rejoinder, the maid testified.

"Mr. De Saulles said, 'No,' very emphatically and turned away," the deposition continued. "His former wife turned pale and staggered." The maid then described how she drew her hand out of her pocket with a pistol and shot him down.

Tried to Avoid Husband.

Miss Monteau said she accompanied Mrs. De Saulles in a taxicab to her former husband's home to get her son, that Mrs. De Saulles urged the driver to hurry so they could get the boy and get away before De Saulles returned from dinner at his club. When they arrived, she testified, they met his sister coming downstairs with the boy. Mrs. De Saulles asked where her former husband was, whereupon he appeared in person, demanding to know what she wanted.

"I don't think it is very nice for you to keep the baby so long," was the remark by her mistress, the maid said, which was followed by De Saulles' declaration that she could not have her son "now or ever."

Firemen Fined for Absence.

Absence from their station without permission resulted in fines of five days' pay against Firemen Edward W. Burchett and Eugene Miller by the civil service commission yesterday.

WEDDED WOES

Court Echoes of Battles Old and New.

EMILY L. CHURCH filed a petition for a writ of attachment in the Superior court yesterday against Edmund S. Church, an inventor. According to the petition, Mrs. Church was granted a decree of separate maintenance in 1911 and the decree provided for $50 a week alimony. It is alleged that Church is behind in payments to the extent of $2,045 and that many requests have been made for the money but that it is not forthcoming.

Ben Franklin Seidler in a divorce suit accuses Lue Eva of infidelity and names "Earl."

Marie Tower Abbiati says Joseph "slammed her against the wall because she wouldn't pawn her jewelry."

Bessie E. Lindsey remarks that Roy was very friendly with "Edith Doe."

FEMININE POKER RAISES SMALE OUT OF FORCE

Edward Smale Jr., detective sergeant, accused of protecting feminine poker games on the south side, was found guilty by the civil service commission yesterday, and will be dismissed from the police department. The verdict came suddenly after half an hour's consideration of the evidence.

Four farmers from Iowa, who are said to have lost $125 in a poker game in the home of Mrs. Charles Acher, 348 East Forty-eighth street, while Smale was present, were the chief cause of his dismissal. Mrs. Acher told of the incident to square a personal score with her estranged husband in testifying before the commission in Smale's behalf.

Acher, she said, met the farmers in the loop and after a gay night took them to the Acher flat and started the poker game. Subsequently Acher and his wife became estranged.

The commission decided that Smale should have intervened to protect the farmers and, because he didn't, should be dismissed from the department.

Ascher Sued for Slander.

Alfred Hamburger, 4932 Grand boulevard, who owns fourteen moving picture theaters in the city, filed two $50,000 damage suits in the Circuit court yesterday against Nathan Ascher, also a movie theater owner. Attorneys who filed the suits stated that one was for breach of contract and the other for slander.

POLICE UNCOVER 'LOST' EXPRESS PACKAGE PLOT

Three Accused of Conspiring with Drivers in Robberies.

Swift detective work resulted yesterday in uncovering a conspiracy by which express companies have been systematically robbed of thousands of dollars in "lost" packages. John Crowe, a saloonkeeper at 2505 Archer avenue, living at 2714 Normal avenue, and Leo Menard, 2510 Archer avenue, formerly a convict and now reputed to possess property valued at $30,000, are under arrest.

Before a general sweep could be made, however, both men were released on bail and some twenty drivers of express wagons escaped arrest. Robert Dougherty, 2652 Emerald avenue, confessing himself to be paid agent of Crowe and Menard, told how express drivers have been in a conspiracy to rob their companies.

Police Get Confession.

The arrest of the three men was made when Chief Mooney of the detective bureau, with Detective Sergts. McFarland, Hosna, Johnson, Leahy, and Bermingham, were driving in Archer avenue, on the lookout for automobile bandits. They espied Dougherty sitting on a small wagon near Crowe's saloon. Suspecting something wrong, the detectives questioned Dougherty, who said Crowe had employed him to watch the wagon. While they were talking with Dougherty Menard came along in an automobile.

The circumstance of Menard's approach while Crowe's name was in question caused the detectives to arrest all three. Yesterday Dougherty made a confession to Lieut. John Sullivan. He said that since last Feb. 6 he had been in the employ of Menard and Crowe. It was his business each day to go to the Kentucky livery, 1432 Van Buren street, conducted by Spengler Bros., and engage the same horse and wagon.

Picked Up "Lost" Packages.

He would then meet Crowe and Menard, who would drive the wagon through certain alleys in which express packages would be found, he said, Dougherty explained these packages were conveniently "lost" by express drivers, to be picked up by Crowe and Menard.

All three men were held on charges of conspiracy. In the meantime the express companies have placed detectives on the trail of suspected drivers.

OUR 'ACCIDENTAL MAYOR'

Cincinnati Is Amazed at William Hale Thompson's Cogitations and His School Board's Antics.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 10.—Under the caption "Has Chicago Seceded from the Union?" the Cincinnati Post in its leading editorial today, spread over two columns, says in part:

"When one watches the gyrations of W. H. Thompson, mayor—one is almost tempted to say burgomaster—of Chicago, and the later action of the school board dominated by his appointees, the question naturally arises whether Chicago has seceded from the union and annexed itself secretly to the realm of the Hohenzollerns.

"There has been no more astonishing performance in any section of our country than the Chicago school board's vote on certain interesting propositions the other day. It seems that in the eighth grade spelling books used in Chicago public schools there is a little piece called 'The Kaiser in the Making.'

"Anthony Czarnecki, school trustee, who apparently is an American before he is anything else, did not like that kind of thing being foisted upon American children.

"Every American worthy the name is unwilling to have adulation and false slush about the kaiser taught in our schools and preached in our papers and pulpits. The Americans in Chicago feel this, and the Americans predominate in that great city.

"Their accidental mayor and his school board do not represent them. They misrepresent them. They misrepresent the spirit of the people of Chicago. Some day their city will be rid of them and then the real Chicago will breate a tremendous sigh of relief, for it will once more be an American city with an American mayor talking straight United States."

Two 15 Year Old Runaway Girls Seized by Police

Because their older sisters disapproved of their pranks "and always snitched," two 15 year old schoolgirls of Hillsboro, Ill., decided to run away and be independent.

The sisters were still on the job, however, and reported their absence. The sheriff was appealed to and a telegram was sent to the Chicago police saying the girls had boarded a train for Chicago and asking their detention.

Grace Smith and Mabel Rohe, the runaways, were taken into custody as they alighted from a Rock Island train at the La Salle street station yesterday.

1,000 SPELLERS OPERATED UPON FOR KAISERITIS

Thompson's Men Refuse to Admit Public to Clinic.

The kaiser Bill speller was laid on the operating table yesterday morning at the store rooms of the board of education at 621 south Robey street, while Percy B. Coffin, Mayor Thompson's appointee as secretary of the board of education, and Albert H. Severinghaus, acting president, acted as anxious relatives, and made sensational efforts to prevent anything that might be sensational. They proceeded to make things go along smoothly and quietly, as follows:

Trustee Czarnecki had planned to be at the store room at 9:30 o'clock with Supt. Shoop, who was to supervise the method used in removing the page in the speller containing a eulogy of Kaiser Wilhelm. Czarnecki had planned quite a party and numerous delegates representing Polish and Bohemian organizations, as well as a lot of newspaper men and photographers gathered in front of the building.

Coffin Whizzes By.

About 8:30 o'clock Mr. Coffin was seen whizzing west on Washington boulevard in an auto. The speed cops took off their hats as he passed. Mr. Coffin was determined to have things go along in an uneventful manner, at all hazards.

Then, after an hour or so, came Messrs. Czarnecki and Shoop.

"Come on in, boys," shouted Czarnecki to the crowd in front, and he started for the door.

Twelve husky policemen, who bore a strong resemblance to those who guarded the board of education rooms recently, confronted them.

"Nothin' doing, you can't come in," said one of the policemen.

Mr. Coffin was informed that all was not going smoothly at the door and he came to quiet the tumult.

"What does this mean, Coffin? Why are the police here?" demanded Czarnecki.

"Well, you see, there are 3,000 rifles here that belong to the government." Coffin is said to have replied," and they must be guarded.'

In the Dark?

"Are you doing a legitimate piece of work here, or is there something that must be done in the dark?" asked Czarnecki.

The two were admitted, but all the others had to remain outside where it was nice and quiet.

Czarnecki began to rip out pages. "Get 'em out, that's the main idea," he said.

Mr. Shoop produced a ruler and showed how a page could be removed neatly, leaving a margin of only one-eighth of an inch.

"I want you to keep all the pages that are torn out," announced Czarnecki.

"Do you doubt our word that they will be torn out?" he was asked.

"This is not a question of any one's word," replied Czarnecki. "I intend to have the pages counted."

"If you don't like the way we are doing you can join the crowd outside," he was told.

High School Rifles.

The rifles referred to were sent from the United States arsenal at Rock Island for use of the high school cadets.

Then eulogies of the kaiser began to fall on the floor and late in the afternoon Assistant Business Manager John E. Guilford announced that he would have 1,000 of the pages at the board rooms this morning. After that he expects to have them brought in at the rate of about 1,000 a day.

Late in the day Mr. Coffin was found in his office. Standing near his desk, over which hung a picture of "Big Bill," he gave his side of the little affair on the west side.

"What was the idea, Mr. Coffin, of keeping all newspaper men and photographers out of the storeroom?"

"O, just merely to avoid anything spectacular. Probably something like 100 pages were taken out. There are only a few spellers that are for those who cannot afford to buy them, but there is no rush about the work, as the books will not be needed for some time. There was no intention of throwing all the men in the plant on the work."

Talked with Severinghaus.

"Was the shutting out done at the order of Mr. Severinghaus?"

"I talked with Mr. Severinghaus early this morning—yes," he replied.

Most of the books from which pages are to be removed are at different schools. The only possible source of delay in the work will be the absence of some of the principals from the city. When they return the page will be torn from the books in their care.

Try to Force County to Pay Bills of Two Schools

Mandamus proceedings were filed in the Circuit court yesterday by attorneys for the Ketteler Manual Training School for Boys and the Katherine Kasper Industrial School for Girls, to compel County Treasurer Henry Stuckart to sign county warrants for the payment of bills against the county for care of boys and girls committed to the institutions during the first six months of this year.

The payment of these bills and the signing of the warrants were held up by a suit filed by William J. Trost, a taxpayer, who contended that the two institutions were conducted by religious societies and that the payment of county funds to them was illegal.

Judge Windes decided that the schools were not religious institutions and that the payment of county money was legal.

Declan D. Murray Sought.

"Declan D. Murray, your mother is seriously ill at Boston and is anxious to see you before she dies." This appeal was sent to the detective bureau last night by the Boston police in behalf of Mrs. J. M. Murray, 11 Sargent street, Boston.

With all of those Chinese laundrymen in this war we should be able to clean Wilhelm.

SPOT CORN HAS SHARP DECLINE; FUTURES LOWER

18 Cent Break in Cash Market Increases the Selling Pressure.

Demoralized cash markets were reflected in lower prices for futures yesterday. Selling was more general than for some time and the market had less rallying power, the close for the day being at practically the low figures of the session, with net losses of 1⅛@1⅜c. Cash prices here were 8@18c lower, and outside markets also were weak, especially Peoria and St. Louis. At all markets the urgent demand which has been such a big factor for weeks was apparently satisfied.

Receipts were 104 cars, with primary arrivals larger than a year ago, 704,000 bu, against 475,000 bu a year ago. Weather conditions were favorable in all directions, with the forecast for fair and warmer weather. Country sales were a little larger than recently, but still moderate.

Oats Sell Off with Corn.

Oats were easier, but there was a fair demand on the declines, with net declines for the day of ⅝@¾c to ¾@⅞c. Cash prices were weak, 1@2c lower, with a moderate demand and sales of 100,000 bu. Receipts were 198 cars, and primary arrivals were 955,000 bu, compared to 2,017,000 bu a year ago. Clearances were 413,000 bu. With favorable weather, which is predicted, thrashing operations will be general, and if cars are available receivers look for big receipts. A considerable quantity of oats has been sold for first half of August shipment, and it has been difficult to fill these sales so far, due to small arrivals. A fair export inquiry was reported. Armour was credited with selling September and buying December.

Wheat Prices on Down Grade.

Wheat prices were 4c lower. There is little change in the situation, but there was more selling yesterday, Shearson-Hammill being the leading sellers. Buying was scattered. The demand is checked by the expectation the government will take over control of the wheat trade. Receipts are increasing at some points, but primary arrivals were much smaller than a year ago, 1,047,000, against 1,880,000 bu. Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 125,000 bu. Northwest receipts were 163 cars, against 202 cars a year ago. Winnipeg had 98 cars; last year, 435 cars. Weekly clearances were 2,050,000 bu, against 6,098,000 bu a year ago. Argentine shipments for the week were only 88,000 bu. Weather conditions are fine for harvest in the northwest.

Hog Products Close Strong.

A further bulge in hog prices caused more buying of products and, in spite of the reaction in coarse grains, there was enough buying support to close the market higher. Hogs sold at $17.00, the highest price on record, the market at the yards closing 25c higher for the day. The cash trade is quiet. Large lard shipments are expected from now on. Receipts were 12,000 hogs at the yards, with 9,000 the estimate for today. Western receipts were 44,600, compared to 61,500 a year ago.

Rye Market Easier.

Rye was easy, with cash No. 2 selling at $1.90. Receipts, 7 cars.

Barley ruled steady to 1c lower. Malting was quoted $1.35@1.47 and sold $1.40@1.47; feed and mixing quotable $1.25@1.40, and screenings, 60@95c, with latter selling at 75@85c. Receipts were 17 cars.

Timothy seed was firm; September sold $9.25@9.75 and March closed $8.75 bid and $9.25 asked; cash lots quoted $5.00@8.00. Clover seed was steady; cash quotable $14.00@18.50, and spot prime, $20.00.

Flax closed unchanged; cash quoted $3.40@3.47. Duluth and Minneapolis also were unchanged and Winnipeg was 6½@7c higher.

GOSSIP OF THE PIT

Cash corn markets were demoralized yesterday. In the local market prices were 8@18c lower, with a slow demand. Offerings were only fair, but the lack of demand was noticeable right from the start. At St. Louis sample corn was 10@20c lower, with buyers holding off, the same as at Chicago, and at Peoria the same condition existed, prices being quoted about 15@20c lower, with corn hard to sell even at the decline. Distillers generally were reported to be out of the market. It is understood some of them have secured all the corn they need. Country offerings were a little larger in some quarters. Local cash sales were 35,000 bu.

Sentiment in corn was more bearish, as the result of the slump in cash corn prices, but the bulls were of the opinion cash prices would have to break much more before the situation would be altered a great deal, as the futures are selling still so much lower than the cash corn. Trade is narrow and largely of a local kind, with the volume of outside business light. Local bulls were fair buyers at times, but did not meet with their usual success in rallying the market, prices closing at about the low point of the day. With the letup in the demand for cash corn there was a more conservative attitude and offerings on the rallies were liberal.

"Deferred futures of oats are held in check by the cash premiums to a greater extent than in corn, for the reason that the new crop, while large, is in widespread demand, and current arrivals are at an unusual premium over the nearby deliveries," said Thomson-McKinnon. "Shippers appear to be short against sales for August loading, and are picking up daily arrivals. Because of this, congestion appears in the September future. This is an argument against overconfidence in anticipation of lower values, rather than a reason for investments."

Full crop inquiry of the Modern Miller shows thrashing is proceeding slowly in the winter wheat belt. Kansas, Oklahoma, Indiana, and Illinois yields exceed official estimates. Quality is generally good. Mills are carrying an average of 15 per cent of normal stocks. Farmers are carrying more wheat than ever known at this season, in part due to reluctance of mills and elevators to accumulate. Prices show unusual variations, with lowest prices where accumulation is lightest.

Oats in the sample market were 1@2c lower, and the demand was not at all urgent. Offerings were still light, but with good weather receivers look for a steady increase in the movement. The rains of the last week delayed thrashing in many sections, but fair and warmer weather is predicted, and thrashing then will be general. Cash sales were 100,000 bu here. Outside cash oats markets were all weak.

Receipts inspected yesterday: Wheat, 71 cars; corn, 104 cars; oats, 198 cars; rye, 7 cars; barley, 17 cars. Hogs estimated for today, 9,000 head.

Argentine shipments of wheat this week, 88,000 bu, a decrease of 190,000 bu and compared with 368,000 bu a year ago. Corn exports decreased 116,000 bu, while oats were 293,000 bu, against none last week, and flax seed increased 67,000 bu. Comparative totals follow:

	This week.	Last week.	Last year.
Corn	156,000	272,000	3,112,000
Oats	293,000	......	2,150,000
Flax seed	109,000	42,000	460,000

Bradstreet's reported exports of wheat and flour from both coasts this week at 2,049,000 bu, a decrease of 733,000 bu. Corn exports were placed at 884,000 bu, decreasing 83,000 bu. Comparative totals follow:

	Wheat and flour.	Corn.
This week	2,049,000	884,000
Last week	2,782,000	967,000
Last year	6,098,000	1,578,000
Since July 1	24,821,000	3,528,000

The amendment to the rules permitting the remitting of dues of board of trade members while in active service of the army or navy while the United States is at war was passed by a vote of 405 to 2. The amendment in regard to weighing charges also was carried, the vote being 371 to 27.

The Kansas City board of trade has prohibited new trade in corn futures, except that sales may be made. New buying is prohibited. Trade also is restricted to September, December, and May futures. The maximum prices established some time ago will remain in effect. No particular reason was given out for the action.

Argentine visible supply of wheat this week decreased 370,000 bu, while corn decreased 400,000 bu. Comparative totals follow:

	This week.	Last week.	Last year.
Wheat	3,330,000	3,700,000	11,776,000
Corn	2,800,000	3,200,000	16,422,000

Provisions men look for heavier shipments of lard. Shipments yesterday were larger. The strong hog market dominated the provisions trade yesterday, the top price of 1.00 for hogs checking the selling.

New York wired that, according to some reports, recent business in oats had been underestimated. A New York exporter said that as soon as new oats began to move freely he expected to see a big export trade.

King-Farnum had the following from Minneapolis: "North Dakota reports of thrashings of oats and rye are decidedly better than expected in some sections. Weather conditions are ideal for gathering the crops."

Primary receipts of corn are becoming a little larger and for the day were 704,000 bu, against 475,000 bu a year ago. Stocks, however, are light in all positions, and the sales to arrive are not heavy.

Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 125,000 bu for the week.

With the exception of a sale by the Marshall Field estate of what is understood to be the balance of its holdings in the vicinity of La Grange and Western Springs, there was nothing of any particular importance in the day's real estate market happenings.

In the Field estate transactions Ellsworth T. Martin, a lawyer, purchased a tract of 360 acres lying between Western Springs and La Grange for an expressed consideration of $140,000, Mr. Martin securing $100,000 of the purchase money by a trust deed to the Merchants' Loan and Trust company, five years, at 5½ per cent.

The property, which lies along the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy road, is to be subdivided into eighty foot lots, to be known as Field Park, and retailed for high grade residence purposes.

Plans Subdivision.

George W. Prassus has purchased from Michael G. Giannaacoulias an undivided half interest in the twenty acres at the northwest corner of Belmont and Harlem avenues, the consideration not being disclosed. In anticipation of the extension of the Belmont avenue car line to this corner the present owners are planning to subdivide and place the property on the market.

The Union Trust company is trustee in a loan of $130,000, three years at 6 per cent, to Elick Lowitz, secured by the 100x109 feet, south front, in Grand avenue fifty-eight feet west of Lake Shore drive, also 100x218 feet in Grand avenue 658 feet west of the drive, and another parcel.

Record was made of the transfer by Lucia Margano to John A. Cavanaugh of the property at the northwest corner of Ashland boulevard and Taylor street, lot 75x150 feet, with flat improvements, consideration nominal, subject to an incumbrance of $20,000.

Beach Purchases.

Record was made of three purchases by the city in connection with the new bathing beach between Seventy-fifth and Seventy-ninth streets, one being on Seventy-seventh street and two on Lake Park avenue, for an aggregate consideration of $18,590.

Record was made of the quitclaim by Max Paulson to Morris Tesenholt of the property on Fifty-fifth street at the northwest corner of Ingleside avenue, lot 110x110 feet, improved with a three story store and flat building, a nominal consideration being given.

Dorchester Avenue Sale.

Eva Davis has sold to Charles F. Iserloth the six flat building at 6939-41 Dorchester avenue, subject to $14,600 incumbrance, and the residence at 7645 St. Lawrence avenue for a nominal consideration, an Indiana farm being taken in part payment. Krause, Beak & Co. were the brokers.

J. Grafton Parker & Co. have sold for Arthur L. Hardin to John S. Quinn the eleven room and three bath brick residence, lot 25½x150 feet, with garage, at the southeast corner of Grand boulevard and Forty-eighth place for a reported consideration of $15,500.

UNKNOWN POWER OF PRICE FIXING RULES MARKET

Worry Over What Congress May Do Dominates Securities.

The market for securities continues under the influence of the unknown power of price fixing which, it is anticipated, congress will inaugurate. There is not much evidence of public buying. Absence of general purchasing power leaves the market open to those who buy and sell on temporary sentiment. Prices yesterday suffered, although the volume of business was small.

Some strength was shown in railroad issues and a few specialties in which there are pool operations. The war order stocks sagged, as did motor shares.

According to eastern advices, there is some disposition to hold stocks, on the belief that there is no present authoriy to reduce prices to the general public or to the allies. It is thought a compromise may be reached affording reasonable profit to manufacturers.

Steel Orders Decrease.

The statement of unfilled tonnage of the United States Steel corporation, issued yesterday, is held an example of the effect of the attempt at price fixing. Buyers are said to be withholding orders until the uncertainty of the situation has been settled.

Unfilled orders of the steel corporation on July 31 showed a decrease of 539,123 tons during the month. The figures were 10,844,164 tons on July 31, as compared with 11,383,287 on June 30.

The following table shows the unfilled tonnage by months since June 30, 1914:

Government Regulation.

Reports of a sharp drop in steel prices are characterized as not well founded by certain steel interests. In this quarter it is declared that the question of governmental regulation of prices must be realized as a tremendous undertaking. There is only one way, it is asserted, in which such regulation can be accomplished, and that is for the government to take over, operate, and distribute the mills and their products. A fair average cost, it is declared, cannot be arrived at, as a level at which the big producers who are integrated can sell would often mean bankruptcy for the smaller concerns. The quoted levels for certain products mean only a fair margin for many small mills, although they mean large profits for the big concerns.

Chicago Securities.

Connecting Railways preferred was the feature of the local stock exchange. The price advanced on small buying to 24. The purchases are understood to have been based upon the notion that with the 4 per cent dividend rate the current price is attractive.

The packing house issues were rather dull, with not a great deal doing. Prices were fractionally lower. Booth Fisheries common sold at 25, equivalent to 125 for the old stock. The latter sold at one time at 130. Public Service common and Diamond Match were lower.

Money and Exchange.

Money rates in Chicago firmer at 5@5½ per cent on collateral, 5¼@5½ per cent on commercial paper, 5@5½ per cent over the counter. New York exchange, no market. Chicago bank clearings, $76,198,786.

American Brake Shoe Gets Big U. S. Munition Order

The American Brake Shoe and Foundry is reported as having closed an order for munitions which is said to be one of the biggest munition orders ever placed with a single company by the United States government. While the amount involved in the contract has not been made public, it has been estimated to be above $60,000,000. The order includes 3,000 pieces of six inch artillery. Total contracts for projectiles manufactured by the company for the British government covered some 900,000 shells.

Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company Sales Increase

Sales of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company for the first twenty-two weeks of the year amounted to $46,762,699, an increase of $20,292,095 or over 76½ per cent as compared with the corresponding week of last year.

MARSHALL FIELD REVIEW.

Marshall Field & Co. in their weekly review of the dry goods trade say:

"Current wholesale shipments of dry goods are running ahead of deliveries for the corresponding week last year. Road sales for immediate and future deliveries are well ahead of those for the same period a year ago. Customers have not attended market in quite as large numbers as in the preceding years. Collections continue to be favorable."

Profits Tax Hits United Fruit.

It is probable that the excess profits tax of the United Fruit will amount to $5,000,000, or 10 per cent on the stock. This may interfere with the payment of some of the company's notes at their maturity.

FINANCIAL NOTES

THE Bethlehem Steel corporation declares that its cost of rail production is over $38 a ton for Bessemer and over $40 a ton for open hearth steel. In consequence it has refused to accept its proportion of the 150,000 tons of rails ordered by the United States government for export to France. This decision awaits modification based on a change in price conditions.

In connection with railway traffic conditions President A. J. Earling of the St. Paul said:

"The volume of tonnage now offered, not only in the northwest but throughout the country, is in excess of the capacity of existing equipment and facilities, and with the advent of the new grain the situation will be intensified and demand the maximum of service from every locomotive, car and man available.

It is announced that the purchase by the Briar Hill Steel company from Tod-Stambaugh of a half interest in the Dunwoody mine on the Mesaba range means 16,500,000 tons of ore to the corporation reserves and gives the concern a grand total of about 25,000,000. The Brier Hill Steel company previously owned interests in the Biwabik mine on the Mesaba.

Wall street reported that the largest check which has ever passed through the New York clearing house was paid yesterday by the Liberty National bank. The check was for $96,111,111, drawn by J. P. Morgan & Co. to the order of the agents of the Bank of Montreal for the credit of the minister of finance and the receiver general of Canada.

The Worthington Pump and Machinery corporation reports for the six months ended June 30 earnings of $2,298,834 after taxes and depreciation. Subsequent to all deductions, including depreciation, earnings are at the annual rate of approximately $28 a share on the 129,921 shares of common stock.

It is expected that the improvements and additions to be paid for out of the new issue of 640,000 shares of Cosden & Co. stock will be completed by Jan. 1 next, when the combined net earnings of the consolidated companies are expected to be around $1,250,000 a month.

Earnings of the federal reserve banks for the six months ended June 30, 1917, were $4,141,528, an increase of $2,317,092 as compared with the same period of last year. Total current expenses for the six months amounted to $1,278,883, an increase of $358,957.

Rumors to the effect that plans for the merger of the Union Carbide, the National Carbide, and the Air Reduction companies have been completed were afloat in Wall street yesterday, advices say.

James K. Lynch, vice president of the First National bank, has been elected governor of the San Francisco federal reserve bank to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Archibald Kains.

TRADE AWAITS CLEARER VIEW OF U. S. MEASURES

The weekly review of Chicago trade published today by R. G. Dun & Co. will say:

"Business, to some extent, awaits a clearer view of proposed federal measures affecting economic conditions and financing, yet the increasing hesitation caused by the uncertainties as to the immediate outlook does not lessen the impressiveness of current activities, the latter being well sustained in the leading branches, and the aggregate exceeding by a large margin any previous corresponding itme of the year.

"Production of iron and steel and outputs in other heavy manufacturing reveals no recession and, although new demands from ordinary sources bulk less largely than recently, there is much inquiry as to future needs and better prospects for important commitments.

"Army and navy specifications expand and include tonnages which fully offset shrinkages from other directions."

In Foreign Stock Markets.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—The stock market had a cheerful tone today and bonds were well supported. The British 4½ per cent war loan and also the French loan were in renewed demand and Scandinavian issues recovered on buying for remittances to Scandinavia. Peruvian bonds were in good demand and South American rails improved. Marconi stock rallied on a statement that the company is likely to receive full compensation during the suspension of its services. Oil shares were active leaders, silver mines finished strong, and rubbers were quietly firmer. Money was in ample supply and short dated paper was in demand. Bar silver, 42 1-16d per ounce. Money 3¾ per cent. Discount rates, short bills, 4¾ per cent. Three month bills, 4 13-16 per cent.

Baldwin Locomotive.

The first of the 150 locomotives ordered by the government from the Baldwin Locomotive company three weeks ago will be shipped today. The entire order will be completed by Oct. 1, it is said.

American Steel Wire.

Plans of extensions by the American Steel Wire company include, it is claimed, the largest wire rope plant in the world.

ON THE BROAD STREET CURB

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—[Special.]—Interest in the trading on the Broad street curb was concentrated in the dealings in independent oil stocks. There was a vigorous demand for many of these issues at advancing prices, with speculative interest most pronounced in Northwestern Oil, in which there was a large volume of business at 87@96c. Midwest Refining, which closed yesterday at 179, rose to 187. Merritt was traded in at 40¼@41½, Elk Basin at 11⅜@11⅝, and Oklahoma Producing at 10@10¼. Tuxpam Star was active at around 1⅛.

Mining shares were generally steady and without special change in prices. Emma Consolidated sold at 1⅜ and 1¼, Mason Valley at 7½, Butte Copper and Zinc at 8¾@9, and Consolidated Arizona at 2⅝. A bid of 2½ for 50,000 shares is kept standing in the market for Consolidated Arizona. Milford was firm at 1⅞@1 15-16. Magnate sold at 15-16.

The war order stocks showed a pronounced falling off in public interest.

Canadian government 5s dropped to the new low of 96⅞. Great Northern 5s sold at 98@98⅜.

MARKET COMMENT

WALL street is of the opinion that Studebaker common has about discounted marketwise the reduction in the dividend rate to $4 per share per annum, but also the possibility of smaller earnings in the last half of 1917.

It is common report among those who should be advised of the company's affairs that the sales have greatly fallen off. While this apppears to be true, it is also a fact that bear operations have been conducted on a large scale in the shares.

The strength in the tobacco stocks recently has been due in large part to improved earnings.

The buying of the American Tobacco common has been based on the unusual success recorded by a new cigaret brand. It is declared these sales have established a record for new tobacco business in this country. The manufacture amounts to 10,000,000 daily.

June sales of the American Tobacco company amounted to $8,600,000, a gain of 42 per cent over June, 1916, and a gain of $1,400,000 over May, 1917, the previous record month. For the six months ended June 30 sales approximated $42,000,000, as compared with slightly less than $32,000,000 for the first half of 191. Including subsidiaries, sales of the American Tobacco company for the five months ended May 31 were $52,000,000, which compares with $42,000,000 for the corresponding period last year.

There was issued a report to the effect that the Maxwell Motor company earned for the fiscal year ended July 31, 1917, net profits in excess of $5,000,000, which would be equivalent to $30 a share on the common stock after deduction for dividends on the first and second preferred issue. Account, however, was not taken of the excess profits tax.

With the removal of the uncertainties which have been making for ragged markets in the motor stocks, the oversold condition of those issues is expected to make itself manifest. Such developments are declared to be near in the pending action of the Maxwell Motor company directors regarding dividends.

It is noted that Bethlehem Steel B stock has dropped about 46 points from its high record. The shares have been influenced by the thought that price fixing will reduce profits.

Again good buying is reported to be taking place in Willys-Overland stock. The buying of these and airplane shares has been on an increasingly broader scale.

International Mercantile Marine shares are reported to have many friends. Banking interests are said to be large buyers of the preferred shares.

NEWS OF THE COPPERS

ONE of the big copper producers is quoting 26½ cents for the last quarter for small amounts. Smaller dealers have been making these quotations: Spot copper, 27 cents a pound; August and September deliveries, 26½ cents; for the last quarter of 1917, 25½@26½ cents.

The Chino Copper company report for the quarter ended June 30, 1917, shows total net profits of $3,818,322, against $2,992,071 for the preceding quarter, and a net surplus of $1,643,872, against $817 in the March 31 quarter.

The Utah Copper company reports for the quarter ended June 30 net profits for $10,552,541, against $7,246,318 in the preceding quarter. For the three months ended June 30 there was a net surplus of $4,875,826, against $1,560,603 for the corresponding period last year.

According to an eastern authority, a fair average cost for the production of copper is 20 cents a pound.

Chile Copper company reports July production of copper as 6,250,000 pounds, compared with 6,114,000 pounds in June and 8,250,000 pounds in May.

Total sales of stocks, 470,000 shares.
Total sales of bonds [par value], $2,500,000.

MARKET TURNS EASIER.

New York, Aug. 10.—Diverse developments bearing upon quoted values doubtless accounted for the lower trend of today's restricted operations in the stock market. A decrease of over 500,000 tons in unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation for July, a new low record for Russian remittances, and the expansion of labor troubles were among the principal drawbacks.

On the other hand, call money relaxed and several of the leading industrial and producing companies submitted favorable financial reports. Among the more noteworthy of these were the annual statement of the Maxwell Motor company and the quarterly return of the Utah Copper company.

Apart from shippings, tobaccos, sugars, and oils, which seemed to derive much of their irregular strength from pools and other professional interests, war shares continued under intermittent pressure. United States Steel reacted 2 points, with a substantial recovery; Bethlehem Steel new stock, 2¼; General Motors, 4⅝, and a few high priced specialties lost 1@3 points.

Rails Lose Firmness.

Rails manifested a sudden reversal from their recent firmness, dividend paying issues like Reading, St. Paul, Canadian Pacific, and Delaware and Hudson breaking 1@3 points on comparatively small offerings. The preferred shares of the Lake Erie and Western, Chicago Great Western, and Rock Island roads yielded to a like extent, but Southern Railway common and preferred were in steady demand, the latter gaining 1½ points. Lowest prices were made in the final hour, with fractional recoveries at the close.

Bonds were again irregular, with minor changes in internationals. Liberty 3½s moved in the narrow radius of 99.56@99.60. Most of the old United States bonds were ¼ higher on call.

SUGAR.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—SUGAR—Following prices were quoted by wholesale dealers per 100 lbs: Powdered standard, $9.10; standard cane granulated, $9.00; beet granulated, $8.90; extra C, $8.15; canary, $8.05.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—SUGAR—While there was a slightly easier tone to the raw sugar market today, as a result of a sharp break in exchange prices, the price range remained unchanged. There was a sale of 7,000 bags Cubas, September shipment, by an operator to a refiner at 6⅝c, cost and freight, equal to 7.65c for centrifugal, and also a sale of 600 bags Cubas to New Orleans, August shipment, at 6⅝c, cost and freight. Closing prices were as follows: Centrifugal, 7.65@7.77c; molasses, 6.77@6.89c; cost and freight, 6⅝@6¾c. At the close of the day there were offerings of August shipment Cubas at 6¾c, cost and freight, equal to 7.77c for centrifugal, untaken. There also were about 20,00 bags Cubas, September shipment, available at 6¾c, cost and freight. Refined sugar was unchanged. The list price for granulated was unchanged, ranging from 8.40c to 9.15. Sugar futures opened 2@9 points lower and later sold off to a net loss of 20@23 points. The general list closed 5@22 points net lower, with sales of 19,900 tons, part of which represented switches. September sold from 6.38@6.48c, closing 6.42c; October, 6.21@6.32c, closing 6.24c; December, 5.58@5.74c, closing 5.63c; January, 5.10@5.24c, closing 5.15c.

COFFEE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—COFFEE—The market for coffee futures was a little more active, with prices lower under liquidation and trade selling accompanied by talk of an easier tendency in Brazil. GOOD OFFICE POSITIONS
OPEN FOR YOUNG WOMEN.

There is an overwhelming demand for comptometer operators. We could place 500 right now if we had them. Out of 116 calls upon our Comptometer School for operators in the last two weeks we have only been able to supply 11.

Now is the time for girls 18 or over to learn to operate the Comptometer Adding Machine; grammar or high school graduates preferred. Easier than typewriting. Salaries range from $12 to $25 per week, according to experience.

Texas.

FOR SALE — NEW FARM OPPORTUNITY IN ONE OF THE GREATEST STATES IN THE UNION. A new line of the Santa Fe is tapping a rich and fertile prairie section of Northwest Texas, near the Oklahoma line, where already many farmers have MADE GOOD in a big way with wheat, hogs, and live stock. Here, if you ACT NOW, you can get first choice—get in on the ground floor of a great opportunity. You can get in AHEAD of the railway—ahead of the people whom the railway will bring—ahead of those who act more slowly than you do. This is the chance of a lifetime for a man of moderate means. A certain number of thrifty, farseeing farmers can acquire good land at an astonishingly low figure and on long, easy terms. If you have confidence that a great railroad like the Santa Fe would only recommend what it considers a good thing and because it wants to see new territory developed and wants newcomers to PROSPER and PRODUCE—then write me TODAY for particulars about this district. Mild climate, social advantages, schools, churches, telephones, good roads. Everything there but enough men with their families. Will you be one of the fortunate first comers to reap the advantages of a section that has been minutely inspected by a Santa Fe agricultural agent and pronounced RIGHT? Write me NOW and let me send you a copy of the special illustrated circular we are getting out. C. L. SEAGRAVES, 1105 Railway Exchange, Chicago.
